William H. Phillips Elected President Of Princess Anne Unit Of Cancer Society

The Princess Anne Unit of the American Cancer Society held their Annual meeting last week at the Dunes Motor Hotel, Virginia Beach.

Mrs. Paul Dolgins, outgoing president of the unit, made this statement as part of her annual report to the board of directors: "The American Cancer Society pursues the conquest of cancer in three ways: Education for the Public and the Doctors to make available all that is currently known about cancer so that at least one-half of those who now get the disease can be saved. Research to secure information that will eventually save the lives of all those who get cancer and who cannot now be saved. Service to Doctors and to patients to provide help in treating patients, both those who can be helped and those who cannot now be cured. We have served the people of this area for the past year as an important health agency." In closing Mrs. Dolgins said, "I am grateful to the people of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County who served with me on the various committees and to all volunteers who have assisted me so loyally and faithfully, for without this help there would be no Princess Anne Unit." Dr. J. R. Kight, President of the Virginia Division, attended this meeting for the purpose of presenting awards to local members for outstanding services. In his greeting Dr. Kight stated, "The Princess Anne Unit has been outstanding in the state of Virginia and in five short years has become an important part of the overall program of cancer control."

The first certificates Dr. Kight presented read: The American Cancer Society, Inc. expresses its sincere appreciation for the loyal and valuable service to the control of cancer rendered by the following members of the Princess Anne Unit for five years service:

Downing Speaks At Legion Club Meeting Tonight

Congressman Thomas N. Downing, who is seeking re-election in the November 8 general election, is scheduled to speak to members of the American Legion Post 113 tonight at the Legion Home on Laskin Road.

Downing is being opposed for the congressional seat by Richard May, a Republican. Downing has the solid support of the Democratic organization in the First District, which he represents.

John V. Ventresca, clerk of court for Princess Anne County, is scheduled to introduce Downing at the American Legion meeting. Post Commander Cameron Munden will preside.

Chris Munt, Veteran Richmond Convention Official, Becoming Director Here October 24

Munt succeeds Richard B. Keeley, who resigned recently to accept a similar position with a Norfolk motor hotel. Munt is expected to be on the job on October 24. It was learned.

The new Virginia Beach convention director comes to his new post with a wide range of experience in the convention field. He served the Richmond Chamber of Commerce for 17 years as manager of its convention bureau.

Munt also served a period as tourist promotion manager for the Georgia State Chamber of Commerce. He has more recently served as director of conventions for Richmond Hotels, Inc.

Munt is well known in the national field of convention managers and this month is serving on a panel at the annual meeting of

Two Killed In Accidents; One Believed Suicide

Two Princess Anne County men died in separate accidents this week, one by drowning and the other by arsenic poisoning.

James Junior Trent, 21, of Lynnhaven drowned Tuesday afternoon after his dump truck fell into an artificial lake in the 100 block of Pinewood Road, Virginia Beach.

The other death was that of Percy LaRue Brim, 43, of the 800 block of Homestead road, Princess Anne County. Brim died late Monday in De Paul Hospital of arsenic poisoning about five hours after the car he was driving went out of control and struck a tree on Bayville road.

Princess Anne Police reported that "we believe the poison was self-administered."

Trent was a truck driver for D. F. Mason Crane Service. He had been delivering a load of dirt to an address in 100 block of Pinewood road. In turning his truck he backed into the bank of the artificial lake and the bank caved in tumbling the truck into the water.

Witnesses related that Trent managed to free himself from the truck and surfaced but drowned within 10 feet of the shore.

In the Brim death police reported that they found evidence he had been sick twice near the scene of the accident.

Church Damage From Fire Here Being Studied

The fire during Friday night and early Saturday morning that did extensive damage to the Star of the Sea Catholic Church here still remains a mystery as to its origin.

The Reverend Nicholas J. Habets, pastor, believes the fire was the work of arson while fire inspectors have begun to discount this theory and lean toward defective wiring as the cause.

Monday afternoon Inspector Garland M. Atwater of the Virginia Beach Fire Department and Sgt. W. W. Davis of the Police Department said the fire was caused by defective wiring. Habets disagrees with this theory.

At first Father Habets estimated the damage to the church at $75,000, but on Monday said that it would take some time to place a real figure on the damage, probably Thursday or Friday.

Habets remained confident that arson was the fire cause because of all the circumstantial evidence. He pointed to the emptied pews and other reasons for his belief.

Atwater and Davis, along with outside consultants, spent two days investigating the fire and said: "It is the joint conclusion that the fire started in the ceiling of a confessional booth to the right of the altar on the north side of the building, which rules out the possibility of arson at this time."

The investigation is continuing.

GOP OPENS OFFICE ON ATLANTIC AVENUE

A Republican headquarters office in Virginia Beach has been opened at 2304 Atlantic avenue. It has been announced. The office is to be open each weekday, including Saturdays.

Rotarians See Navy Film Of Carrier Cruise

At the recent Rotary Club meeting Commander Lawrence Heyworth, Jr., assisted by Lt. Cmdr. Norvell Scott, Jr., showed a film on the Aircraft Carrier Forrestal that was made on a Mediterranean cruise. The film was produced by the Columbia Broadcasting Company and proved to be very interesting and quite professionally done. A brief part of the film was spent in the exciting procedure of launching and landing jet aircraft aboard ship. Commander Heyworth answered questions of the Rotary Club members at the end of the film.

Local Democratic Dinner October 13 In Convention Center To Feature Former Tennessee Gov. Clement

Coming Here

Virginia Beach and Princess Anne Democrats have announced plans to hold a $10 per plate dinner in the Convention Center on the night of Thursday, October 13, 1960.

Frank G. Clement, former governor of Tennessee and keynote speaker at the 1960 National Convention held in Chicago.

Clement is an outstanding speaker and was first elected governor of the State of Tennessee at the age of 32. At the time he was elected governor he was the youngest governor in the nation.

Clement, now 40, won the governorship of his state from a three-term governor incumbent and in 1954 he was re-elected taking 94 of the state's 95 counties.

The Democratic speaker was accepted by the F.B.I. when he was actually two years younger than the minimum age requirement of the law enforcement bureau. He left the FBI to enter the Army and rose rapidly from private to first lieutenant.

Clement is a lawyer by profession but is in great demand as a speaker. His office notes that he is forced to turn down 19 invitations for each one that he accepts.

The dinner on October 13 here is open to the public. Tickets are available throughout the city and may also be obtained by calling Democratic headquarters at 42-80005.

Clement is scheduled to address Democrats here in the Convention Center on October 13. The affair will be a $10 per plate dinner sponsored by the local Democratic group here. The public is invited and tickets may be obtained by calling the headquarters office at 42-80005.

Beach Trade Promotion Group Raises $15,000 Of $40,000 Goal

The trade promotion committee of the Virginia Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce has embarked on a program to raise a budget of $40,000 to help promote trade in Virginia Beach the year around, and $15,000 of the desired amount was reported in pledges at a meeting held Tuesday at the Dunes Motor Hotel.

The project is being sponsored by the Jaycees and has been endorsed by the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce, according to R. Adams, a member of the Jaycees committee. R. B. Taylor is chairman of a similar committee of the senior chamber and serves as chairman of a committee that would supervise the dispersment of funds raised by the Jaycees committee.

A six month promotion program is planned that would publicize the beach area as the ideal shopping area in Tidewater. It was explained. Serving with Taylor, an executive of Fuel, Feed and Building Supplies, are two bankers, Edward H. Church, president of the Bank of Virginia Beach, and Calborne R. Bryant, vice-president of the National Bank of Commerce. This committee would disperse funds raised by the Jaycees group.

Making up the Jaycees committee, in addition to Adams, are Ned Canon, Jack Brock and Jimmy Midgett. The promotion program will begin when the necessary funds are raised. It was announced.

75 LEGISLATORS SIGN "SUPPORT" RESOLUTION

State Senator E. Almer Ames and Delegate P. B. White, representing Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County in the Virginia General Assembly, have joined a growing list of fellow Virginia legislators in urging "the united support of all Virginians" for Sen. John F. Kennedy in the November 8 presidential election.

Ames and White formed with 21 other legislators in signing a resolution prepared at a recent Roanoke meeting in which 52 legislators signed a pledge urging support of Kennedy and the Kennedy-Johnson ticket.

Another new signer of the resolution backing Kennedy and Johnson is Delegate John Warren Cooke of Matthews County. Cooke is a key Byrd organization figure as floor leader.

Governor J. Lindsay Almond, Jr., in commenting on Cooke's backing of Kennedy and Johnson, said: "That's getting pretty close to the throne." He obviously referred to Senator Byrd, who has remained silent on the presidential election.

Cooke presented his views last week in an editorial in the Gloucester-Mathews Gazette-Journal, which he publishes. In the editorial he said: "Thus far little activity on the part of many of the Democratic leaders has been shown. We recognize the reason for the lack of enthusiasm for the national ticket. However, now is the time for the Democratic leadership here and throughout Virginia to get a move on to bring us back into the Democratic column, the place where we belong."

The endorsers of the Kennedy-Johnson ticket numbers 20 of 38 Democrats in the Senate and 55 of 96 Democrats in the House of Delegates.

Area legislators, in addition to Ames and White, who have added their names to the resolution backing Kennedy are Sen. Robert F. Baldwin, Jr. of Norfolk, and Victor P. Wilson of Hampton. Delegates Shirley Holland of Isle of Wight, Melvin Shreve of Accomack, George Hill of Newport News, and James W. Roberts, Delmarwater Davis, Henry Howell and Calvin Childress of Norfolk.

Earlier the Democratic leaders and office holders of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County issued a joint statement in support of the Kennedy-Johnson ticket and urged the re-election of U.S. Senator A. Willis Robertson and Congressmen Thomas N. Downing.

RESCUE SQUAD GETS ANOTHER FIRST PLACE

First place in best equipped custom ambulance again went to the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Rescue Squad in competition with seven other squads in Ashland last weekend in a fourth district meeting.

The local squad also won a first place in the first aid competition. Members of this team were W. W. Merger, Marvin Hines and Roy Hale.

The fund drive of the local squad has now reached nearly $17,000. The goal is $20,000.

Johnson Attending International Meeting Of Police Chiefs

Over 2,500 top police executives from all over the Free World will gather in Washington for the 67th annual conference of the International Association of Chiefs of Police, October 14-16. Conference headquarters will be the Statler Hilton Hotel, Virginia Beach. Police Chief Reeves E. Johnson is scheduled to attend.

Host to this year's conference will be Chief Robert V. Murray of Washington's Metropolitan Police Department, the association's first vice-president. If precedent is followed as expected, Chief Murray will become president of the police chiefs' association for 1960-61, succeeding outgoing president Charles W. Woodson, Jr., who is chief of the Virginia State Police. Col. Woodson will preside over the general sessions of the conference.

The first general session of the conference is on Monday, October 3, at 9:30 a.m. Following opening of the conference by President Woodson, the conference delegates will be formally welcomed to the District of Columbia by the District Board of Commissioners. Robert E. McLaughlin, Principal speakers at the opening general session will be FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, Oliver Gasch, U.S. Attorney for the District of Columbia, Clarence Liu, Chief of Police of Honolulu, and Barant F. Landstreet, deputy assistant director of emergency community services. Office of Civil Defense Mobilization.

Principal speakers on Tuesday will be Lyman B. Kirkpatrick, Inspector General of the Central Intelligence Agency, Washington, D. C., and Richard H. Stottler, assistant dean of the University College at the University of Maryland. Wednesday's headlines will be Washington's Chief Murray and Bernard L. Garmine, Chief of Police of Tucson, Arizona.

Conference week activities will actually begin as in past years with a meeting of foreign chiefs from all parts of the free world in an international seminar on Saturday, October 1. Police leaders who have already indicated they will attend the international session are from Australia, El Salvador, Ghana, Iran, Jamaica, Japan, the Philippines, Sierra Leone, Sudan, Thailand, and Tunisia. Always one of the most colorful sessions of the conference, the international seminar provides the chiefs from other countries opportunity to exchange greetings and share programs of mutual interest. Workshop sessions are provided for various language groupings.

The International Association of Chiefs of Police is the largest professional and fraternal organization in the police field, with a membership totaling over 4,000 top United States police officials and administrators and nearly 500 from other countries, according to IACP president Woodson. "In the face of the growing complexity of police problems," said Woodson, "the IACP is placing greater emphasis on the professionalization of police work and the improvement of police techniques and procedures. This year's convention will consist in large part of a series of workshops on the most critical problems we face."

The association's annual banquet will be held at the Statler Hilton on Wednesday evening of the conference week. In addition to the working sessions of the conference, delegates plan to have been made for an elaborate program of activity and entertainment for delegates' wives and guests. Registration for the conference will begin at the headquarters hotel on Saturday, October 1, and delegates will be able to register on succeeding days of the conference week. The closing session of the conference is on Thursday morning, October 6, including official business of the association and the election of officers for the coming year.

Cavaliers Setting Sights on Churchland Friday

After three games and without a victory observers are convinced that Coach Pete Sechon's Princess Anne Cavaliers are the best losing football team in the Tidewater area.

Last Friday night in Cox Stadium the Cavaliers were beaten 13 to 7 by a strong Granby team. It marked the third loss for the Cavaliers in as many games this year. All of the losses have been to strong foes and the three foes have been able to score only a total of five touchdowns against Princess Anne.

The Granby team that defeated the Cavaliers last week had run roughshod over Suffolk the previous week hanging up a total of 31 points. Their offense was considered one of the most potent in years. The Cavaliers held them to 13 points. The only trouble was P.A. did not score enough themselves.

A high flying Great Bridge team slipped the Cavaliers in the season opener three weeks ago by a 12 to 0 score. Princess Anne then lost a close 6 to 0 decision to defending state champion Norview in its second contest.

Princess Anne led Granby 7 to 6 at the close of the third period last week but the Blue Comets pushed over a marker in the final quarter for their victory.

This week the Cavaliers face another formidable opponent in the Churchland Truckers. The game is scheduled for Cox Stadium Friday night. Kickoff time is set for 8 o'clock. This may be the time the Cavaliers break into the win column after three frustrating starts.

Ruritan Bowl Game Will Pit E. C. Glass Against Cavaliers

The 1960 annual Ruritan Bowl football classic will pit Princess Anne's Cavaliers against the strong and colorful E. C. Glass team of Lynnhurst at Cox Stadium on October 21.

Much enthusiasm has been evidenced in the Ruritan Bowl game and the contest will pit two strong high school eleven against each other. Although Glass has the more impressive won, lost record the Cavaliers presented a formidable obstacle to the Lynnhursters.

The game is sponsored by the Princess Anne Ruritan club and this organization is making extensive plans for a gala celebration. There will be pre-game ceremonies and a Bowl queen will be selected.

A close contest is in prospect. The E. C. Glass team is always among the state leaders and last week held powerful Norview to a 7 to 7 tie. Earlier in the season Norview barely squeezed by Princess Anne by a 6 to 0 score.

Maurry Rignano, president of the Princess Anne Ruritan Club, is heading the committee making arrangements for the Ruritan Bowl game. Details of the full program and the pageantry will be announced later, according to Rignano.

This is expected to be one of the best games on the Cavalier's tough schedule this year. Interest is running high and officials expect a capacity crowd for the encounter.

Proceeds from the game, after team expenses will go for the Ruritan club civic and charitable projects.

Seahawks Wilt

Virginia Beach Faces James Blair Friday Night

A big, powerful and experienced Norfolk Academy football team came to Virginia Beach last Friday night and completely outclassed the outmanned Seahawks by a score of 20 to 0 at the Virginia Beach stadium.

The loss left the local season record stand at one win and two losses. This week they go against James Blair in hopes of evening that record although James Blair will be at least a two-touchdown favorite.

In the loss to Norfolk Academy the Seahawks could not be accused of not trying. The local youngsters gave their all but the heavier, superior foe was too much for them. This, coupled with a lack of reserves, took its toll and the locals were worn out through the final period.

Halfback Kenny Miller, Tommy Howard, Renny Reu and George Hellig stood out for the victors. Miller scored two of the three touchdowns and was a terror all night. Hellig tossed a 30-yard pass to Miller for one of the scores.

Fullback Marshall Taylor scored the third touchdown for the Academy on a two-yard plunge.

For the Seahawks, George Chapell played his usual, fine game. Others who stood out were Bo Basher, Charlie Reed, Grimstead and Cappe.

DAR Members Hear State Head

The importance of a well informed DAR membership was strongly stressed by Mrs. Frederick T. Morse, of Charlottesville, State Regent of Virginia Daughters of the American Revolution, guest speaker for the annual National Defense dinner given by Sarah Constant Chapter DAR at Ames Brownley's Tea Room Friday evening, September 30. In this connection Mrs. Morse recommended the showing of "Operation Abolition," a 45-minute movie, which can be obtained from the National Defense Committee in Washington, D.C. Also, she suggested J. Edgar Hoover's "Masters of Deceit" and his Report, "Communist Target-Youth," which is available from the same source. She urged all members to subscribe to the "National Defender," the monthly publication of the National Defense Committee, as a means of keeping currently informed. She asked members to work through their senators to retain the Conally Reservation to the World Court, and their support of the Walter-Reuther Immigration Act. Members were cautioned to be alert to propaganda in all quarters, particularly in the fields of education, religion and entertainment.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. William V. Tynes of Norfolk, Honorary State Regent, and Past President-General of the National Society DAR. Sarah Constant's Regent, Mrs. Elizabeth Beanan Wells, presided, and the invocation was given by Rev. R. Allen Brown, Chaplain General of the National Society DAR.

An interesting event of the evening was the showing of the silver cup, which was awarded to Sarah Constant Chapter and their Past Regent, Mrs. Thomas A. Moore, at the State Convention in March of this year. The award was for the outstanding chapter and the outstanding regent in the state. Mrs. R. Allen Brown, Organizing Regent, presented a Past-Regent's pin to Mrs. Moore as a gift from her chapter.

Mrs. Wells introduced the distinguished guests among whom were Mrs. Eugene F. Dugger, Chairman of District I, Virginia Daughters DAR, Mrs. Joseph Turrentine, President of the Tidewater Regent's Club, and the visiting Regents and officers of other Tidewater Chapters. Guests numbered sixty, including chapter members, several husbands and fathers, as well as representatives of various civic organizations in the city. Miss Mary Cowling from Hope-Marney Chapter UDC, Mrs. John Branch Beaman Jr., Senior President of the Governor John Branch Society, Children of the American Revolution, their President, Margaret Hope McConnell, and their Vice-President, Howard Whitehurst, who led the Salute to the Flag. Mrs. Earl Henley led in the singing of the National Anthem.

Mrs. J. Edward Johnson, Chairman of National Defense and Mrs. Vivian L. Ott, Americanism were in charge of arrangements for the meeting.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

STATE DEMOCRATS MAKING NOISE

Virginia's Democratic leaders have begun to stir in the present presidential campaign and they seem to be getting down to work in earnest for the election of the National Democratic ticket of Senator John F. Kennedy and Senator Lyndon B. Johnson. The Kennedy bandwagon in Virginia got a tremendous boost several days ago, when 52 legislators in the General Assembly signed a resolution urging the support and election of Kennedy. This was followed by an additional 23 members of the General Assembly adding their names to the original 52.

Practically all of the Hampton Roads area legislators were among the signers of the resolution in support of Kennedy. State Senator E. Almer Ames and Delegate P. B. White, both representing Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County, were among the signers.

Another interesting development of the past few days was the stand taken by Del.

John Warren Cooke of Matthews County, who published an editorial in his newspaper urging all Virginia Democrats to get behind the national ticket and to take a stand in support of the Democratic Party. Cooke is floor leader of the dominant organization in the General Assembly.

The campaign in Virginia seems to be taking shape. It seems the Democrats are waking up and if the tide continues at its present pace it is very likely that Virginia will be returned to the Democratic Party in this presidential election.

Developments of recent weeks among the Democrats would indicate no such lack of activity that was prevalent during the campaigns in which Adlai Stevenson faced President Eisenhower. In those campaigns Virginia went to the Republicans by default. Such will not be the case this time. The State's Democratic leaders are awake to the challenge and it is a good sign.

THE SQUAD

An experience denied to the sybaritic urban physician (and pity on him) is the work of the volunteer first-aid squad—if our small towns do not boost a Wrigley Building or a Guggenheim Museum, they have, still better, a group of devoted citizens and the most gorgeously fitted and polished ambulance and two-way radio that can be imagined. And the esprit and town pride pervading this service defy description. They are warranted. These men in their spotless white uniforms lift a sick adult out of the house with motherly tenderness, work without end to resuscitate the frownyed, and fiercely protect a highway casualty from being moved an inch, traffic or no traffic.

They are equally fierce in their knowledge of what to do and eagerness to learn more, and if first aid is necessary a baffling subject to the physician, still the actions taken (or not taken) by the squad are for the most part remarkably well-advised. Local physicians are usually entitled to some credit for this. When mouth-to-mouth resu-citation or the importance of transporting the patient with the back and the neck in extension is explained to them, they hang on every word.

We hope someday to learn how they achieve flawless costume at any hour of the night; and how they finance their equipment, which is often a 1941 Packard that runs like a fine watch and is equipped like the Mayo Clinic, out of nickels and dimes tossed in a blanket along the highway.

The greatest contribution they can receive is approval. We have known of a catastrophic accident where the local newspaper for that week bore a headline: "Surgeon Praises Work of Air Squad" and only later mentioned the injured and dead. They embody a brave and determined altruism, these local people, a kind of last outcropping of human kindness. Amid the commotion it is vital to say how well they have done, for it is what they are eager and hopeful to know. A kind word by the physician is a vast public service.—Medical Tribune

Beach Residents Leave Sunday For 17-Day Tour Of Europe

A group of Tidewater residents will depart Sunday morning from Norfolk Municipal Airport for a 17-day tour of Europe on an excursion co-sponsored by WBOF Radio and Beach Travel Service, Inc.

Many of the tour passengers will be visiting Europe for the first time while many others will be returning for a second visit.

"One of the nicest points of the entire tour," commented Hoarty, "is the time of year, in autumn, the weather is perfect and the natives of the respective countries are much more relaxed after a heavy summer season with tourists."

Those making the trip, as released by WBOF, are Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hoarty, Mr. and Mrs. Basil M. Duncan, Mrs. John E. Addenbrook, Mrs. Julian Hume, Mrs. Robert C. ## WHAT OTHERS ARE SAYING

THE BEST BUY IN AMERICA

By JAN GARDER, Director, Jan Garder's Orchestra

Newspapers, the cheapest necessity in our lives, by the dearest possession of our lives—FREEDOM.

For much less than the price of a package of cigarettes, we can keep informed, be entertained, and furnished facts on which we can base our portion of that great power within the United States, public opinion.

For that same price, we know we are buying protection, furnished by air alert, dedicated industry. Editors and reporters are quick to spot irregularities, expose frauds, and throw the bright light of publicity on the shady spots in our government at all levels.

Dictators, eager to take over the minds of men, first take over their newspapers. Without this open forum, a nation is doomed to lose that precious freedom for which free newspapers stand and protect. Stop and think what would happen if tomorrow newspapers could print only what our government wanted them to print.

There is no truer statement than "an informed nation is a strong nation," and our newspapers keep us informed.

As leader of a band, I have to travel a lot, of course. The band goes from city to city, giving me an opportunity to read the papers published in all sections of the country.

Not all newspapers are alike, because they are independent, are not government-controlled, and, naturally, some think differently from others.

In the presidential campaign now being waged, newspapers are taking sides. This does not mean that a paper supporting the Republican party suppresses news of the Democratic partisans. Far from it. The reader can find stories reflecting both viewpoints, is able to make up his own mind whether or not he will follow the paper's recommendations.

This is as it should be. Personally, I would like to see newspaper reading classes established in all our high schools. Not just for reading of local papers, but also those of other sections. Through the reading and analyzing of these, we in Shreveport for example, could find what the thinking is in Oregon, or Michigan or Illinois.

This, also would cultivate the reading habit in our youth. Not just a headline scanning, then turn to the comics, sports, or entertainment news, but a thorough reading of state, national and global stories with additional understanding of what is facing us, and how to combat it today.

Too often you find a high percentage of those sampled in this poll and that, listed as "no opinion" or "don't know." A thorough reading of the daily newspaper will keep you informed, and the daily reader never will be listed under those "do-nothing—know nothing" headings.

As a youngster in Philadelphia I sold newspapers, and now, as an adult, I have kept my respect and admiration for them.

As long as we have our newspapers for fuel, the light of freedom that burns over our country will never go out.

"Big Picture" Daily Feature Of WVEC-TV Educational Series

For the fourth year Norfolk school students are receiving a portion of their instruction from TV. In 1957 Norfolk entered the field of educational TV at the invitation of the Fund for the Advancement of Education, along with nine other cities and three states. Today most of those involved in the experiment feel TV is an important classroom tool.

Teaching on TV provides better distribution to good teachers, helps ease the shortage of teachers in certain key subjects, and allows the school system to provide certain courses that they would otherwise be unable to offer.

How does it work? What are the advantages and disadvantages? Key teachers are trained in the use of the TV medium, they are relieved of their other duties in order to plan and present their TV lessons. Students are taught in large groups over TV with follow-up discussion and co-ordination by receiving teachers, who are apprised of the daily lesson plans. Particularly in the field of science the advantages of TV teaching are easy to see. Elaborate experiments can be set up which might be impossible for the individual teacher to undertake. The TV lesson is a unified uninterrupted whole. School space is used to the fullest. Auditoriums, cafeterias can be used for TV reception thereby freeing smaller classroom areas. The most obvious shortcoming is the inability of the student to ask questions. This however, should be overcome in the smaller discussion groups after the TV presentation.

Play About Court Case In Civil War Days Is Absorbing

Saul Levitt has written an absorbing, at times absorbing, play which was presented at the Center Theater for a 3-night stand September 28-30. This was the first of four offerings under the sponsorship of the Broadway Theater League.

The on-set courtroom drama deals with the trial of Henry Wirt, a Captain in the Confederate Army during the Civil War, who had been placed in charge of the infamous Andersonville stockade. This had been the site of atrocities perpetrated on Union prisoners. The defense contends that Wirt merely followed the orders of his military superiors and was powerless to prevent the deaths of the prisoners due to lack of food, medical supplies, clothing and shelter. It further contends that severe disciplinary measures were necessary due to an inadequate number of guards.

The Judge Advocate realizes that the temper of the times demands Wirt's conviction and that no matter how he presents his case, he is almost certain of victory. As the drama develops, he does not feel that he has proven any charges on legal grounds. He is faced with the choice of continuing to pursue a hollow victory or of taking his case, his legal reputation, and indeed his military standing to uncover a guilt that he feels can only be exposed by probing beyond the realm of jurisprudence. The moral issue that he seeks to introduce constitutes the core of Levitt's work: Is there a point at which the individual's morality or humanity should transcend his sense of duty to a physical system which is endangered by his humane action?

For the most part, the playwright has treated his theme with eloquence and insight. Perhaps it might be said he falters briefly by the injection of an extreme hypothesis: the soldier who would kill his child if ordered to do so. But if his analogy is weak, his point is well taken: where indeed does one draw the line between the physical law and the moral law?

Martin Brooks' self-searching Judge Advocate is a well-placed performance of a man who seeks "not Wirt's death, but his guilt." Brooks was particularly effective in his examination of Wirt in the climactic scene. Sam Gray as Wirt contributed a very strong portrayal of the tormentor turned tormented. Other good performances in minor roles were by Donald Hotten and Charles Durning as 2 ex-prisoners at Andersonville and Sam Kresen and Richard Durham as a Confederate doctor and colonel who had witnessed the stockade horrors. Despite a slight improvement in the second act, Brian Donlevy brought little animation to the role of the Defense Counsel. Perhaps a few more performances after the touring company's debut in Norfolk will bring out more conviction and less uncertainty to his portrayal.

Decorative louvers in the upper rear quarter sections are a new styling feature of 1961 Studebaker Lark hardtops. Single pivots for raising and lowering the quarter windows improve operation and eliminate rattle. With a complete line of body styles, plus choices of two engines, three transmissions, various axle ratios and numerous options, 1961 Larks can meet the most exacting requirements of all motorists. The Lark is available with Studebaker's new and more powerful overhead valve engine for 1961—the Skybolt Six, which develops 112 horsepower at 4,600 r.p.m.

LARK OFFERING 17 MODELS IN 1961 LINE NOW ON DISPLAY

Seventeen Studebaker Lark models—including the new Cruiser, a larger, luxury-styled four-door sedan—are offered for 1961. In addition, there's the Hawk, a family sports car with an economy-winning engine.

This complete line of body styles has been designed to meet all passenger car driving requirements and conditions, with the advantages of convenient size, overall economy, quality and Studebaker craftsmanship.

In announcing the 1961 Larks, Harold E. Churchill, president of Studebaker-Packard Corporation said: "Within our product philosophy of consistency of design, our 1961 models incorporate substantial styling refinements and engineering advancements. These changes were made to improve performance and provide the purchaser with greater investment value."

All Lark models are available with either the new, more powerful six cylinder OHV engine—the Skybolt Six—or the V-8 power plant.

Four-door sedans and four-door station wagons are offered with a choice of Deluxe or Regal styling in body and interior trims.

Models with Regal trims are the two-door hardtop, two-door convertible, the new Cruiser and the Hawk.

For the first time in the automobile industry, Studebaker offered padded instrument panels as standard on all models.

Other standard equipment includes a newly-designed instrument panel with improved visibility of instruments and rheostat control of instrument lights; a new counter-balanced hood hinge; tray-type glove compartment with lock; electric two-speed windshield wipers, and directional lights.

Regal models have dual headlights, a two-tone safety cone steering wheel, automatic dome and entry light, foam cushions on front and rear seats, cigarette lighter, carpet floor coverings, dual horn, stainless windshield and rear window moldings, sill panel moulding and coat hooks as standard equipment.

An accessory trim kit available for two-door sedans includes extra sun visor, rear ash tray, and stainless steel windshield and rear window reveal moldings. Rear door arm rests are added in the kits for four-door sedans. Station wagon kits contain the rear ash tray, extra visor and windshield moulding, while the four-door wagon kits add the rear door arm rests.

An extensive list of equipment is optional for all models.

Among the more popular options offered are the Climatizer, power steering, power brakes, United glass, electric windshield washers, white sidewall tires, back-up lights, chrome wheel discs, manual or push button radio, hill holder for cars with standard transmissions, air conditioning (except convertibles) and the Twin Traction "limited-slip" differential.

Individual front seats, and reclining seats with split backs or individual cushions and backs are also available. Head rests are optional with any combination of split-back seats.

Standard equipment on Lark station wagons include vinyl seat coverings on all models, and carpets on the floors and cargo decks on Regal models. Optional equipment includes highway third seats and rooftop luggage carriers.

The Hawk, as a Regal-styled sport coupe, has bucket seats as standard equipment, a new feature for 1961. A four-speed transmission, tachometer, deck lid mounted antenna and auxiliary heater are offered as optional equipment.

New interior trim and color combinations have been chosen to harmonize with exterior body colors. Vinyls are red, blue, green, brown, tan and black. Lark and Hawk emblems have been woven in the Regal upholstery fabrics of the respective cars.

Metallic coated are available for the first time for models with blue, green or tan exterior colors. All models have an agate gray vinyl headlining.

The MIXING BOWL..

IT'S Fun TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK
SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

For the very latest in food fads and fables... for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palate and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

Oysters are a long-time favorite. As long ago as the 1870's, the National Fisheries Institute tells us, oysters were canned and shipped to people living in remote places, such as the forests of northern Michigan. Years before there was any dream of freezing shellfish, barrels of oysters were iced and distributed thousands of miles away. The popularity of this mollusk has increased, until now we consume between 77 and 80 million pounds of oysters every year. That's a lot of stews, cocktails—and main dishes, such as this Oyster Cheese Casserole.

Oyster-Cheese Casserole
1 pint oysters
2 cups uncooked shell macaroni
1 cup butter or margarine
1 clove garlic
1/4 cup flour
2 cups milk
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon pepper
2 cups grated cheddar cheese
Drain oysters, reserving 1 cup liquid; cook macaroni according to directions on the package. Meanwhile, melt butter in a saucepan. Peel garlic, split in half and brown in butter. Remove pan from heat. Discard garlic. Stir in flour until smooth. Gradually add oyster liquid and milk. (If oyster liquid is not used, add 1 extra cup of milk). Stir until well blended.

Return to heat and cook until thick. Stir in salt, pepper and grated cheese. Toss macaroni with cheese sauce and pour into buttered 2-quart casserole. Make a well in center and pour in oysters. Bake at 350 degrees F. (moderate oven) about 30 minutes. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Scalloped Oysters
1 quart oysters
1/2 cup cream
1/2 cup fine dry bread crumbs
1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted
1 cup green pepper, minced
1 cup celery, minced
Salt

Paprika
Drain oysters. Reserve liquor and combine with cream. Mix bread crumbs with melted butter or margarine. Butter six scallop shells and cover bottom of each with a layer of buttered crumbs. Cover with layer of oysters, green pepper, and celery and liquor and cream mixture. Sprinkle salt and paprika over all. Finish the top with crumb mixture and dot with butter. Bake in hot oven, 400°F., for 20 minutes.

If you are calories conscious you might like to know that most seafoods are comparatively low in fat content. Most fish are about 5 per cent in compar with beef about 33 per cent and ham 50 per cent. Even those fish with a comparatively high fat content have a count of 10 per cent. Besides these fish, like salmon and mackerel, are wonderful sources of Vitamin A and B.

An average portion supplies 20 per cent of the daily quota of these important nutrients.

Here are some facts I believe you'll be interested in.

Did you know that for every hundred men fishing for fun, there's only one fishing for food? Yes, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service figures from a recent 12-month period show that there were 165,000 persons directly engaged in commercial fishing, while more than 18,000,000 bought sport-fishing licenses.

Although most people know only six or seven varieties of fish and shellfish, there are about 180 edible varieties caught in the United States alone. Sold fresh, frozen, and canned, they are also processed in such forms as crab cakes, breaded shrimp, scallops, fillets and sticks.

Oysters — The American oyster was a staple in the diet of our coast Indians, and the great piles of shells found in many areas along our shores are evidence of the heartiness of Indian appetites. So popular has the oyster proved to us more-recent arrivals that most of the natural oyster beds are gone, and we must now rely on cultivated beds. More than 80 million pounds of oysters are eaten in this country every year.

Sardines — Actually there is no one fish named "sardine." The term refers to any tiny fish with weak bones that can be preserved in oil. They are probably called sardines because they were first prepared in this manner on the island of Sardinia. Our East Coast variety is an infant alewife, or herring, while the West Coast version, as in the Mediterranean, is the pilchard.

Scallops—The scallop is a mollusk so named because of its beautifully fluted and scalloped shell. In general, scallops are of two types—the tiny bay scallop famous for its tender delicate flavor, available only in the oyster season, and the large sea scallop on the market year 'round.

Hope you've enjoyed these "Seafood Facts".

Rampside is inclined to save work

With an exclusive hinged side-loading ramp, the Chevrolet Corvair 95 light-duty truck offers economical operation, low loading height, easy handling and large cargo space for its size. It is powered by the rear-mounted 80-hp. air-cooled Corvair engine for low operating costs. On a 95-inch wheelbase, it has a loading height of 14 inches at the side gate and 26.5 inches at the rear.

Chevrolet Introduces Smaller Truck Line For '61

To meet a growing demand for lower cost, efficient transportation in the local delivery and service fields, Chevrolet has introduced the "Corvair 95"—a new series of short wheelbase, rear powered, light-duty trucks.

The new line is designed for maximum utility of cargo space and load capacity in relation to overall dimension and weight. With a 95-in. wheelbase and short overall length of less than 15 ft., it has a short turning radius and is highly maneuverable.

Comprising a panel delivery and two pickup models, the "Corvair 95" line incorporates innovations for easy loading and cargo accessibility. One of the pickup models has a unique, swing-down, side-loading ramp.

For economy of operation, the new series is powered by the 80

hp air-cooled Corvair six-cylinder engine and transaxle power unit mounted at the rear. Other features are unit-frame construction for rigidity and light weight, independent coil spring suspension at all four wheels, and almost equal load weight distribution between front and rear wheels for excellent handling and ride.

With this new line, we are able to meet a wide range of needs by truck users for a light-duty vehicle that is more economical to operate, much easier to drive and park in congested city traffic or in close quarters, and is considerably easier to load. Yet it makes no compromise with cargo space or load capacity," states James E. Conlan, assistant general sales manager for Chevrolet trucks.

The Corvan panel delivery is 70 inches wide with an overall height of 85.5 inches. Cargo space is 191 cubic feet with a payload rating of 1800 pounds for a maximum gross vehicle weight of 4000 pounds. The load area is easily accessible from the driver's seat and through double doors on the right hand side of the vehicle and at the rear. Additional left hand doors also are available as an option. A crane as large as 4 feet by 4 feet may be located through the double side doors.

The Loadside and Rampside pickup models are rated at 1900 pounds payload, and feature a grain-tight box of 90 cubic feet capacity. Identical in length and width to the Corvan panel delivery, the pickup cabs are only 69 inches high. The pickup tailgate opening is 44.8 inches wide on both models while the ramp opening of the Rampside model is 47.5 inches.

Load floor height of Corvair 95 trucks at the side opening is less than 14 inches from the ground and rear door or tailgate loading height is only 26.5 inches. This reduced payload height also provides the vehicle a desirable low center of gravity for stability and safety. Step height at the front doors is only 17 inches for easy entry and exit.

Cab location at the extreme front of the vehicle affords superior visibility as well as good maneuverability. Benefits from rear engine location are a full width, flat cab floor and exceptionally good traction when the vehicle is empty or only partially loaded.

The horizontally-opposed, 145 cubic in., 80 horsepower, six-cylinder, air-cooled engine runs efficiently on regular grade gasoline. Access doors are provided for normal service and maintenance of engine components. For major servicing, the complete power package, including engine, transaxle and rear suspension, may be removed as a unit. Similarly, the entire front suspension may be removed as a unit with the front cross member.

A direct air heater which utilizes engine heat to provide warm air for the passenger compartment is available as either a factory or dealer installed option. A gasoline heater also is available for the Corvair 95 trucks as either a factory or dealer installed option.

A removable, three-piece floor panel assembly is available for Corvair 95 pickup model owners who require a flat floor area the entire length of the pickup box. Capacity of the box with the level floor in place is 37 cu. ft. On Rampside models an additional storage compartment is provided beneath the auxiliary floor.

Health Insurance Becoming Popular Throughout Country

Health insurance protection against the cost of doctor calls and other non-surgical care by doctors, a type of coverage held by relatively few people a decade ago, is rapidly growing in popularity, the Health Insurance Institute reported today.

At the end of 1959, regular medical expense insurance covered about 17 million persons, or one out of every four persons among the 66 million who had hospital expense insurance at that time, said the Institute.

However, by the end of 1959, nearly 83 million persons had regular medical expense insurance, or two out of three persons among the 128 million with hospital coverage, according to the Institute. And, of those persons with hospital insurance, 117 million, or nine out of ten, had surgical expense insurance.

Coverage under regular medical expense insurance can be expected to continue to have rapid growth, the Institute said. It estimated that as of the end of June some 84 million Americans had this type of protection against doctor bills.

Benefits paid by insurance companies to persons covered by regular medical insurance have been increasing about three times as fast as the climb in the number of persons protected, the Institute said.

From the end of 1956 to the end of 1959, the net insurance company coverage of persons with regular medical expense insurance climbed from 29.8 million to 38.2 million, a 28.5 per cent increase which was slightly ahead of the rate of growth in this type of coverage by all insuring organizations.

At the same time, the amount of benefits paid by insurance companies for regular medical expenses, including benefits for such expenses received under major medical policies, increased 75.1 per cent, from $60 million to $171 million, declared the insurance organization.

In 1959 alone, the growth in the number of persons covered by regular medical expense insurance provided by insurance companies.

Last year, the number of persons so protected by insurance companies climbed from 35.1 million to 38.2 million, or 8.5 per cent, while benefit payments increased from $133 million to $171 million, or 11.8 per cent, according to the Institute.

PLAYGROUND HOURS PROVING POPULAR

Approximately seven hundred students participated in the afternoon playground. This is the first year the afternoon program and it was very successful thus far.

The following schools are having this program and directors: Woodstock, Francis Curling, Bay-side, Wally French; Thalia, Joseph Limer Jr.; Shelton Park, Thomas McCauley; and Aragona, Arthur Scarborough. The hours of the playgrounds are from after school, until approximately one half hour before dark.

The skills that are learned during physical education are put into practice in the afternoon. Seasonal sports are especially stressed, currently soccer, 8 and 11 man football, dodge ball, four square and kickball.

News for VETERANS

As result of a bill signed by the President a few days ago, many additional young men and women are now eligible for educational assistance under the War Orphans Assistance Act.

Until now this benefit was restricted to children whose parent died as a result of service during a period of war. The new law will provide the same generous educational aid for the children of a veteran whose death resulted from service at any time after September 16, 1940 and up until the present draft law expires.

To be eligible under the War Orphans Educational Program the child must generally be between the ages of 18 and 28. The maximum is 36 months of education or vocational training at $110 per full month of training completed, sufficient to provide a full four year college course. No aid is authorized for attendance at high school level, but handicapped children may be given special restorative training.

I will be very glad to provide full details to any child, or to the parent or guardian of any child, who now becomes entitled under the new legislation.

More information may be obtained by contacting Thomas A. Moore, Area Director, Division of War Veterans' Claims, 305 McKevitt Bldg. 203 East City Hall Ave., Norfolk 10, Virginia.

DOUBLE BILL FEATURED AT FORT STORY

LITTLE LEAGUE OPENER
 Little League Football got off to a double-billed start at Fort Story over the weekend, as the Stallions defeated the Bulldozers 24 to 13 and the Bobcats roared over the Rams 21-0.

The Fort Story Little League Football schedule is made up of these four teams of youngsters through the age of thirteen, who play a miniaturized version of six-man football. The Little League opening ceremonies were highlighted by a short talk from Col. William P. Pope, Fort Story Commander, and remarks about the league by Major Martin M. Reinhold, Little League Football Commissioner and Executive Officer of the 14th Transportation Battalion. Chaplain (Major) Francis Mifcovic gave the invocation and the 38th Army Band from Fort Eustis provided the National Anthem and the usual football marches and music.

Officials for the Football Little League are Captain Ervin Wright, referee; Lt. James Kelly, umpire; and Sp5 Bill Hadley, head linesman.

Both the Stallions — Bulldozer and the Bobcat—Rams games were played on the new Little League Field, which was cleared earlier in the year specifically for all Little League activities. For Saturdays opening games, bleachers were set up and refreshment stands were provided by the Fort Story Youth Council, of which Lt. Colonel Ernest K. Bremer is the chairman. Standout players in the Stallion-

Bulldozer contest were: Ross Kilen, speedy back for the horsemen, who tailed two TD's, and Scotty Richards, who added the other two Stallion markers. Speedy Doug Fisher scored both of the Bulldozer tallies.

In the second game, Tommy Hingley scored the first Bobcat TD, trapped the Rams ball carrier behind the goal line for a safety, and made the only pass of the day to Billy Caban, who scooted sixty yards for a tally. Caban, who played fine defensive ball, as well, also scored the final Bobcat touchdown.

Three backs who made long gains and carried the fight for the Rams were: Clarence Kelly, Bobby Quick and Charles Byrd. Six-man football, as played by the Fort Story Little League, features an eighty-yard field, eligibility of any player to receive a pass, and a requirement to hand off the ball on all running plays. Six-man football is unique to the Armed Forces, and permits smaller units and organizations to field teams and participate in a brand of football embodying all of the elements of full eleven-man-team game.

Germans Visit Army Command

Today, the party watched a demonstration of the Army's newest amphibious lighters, the rolling liquid transporter trailer, and the grounds effect machine concept and attended briefings outlining the activities of USTRECOM.

Before returning to Washington by air, Gen. Braeunig and those in his party traveled to Williamsburg for a two-hour excursion there.

The National Outlook

Gold has started to move out of the country again in appreciable volume. As always this raises the question of whether we are faced with a serious gold problem. To answer this question it is necessary to use quite a lot of figures, but they are simple and should not cause difficulty.

In 1949 we held the largest gold stock in our history. This was a little over $24 billion, and was well over one-half of the monetary gold stock of the free world. The worry then was whether the other nations could operate their monetary and credit systems with their relatively small gold supplies, and it was hoped that by some means there could be a better distribution of the metal.

In 1950 there was a large outflow of gold from the United States, but during the next two years the flow was reversed, although it did not amount to enough to lift our total to the previous high.

In 1953 we again had an outflow, and this continued in both 1954 and 1955. In 1956 and 1957 we gained a total of about one million and our total rose to just about $23 billion.

In 1958 the outflow was the largest in history—$2.3 billion—and we began to hear a discussion as to whether we could stand such a loss. In 1959 our government made a gold payment to the International Monetary Fund of $344 million, but even with this the total decline in our holding was less than one-half that of the previous year. This was such a major improvement that everyone began to feel relieved.

This year we have continued to lose gold, but until quite recently the rate has been low. The total outflow for the year has been about $500 million, of which the vast majority has been in the past few weeks. Our total holding is now below $19 billion—the lowest since 1949.

This is still about one-half the free world supply of the metal and it is almost $7 billion above the amount necessary to meet the present legal gold reserve requirement. But there is another aspect of the issue.

This other aspect is that foreign balances held in this country are now larger than our entire gold stock. Most of these foreign balances are working funds and could not be withdrawn, but some substantial amount is subject to shifting at the decision of their owners. That is the portion which is causing concern.

The following could result in a conversion of these balances into gold:

1. Belief that this nation will not continue to be financially and fiscally responsible.

2. Fear that if pressures build up we might decide to devalue the dollar, and in anticipation of that put a stop to all gold exports.

3. Higher interest rates abroad than can be obtained in this nation.

The current flow of gold is almost solely the result of this third factor. In most foreign nations today interest rates for the same type of investment are higher than in the United States. This is exerting a powerful incentive for the movement of funds to those markets.

Fortunately there is no evidence of a loss of confidence in the dollar as such, and no serious student can believe that we are about to devalue our currency. Our Federal Reserve authorities, too, are not worried about the gold outflow. They are not worried because we still have such a large surplus in relation to our reserve requirements that there is no danger we shall be subjected to a major deflationary force from the gold loss.

As of the moment, therefore, we are not faced with a gold problem and there is no basis for assuming that we shall be within the near future.

U.S. Telephones

Reach 60 Million

Somewhere in the United States the 60 millionth Bell System telephone was installed today.

Telephone officials of The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia said the milestone phone was one of about 55,000 installed throughout the system during the day. Another 46,000 are removed daily for a net gain of about 9,000 telephones.

Actually, America's telephone "population" is now more than 73 million. The additional 13 million instruments are operated by some 3,500 non-Bell System telephone companies.

The 50th millionth Bell System phone was added only three years ago. The system has gained more than 24 million telephones in the past 10 years.

Meanwhile, as Americans have been getting more telephones, they've been using them more. In 1959 the average person in this country placed fewer than 400 calls per year. Today he places more than 500.

Why United States Savings Bonds? Because all new Series E and H Bonds pay higher interest—three and three-quarter percent to maturity. Because all E Bonds pay interest two years longer. Because you can now convert your E Bonds to H Bonds for current income plus tax deferral. All this plus guaranteed safety! United States Savings Bonds!

FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS

Isn't A Girl of 19 'Old Enough'?

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "I am 19. Even though I feel that I am no different from other young girls, my parents don't agree. They won't let me go out during weekends, at any time. I have completed 12 years of schooling. And during my years in school I couldn't go to any school activities alone with my friends. Then I could understand my parents. Now, I can't, because I am . . . 19. They still refuse to let me go out and be back at a certain time. I want to go off and work as my other classmates and they refuse that. What can I do? I am young and I want to go and be among other young people. I see no harm, but my parents seem to. Could you help me or give me some advice?"

OUR ANSWER: A girl of 19 should be with young people and should be allowed to have dates and to work—and to learn to stand on her own two feet in the world. This writer well remembers a psychology professor who had a favorite saying: "Some parents feel they can raise their children in a bureau drawer, hidden from the world, until they are 21 and then throw them out into the street and say 'Now you are big enough and old enough to take care of yourself.'" As a college freshman, I laughed at this professor's "joke"; as I grew older, I realize that there is much truth and very little humor in what he was saying.

Whatever their motive, parents are seriously wrong when they refuse to release—or even loosen the apron strings that bind their children—as the years go by; when they refuse to realize that their children must grow up and make some place for themselves in this world. It is often, as has been said, "a cruel world"—but it is crueler to those who are ill-prepared, who have been shielded from the world, as if they really didn't belong in it.

The best advice we can give to this week's letter writer is this: Reason with your parents. If you can. Convince them that you are coming of age, with a will and a mind of your own. Let them know that you have to make your own place in the world and that sooner or later you must stand on your own two feet and make decisions for yourself. And . . . sooner or later, you must.

Studebaker Shows Increase

Studebaker passenger car retail deliveries during the 10-day period ending September 20 increased 68.5 per cent, over triple the industry-wide increase of 20.7 per cent, S. A. Skillman, Studebaker-Packard Corp. vice president and general sales manager, announced today.

The comparisons were made with the corresponding period one year ago. The sales gave Studebaker a market penetration of 2.41 per cent for the period.

Studebaker's retail deliveries for the period totaled 3,228 units, in comparison with 1,918 units during the identical 10 days in 1959. An increase of 41.9 per cent in deliveries has been registered by Studebaker for the first 10 days of September, based on deliveries of 5,226 units as compared with 3,684 units a year ago.

Skillman said the sales spurt began during the first 10 days of September when deliveries were up 13.1 per cent over the previous year. The industry increase for the period was 10 per cent. Studebaker unit sales were 2,003 in comparison with 1,771 a year ago.

Buy U.S. Savings Bonds . . . and buy a brighter future. Dreams come true even sooner with the new high 3 1/2 per cent interest rate.

State Petition Campaign Underway To Reduce Federal Gas Tax

A statewide petition campaign seeking popular support for a reduction in the Federal gasoline tax, now 4 cents a gallon, was announced today.

Dana H. Conley, Chairman of Virginia Petroleum Industries, said the week-long campaign would begin Saturday, October 1, the first anniversary of the temporary 1-cent a gallon increase in the Federal levy enacted by Congress last year.

The added penny, which is costing Virginia drivers $13,200,000 during its first year, is due to expire next June, according to a promise made by Congress when the tax was increased.

The combined Federal-State tax burden on gasoline in Virginia is now 11 cents a gallon, including a 7-cent State tax. These taxes added $138,900,000 to the annual gasoline bill of Virginia's motorists, Conley said.

He pointed out that when Congress boosted the tax from 3 to 4 cents it specified that the increase was to run for only 22 months, and that it now has only 9 months to go.

"Gasoline service stations throughout the State will invite their customers to sign a petition asking that Congress keep its promise and return the Federal gasoline tax to 3 cents a gallon next June," Conley said. The signature and the petitions will then be presented to each of the State's Congressmen and candidates for those posts.

"We feel the first anniversary of this latest increase is a good time to remind drivers in Virginia that this extra penny is a 'temporary' measure that is supposed to expire June 30, 1961," he said.

Ever stop to think that just a little money . . . saved every week . . . adds up to a lot. Why not ask your employer to set something aside from each paycheck to buy U.S. Savings Bonds. You'll save . . . before you have a chance to spend!

RAMBLER ANNOUNCES STRONGEST GUARANTEE IN AUTO HISTORY

LIFETIME GUARANTEE ON NEW CERAMIC-ARMORED MUFFLER AND TAIL-PIPE STANDARD ON ALL '61 MODELS

Born of space-age developments, Rambler announces on all 1961 models a new Ceramic-Armored muffler and tail-pipe guaranteed against defects for the lifetime of the car while in the hands of the original owner. This covers total replacement cost, including parts and labor. Every '61 Rambler muffler and tail-pipe is completely covered with a special ceramic coating—similar to that used in rockets and missiles—to give lasting protection against rust and corrosion caused by water, salt and acids. Another Rambler first!

12-MONTH, 12,000-MILE WARRANTY EXTENDED TO ALL NEW RAMBLER OWNERS

Now Rambler extends to all new Rambler owners its comprehensive full-year or 12,000-mile warranty, whichever occurs first. In fact, this liberal warranty, announced to dealers more than a year ago, also covers total replacement cost including parts and labor. It applies to all 1961 Rambler models and to 1960 Ramblers still within the warranty period. The normal industry warranty covers only 90 days or 4,000 miles.

Discussed By Bayshore Club

"Floral Art" was the topic discussed by Mrs. Walton Saunders at the first meeting of the Bay Shore Garden Club of Virginia Beach in the home of Mrs. Robert Peabody on Wednesday morning, September 28.

Flower arranging, according to Mrs. Saunders, can be fun, and learning takes only practice. To be attractive the arrangement need not be expensive but must adhere to proper design and pattern.

During the business meeting, at which Mrs. Dennis Boykin presided, the club voted to hold a card party in late October as a Ways and Means project for the year. For the past three years a card party has been the money-maker for this club, being held in a member's home.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Robert Peabody and Mrs. J. E. Bowman. Ribbons for arrangements included: Blue, Mrs. Lloyd Burton, Mrs. Wm. Blake, Mrs. John Matthews and Mrs. W. Walter; Red, Mrs. Joy Regal, Mrs. Lloyd Burton, Mrs. Alan Shephard and Mrs. Sam Hakim. Blue ribbons for specimens were won by Mr. George Miller, Mrs. William Blake, Mrs. Alvin Jarrott and two by Mrs. John Matthews.

SUN-NEWS POLL GIVES SEN. KENNEDY BIG EDGE

CLEMENT SPEAKING AT DEMOS RALLY IN DOME HERE TONIGHT

Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County Democrats are scheduled to gather in the Convention Center tonight at a Democratic Party rally to hear former Tennessee Governor Frank G. Clement.

The affair is a 80¢ per plate fund raising dinner to help finance the Democratic campaign in the November election. Clement is coming here on assignment from the speaker's bureau of the National Democratic Party.

Clement was first elected governor of Tennessee eight years ago and at the time was the Nation's youngest chief executive at the age of 32. He is considered an outstanding public speaker.

The county and the Democratic executive committee along with the Women's Democratic Club and the Young Democratic Club are sponsoring the dinner-rally.

The affair is scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. and the party faithful are expected to hear Clement urge the election of the National Democratic ticket of Senators John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson and the re-election of Virginia's U. S. Senator A. Willis Robertson and Congressman Thomas N. Downing, who represents the First Congressional District.

1960 Beach High Graduates Attending Various Colleges

A substantial percentage of the 1960 graduating class of the Virginia Beach High School has entered college, according to figures released this week by James A. Johnson, Jr., principal of the Virginia Beach school.

"This year 62.5 per cent of our boys and girls are in college," Johnson said. "Others have entered the armed services or have gone into business," he added.

Johnson stated that each year between 60 and 70 per cent of the local graduates go on to college. He indicated that this was probably the largest percentage of any high school in the area.

The school official released the following names of 1960 graduates and the colleges they are attending: William and Mary, Norfolk—Alicia Armstrong, Frances Buskey, Delores Dantz, Martha Dickerson, Raymond Doty, Fred Evans, Michael Jenette, Dianne Matthews, Reid Mercer, James Orrell, John Rice, Charles Salls, Peter Treichel, Helen Vakos and Frances Williams.

UNICEF Ready For Halloween

Share not Scare is the purpose of UNICEF this Halloween. The cup of milk held by a child is the symbol of UNICEF and its work. Originally known as the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund, it was at first formed to take over the job of UNRRA providing children of war-torn Europe and Palestine with supplementary foods largely milk. This was to be an emergency measure but by the early 1950's it was clear that the emergency was a permanent or very long one. The hunger of Europe was slowly appeased but at the same time, the world became ever more aware of other parts of the globe where hunger was not the passing result of disaster but a chronic condition of existence itself.

In its effort to appease hunger UNICEF aspires to improve the child's lot throughout the world so that for the first time in the history of civilization all children may have equal opportunities for life, health and happiness. Only a few years ago in India, it was determined that of a hundred Indian and a hundred American children would live to be sixty-five than Indian children to five. Malaria, leprosy, yaws, T.B. would take their toll. It is for this reason that UNICEF devotes its entire resources to help the world's children grow strong and healthy and to become useful, productive adults. Your own child and your neighbor's child behind their fearful mask for Halloween is as sincere as Tom Doolittle or Alibi's Switzer in their efforts to make democracy a convincing force in the world.

The health and happiness of millions of children are being made possible this month by the preparation being made within this community through the efforts of schools and churches. This week orders will be placed for the milk cartons with the orange sticker which will be held by children as they go from door to door in Virginia Beach. All of the children will represent some Sunday school class, Methodist, Baptist, Jewish, Presbyterian, Catholic, but all share a common belief in the work of UNICEF. If your Sunday school or School wishes more information or cartons, it may contact Mrs. Lynn Bradshaw of the Princess Anne County School System.

BOARD TURNS DOWN PERMITS TEMPORARILY

The Board of Supervisors Monday voted to refuse temporarily to issue any more building permits to a Kempville District developer.

The developer, who was not named in the discussion, has failed to complete work on a road he is supposed to finish, it was stated. Permits will be delayed until the builder does the work.

Under a new Princess Anne County subdivision ordinance, developers are required to complete certain work on streets, gutters and curbing.

The board met in the board room of the Princess Anne County School Board building because its regular meeting place is being used by tax assessors. Future supervisors' meetings will be held in the School Board building until further notice.

LOCAL SURVEY HAS DEMOCRATS AHEAD

Old 28th Court State's Busiest During 1959

Figures released by the office of the executive secretary of the Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals shows that the old 28th judicial circuit, which included Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County, had the heaviest case load of any circuit in the State in 1959.

During the year the 28th circuit which also included Isle of Wight County and the City of Portsmouth, handled a total of 2,634 cases. This figure was cases concluded from January 1 through December 31, 1959.

The next busiest circuit, according to the release, was the 16th with 2,438 cases. This is a Northern Virginia circuit on the outskirts of the District of Columbia. Almost 60 per cent of the case load in the old 28th Circuit was in Princess Anne County. The 1959 figures were released recently by the office of the executive secretary of the Supreme Court of Appeals.

The 28th Circuit was split on July 1, 1960. The City of Portsmouth now comprises the 28th Circuit and Princess Anne and Isle of Wight counties form the 25th Circuit.

District Flower Judges Convene

Advanced designs, new trends in exhibiting, interpretations of Schedules, provided area flower show judges with an interesting and informative session when the Tidewater District, Va. Council of National Accredited Flower Show Judges met at Rodman's in Portsmouth, Va. on Monday.

Mrs. J. C. Webb, Suffolk, Va. President of this organization presided with Mrs. A. D. Ollivier and Mrs. R. P. Thompson of Portsmouth, Va. as hostesses to this group from all of Tidewater. It was an all-day meeting.

In anticipation of the many fall shows which will be judged by a variety of problems relating to new scale of points from National Council, exhibiting editors and schedule clarification were the important discussions.

The Judges from various areas were:

Norfolk—Mrs. J. G. Chamberlain; Mrs. L. M. Cuyper; Mrs. E. D. Duval; Mrs. M. H. Keller; Mrs. Philip Morris; Mrs. H. O. Spencer; and Mrs. M. H. Todd. Walton Alley of New Orleans, La., was an invited guest.

CANVASS TO CONTINUE WEEKLY UNTIL ELECTION

If the results of the first week of a presidential preference post card poll in Virginia Beach is any indication of what the nation's voters will do on November 8 then the Democratic ticket should win by a two to one majority.

It was Sen. John F. Kennedy by a 2 to 1 vote over Vice-President Richard M. Nixon in the first week of the Sun-News poll conducted over the past weekend.

The Sun-News mailed out 100 post cards to subscribers taken from its subscription list by random last Friday. By Wednesday morning 31 replies had been received showing a clear preference for Kennedy, the Democratic candidate in the forthcoming presidential election.

Recipients of the post cards were asked merely to indicate their preference by marking an X opposite the name of the candidate of their choice. The cards also provided a space for remarks.

Of the 31 cards returned to the Sun-News 20 were marked for Kennedy, 10 for Nixon and one for Senator Harry Byrd, Virginia's senior United States Senator.

A few of the cards contained remarks.

A Kennedy supporter stated: "I would be very pleased to vote for Senator Kennedy if I had not been so stupid to overlook my 1958 poll tax."

Another said: "We need Mr. Kennedy and what he stands for. We proudly sign."

Still another Kennedy supporter had this to say: "We think Mr. Kennedy will be best for our great country and, too, we still believe in the Democratic Party."

One Kennedy supporter said: "Much more forceful on important issues."

The lone Nixon supporter who commented said: "I consider John Kennedy too inexperienced for these crucial times."

The card favoring Sen. Byrd merely wrote "Sen. Byrd" leaving the space blank for Kennedy and Nixon.

The second 100 post cards will be mailed out this weekend and the results will again be presented in the next issue of the Virginia Beach Sun-News.

Virginia Beach Seniors Score In Merit Tests

Two seniors at Virginia Beach High School have been honored for outstanding achievement on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (NMQST) given last spring. Each student who is endorsed by his school receives a formal letter of commendation signed by his principal and the president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. James A. Johnson, Jr., the school's principal, has announced that the commendation students are: John G. Claudy and Carter B. Jennings.

Claudys has been awarded a letter of commendation by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation for his excellent performance on the qualifying test. He is the son of Mr. & Mrs. John G. Claudy of 505 16th Street, Virginia Beach.

Mr. Johnson stated that letters of commendation are being awarded to some 24,000 students throughout the United States in recognition of their excellent performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

While these bright youngsters did not reach the status of semifinalists in the 1960-61 Merit Program, they are so outstanding that they are singled out for special attention. The semifinalists and commendation students together constitute less than three per cent of all high school seniors, and this certainly is a gratifying noteworthy achievement.

BAKE & RUMMAGE SALE

The Ladies Auxiliary of the London Bridge Volunteer Fire Department will sponsor a Bake & Rummage Sale, October 15th, Saturday, from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Ruritan Bowl Football Game Plans Including Extra Features

The annual Ruritan Bowl football game to be played at Cox Stadium on the night of October 21 will pit two evenly matched eleven in the E. C. Glass team of Lynnhaven and the Cavaliers of Princess Anne.

Sponsored by the Princess Anne Ruritan Club, the upcoming contest looks as a natural. Both teams have shown much strength this season.

On a comparative score basis the two clubs are fairly close. Glass played defending champion Norview to a 7 to 7 standoff and the Cavaliers lost a close 6 to 0 decision to the Pirates.

Several key players lead the Cavalier attack. They have two hard running backs in Doug Miller and Gary Boyd. Boyd is the more spectacular but Miller is the "bread and butter" man in the Cavalier backfield.

Anchoring the huge Princess Anne line is Captain James J. Jones. He has been a bulwark on defense and offense. Charles Boyce at end is another standout performer for the Cavaliers.

Princess Anne has won only one game in four but this record does not tell the story. The Cavaliers lost 12 to 0 to a high flying Great Bridge team, 6 to 0 to Norview, and 13 to 7 to Granby. They whipped Churchland 18 to 6 last week.

The Ruritans are preparing a colorful pre-game ceremony for the bowl game and many added features are being planned.

Kickoff time for the game is 8 p.m.

Three Skippers Share Honors In Sail Races

J. P. Powell, Ray Fretz and Mac Newton showed the way last Sunday in the weekly sailing races of the Broad Bay Sailing Association. In the first come race Powell finished first followed in order by Fretz and Ray Newton. In the second race in this class Fretz was first with Newton second and Powell third.

In the two Penguin races the finish was the same with Mac Newton, first, Bill Mayo second and Derek Eddleston third. Newton had high points of eight for the day.

Virginia Beach Drops Close Decision to James Blair After Leading Most of Way; Face Suffolk This Week

Virginia Beach's Seahawks ran out of steam last Friday night and lost to James Blair by a 20 to 12 score after holding a one touch-down lead late in the third period. The game was close throughout and the teams went to the dressing room at halftime with score knotted at 6 to 6. The Seahawks scored in the opening period when Charlie Reed plunged one yard for the marker. An attempted run for the extra point failed.

Blair pushed over a score late in the second quarter and failed to convert the extra point attempt. Thus, it was all tied up at the half.

Virginia Beach moved to a 12 to 6 lead in the third period on another Reed touchdown. But they were enroute to a third score in the same period but the opposition stiffened and the Seahawks were held at the Blair two-yard line.

Blair then scored a touchdown late in the third period on a five-yard run by quarterback Wade Chestnut. Charlie Johnson's kick for the extra point was good and Blair took a 13 to 12 lead.

In the final period Blair's Dickie Thompson put the game out of reach for the Seahawks when he galloped 50 yards for a score. Charlie Reed scored both of the Seahawk touchdowns and was the outstanding player for the losers. The line score:

Virginia Beach ... 6 0 6 0—12
James Blair ... 0 6 6 0—12

VB—Reed 1 run (run failed).
Blair—Campbell 15 pass from Chestnut (run failed).
Blair—Chestnut 5 run (run failed).
Blair—Thompson 50 run (Johnson kick).
Beach—Reed 5 run (run failed).

P.A. Hi School Sports

By Reid Ervin
PRINCESS ANNE — The Cavaliers of Princess Anne, making the most of Churchland's mistakes, won their first game last Friday night, 13-7.

The first touchdown resulted from a 35-yard march following a Churchland fumble in the second quarter.

In the third quarter the Cavaliers intercepted a Churchland pass, fighting to the Trunkers' four-yard line, only to lose the ball on downs. A few plays later Herbert Culppepper recovered a fumble on Churchland's two. Doug Miller made the score with Gary Boyd adding the extra point.

Led by Halfback M. D. Hathaway, the Trunkers moved 80 yards in the final period to score a TD. Churchland was soon on the march again, when Gary Boyd intercepted a pass and returned to the Trunkers' five. A chain of penalties by Princess Anne averted the scoring threat.

Statistics	Churchland	PA
First downs	7	7
Rushing Yardage	107	150
Passing Yardage	64	24
Passes	6	5
Passes Intercepted by	1	2
Punts	3-28	5-21

Cross Country

The Cross Country Team of Princess Anne is in an excellent position this year to be district and possible state champions.

Coch Bernie Shields says he is very confident in winning the Eastern District Title. Last year's six lettermen which include Dough Hall, George Green, Mills Rowe, Ronnie Copeland, Reid Ervin, and David Fox are all returning this year. This is the same group that placed third in district last year. The addition of Bill Castle and Bill Perringer make the team look especially strong. Riley Casagway, Wayne Smith, and Ernest Hargrove are also expected to add to the team's strength.

In Cross Country each team gets the number of points in the order that its first five members place. The team with the lowest score wins.

Thunderbird Bowlers Begin To Hit Stride

The Thunderbird Bowl traveling team finally approached its full potential last Sunday when it took the powerful Miracle Lanes five to the cleaners by sweeping the match from the visitors and knocked them out of contention for the league lead.

Competing without the services of Lee Amundson and John Chisholm, two of their big guns, the local legions threw Art Lalmisch and Clyde Smith into the breach with outstanding results. This was Art's initial entry into traveling league competition but from all indications he is the spate needed to put the Virginia Beach team on top. After many years of stiff competition, Art is unimpressed by averages and can hold his own with the best in the country. And although Clyde Smith is comparatively new to competition of this calibre, his 500 series bested the top score of the opposing team and placed him among the top averages. Dick Snyder, who rolled a 683 in the Thunderbird Major League for the second highest series in Thunderbird Bowl history, came through with a 568. Hank Hickey's 576 was top for both teams.

Next Sunday the Virginia Beach legions take on the formidable Zales/Rust team at Pin Path and have hopes of knocking them out of first place and thereby establish themselves as contenders for top league honors. The public is cordially invited to attend the match, starting at 2:00 p.m., and help bring their team home a winner.

Name That Name

Mrs. Wilkins, our kindergarten teacher, told me this one about her first day of class.

"To get acquainted with the new children," she said, "I go around the classroom and ask them to recite their names."

"What's your name?" I asked one little boy, "Freddie," was the reply. "You mean Frederick," I said, "We use only our proper names in class." So when I asked the next little boy what his name was, he stood up proudly and answered, "Boberick, ma'am!"

From where I sit, Bobby reminds me of folks who think what's right for one must be right for another. For instance, my neighbor used to scoff at my having a good glass of beer with supper. He believed that only coffee was proper. Truth is, a mealtine beverage, like most other things, is purely a matter of personal preference. When we can respect the other fellow's opinion as well as our own, we'll have passed the first "Lesson" in tolerance.

FIRST...

Renault has been FIRST in imported car sales in Tidewater for months on end ... a pretty good indication that your neighbors are sold on the Dauphine. Renault was the FIRST major manufacturer to produce a car that consistently gives up to 40 mpg ... and so far it's the only one that can do it. Renault is FIRST in imported car service ... a regional service school and a regional parts center in Norfolk assure you of unmatched service for your Renault.

LAST...

Contrary to the policy of some automobile manufacturers, the Dauphine is built to LAST. After you pass the 50,000 mile mark you will begin to wonder if your Dauphine ever needs repairs. All parts are built to LAST. Your Dauphine will rarely be in the shop because of parts failure.

ALWAYS...

The Dauphine has ALWAYS been acclaimed for its graceful styling ... it's design is so basically beautiful that it retains its look of newness year after year. You can count on your Dauphine to take you wherever you want to go, whenever you want to go there.

Little League Grid Program Here Underway

The Virginia Beach Midget
League, sponsored by the Virginia Beach Recreation Department, got its football season off to a blazing start Saturday morning as Coach
Al Gregg's Blue Devils trounced
the Bulldogs of Coach Bob O'Brien, 14-0. The scoring for the Blue Devils was distributed evenly as Steve Mundy and Max Wiley each scored a touchdown. Charles Di-Pinto ran over for both extra points. Bob McLain, Mike Hallock, John Donahue, and Bob Nixon were all outstanding defensively for the Blue Devils. The outstanding players for the Bulldogs were Jimmy Maher and Terry Woods.
In the second game of the morning Coach Harrell Copeland's Hornets defeated the Wolfpack of Coach John Dennis 13-0. Mike
Hates was the big gun for the Hornets as he personally accounted for all the Hornets' scoring. The diminutive scabbard scampered 22 yards around right end for the first touchdown. The other tally resulted from an intercepted pass which Bates ran back 50 yards.
Coach Copeland had nothing but praise for all of his boys, naming Tommy Biolin, Roy Ramsey, Mike Doolin, and Mike Edwards as the defensive standouts.

All games in the Virginia Beach
Midget League are played in the Virginia Beach Memorial Stadium
each Saturday morning. The public is invited to attend and support the high school players of tomorrow.

Club Observes 16th Birthday

The Ocean Park Women's Club celebrated its 16th birthday at a luncheon Wednesday at the Black Angus Restaurant at 12:30 p.m.
with the president, Mrs. A. F.
White presiding.

The president introduced the guest who included Mrs. J. B.
Stant, President of Lake Shores
Club, Mrs. H. O. Freeman, President of Cape Henry Club, Mrs. W.
J. Ives, President of Little Creek Club, Mrs. R. F. Humphries, President of Kempsville Club.

Mrs. C. A. Farmer, Vice-President and Program Chairman introduced the guest speaker Mr. R.
V. Hancock, Assistant Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Mr. Hancock told the club that at the present time, we are experiencing the greatest crime wave in history. It has increased every year since World War II. Since 1950 there has been a sixty-nine percent increase. From 1940 a one hundred twenty-eight percent increase. People are not conscious of this unless it hits home. There is one murder every hour, one robbery every seven minutes and one burglary or larceny every twenty-three seconds.

Youths of seventeen and under are our main violators.

The FBI is most proud of the cooperative functions they assist in conducting police schools.
In the Identification Department there are one hundred fifty-six million sets of prints. Twenty thousand per day.

Mr. Hancock urged that every one report any crime you come across. There are not enough law enforcement officers and FBI needs the cooperation of the public to do away with crime.

Mrs. Michael announced that a
"Come As You Were When You Were Shipwrecked" Party in addition to music, games, other entertainment, there will be a "White Elephant Sale" and a "Food Sale."
The event will be the club fund raising project of the year.

This will be held October 28th from 8 p.m. until, in the Club Room of the Ocean Park Fire Department.

Mrs. W. H. Garner, Chairman of the American Home Department, announced that the next meeting would be held October 26th and the members would take a Conservation Tour of the State Park.

Two new members were introduced by Mrs. W. H. Twiford.

A law recently enacted in Wisconsin exempts trained dogs who serve as working guides to blind owners from both dog license fees and taxes, according to the American Foundation for the Blind.

Linkhorn Park Garden Club meets
The first fall meeting of the Linkhorn Park Garden Club was held on Friday, October 7th, at the home of Mrs. L. B. Gore on Holladay Road. A flower arranging clinic was conducted by Mrs. Malcolm Todd, Jr. The members furnished their own containers and materials.
Mrs. Todd instructed and assisted them in making arrangements.

A stamp-saving game that American children get paid for playing

Today, thousands of American youngsters are buying U. S. Savings Bonds by saving 10¢ and 25¢ Savings Stamps each week. Stamps are sold at many schools, through the Treasury's School Savings Program and at most Post Offices. And as the stamp books are filled, they can be exchanged for full-fledged Bonds.

While they save for Bonds, these children are learning lessons in good citizenship and thrift. And at the same time they're helping keep the peace.

Here's how an eight-year school savings program works:

If they save this much each week	Bonds Collected	Total Saved	Value at maturity
25c	4	$75.00	$100.00
50c	8	$150.00	$200.00

Why not get your children in the saving habit early with U. S. Bonds? If your school doesn't have a Savings Stamp program just write for information to your Savings Bonds State Director, or to the Savings Bond Division, U. S. Treasury Department, Washington 25, D. C.

... and a special note to grownups
about U. S. Savings Bonds:

You can save automatically with the Payroll Savings Plan

You now earn 3 1/2% interest to maturity.

You invest without risk under a U. S. Government guarantee.

Your money can't be lost or stolen.

You can get your money, with interest, anytime you want it.

Poll Results Are Indicative

This week the Sun-News publishes the results of its first post card poll in the current hot presidential campaign, and both the number of cards returned and the result of the voting is significant.

A total of 100 post cards were mailed to individuals at random from the subscription files of the newspaper. The cards were not to be signed and the voter was merely asked to place an X in the square opposite the name of the presidential candidate of his choice.

The poll resulted in 30 cards being returned out of the original 100 mailed and 20 of the cards were marked for Senator John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential candidate, and 10 were marked for Vice-President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican nominee.

This was the first week of the Sun-News poll. Each week until the election on November 8 cards will be mailed. We believe polls of this type do tend to give some idea of the thinking of the voter.

It might be said that all of the cards in our first poll were mailed to individuals, who reside in the City of Virginia Beach. In the weekly mailings to follow residents of Princess Anne County will be receiving these cards.

Many of the national polls of late have indicated that Senator Kennedy is gaining ground and the latest survey of one of these well-known polls shows that he is running ahead of the Republican candidate.

Of course, the real test will come at the ballot box on November 8, but we do feel that polls such as we are conducting here give an indication of the feelings of the voters.

The first week of the Sun-News poll gives Senator Kennedy a 2 to 1 edge over Vice-President Nixon. It will be interesting to follow the weekly results.

UCF Fund Drive Begins Monday

The annual United Communities Fund campaign will officially begin next Monday morning and is scheduled to continue through October 28. This fine community effort has met with success for an unbroken number of years and has set an example not duplicated in many areas and certainly not surpassed anywhere in the United States.

This worthy campaign is giving "The United Way" and tends to eliminate each agency conducting its own drive for funds throughout the year. The United Communities Fund supports 54 individual agencies.

It is true that the original idea of the United Funds, or Community Funds, was to eliminate so many individual drives throughout the year. However, there are still some other fund campaigns but this is due to the growth of various worthy organizations. In most cases these drives are conducted on a small scale and individual contributions are relatively small. The United Fund is the one big, overall campaign that benefits the majority of organizations.

Several years ago Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County joined in with its sister communities to form the present United Communities Fund. It has meant greater services for this area and has resulted in a better coordinated effort in the campaign.

We urge our citizens to give the United Communities Fund their full support. It is a most worthwhile project and all workers are your fellow citizens and are volunteering their services. Give the United Way next week when you are solicited.

STRENGTH FOR YOUR DAYS

I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord.—(Psalm 122:1)

With joy and thankfulness should we enter the house of God... to confess our sins and beseech His mercy... to give thanks for His goodness to us and to ask His continued blessing upon us... to study His teachings and dedicate ourselves to walking in the way He would have us go.

P.A. TRAINING SCHOOL NEWS

By Linwood Holsley

The Princess Anne Tigers began their annual football competition on September 16 at Huntington High School. Practice began earlier, with all old members returning. The Tigers made their debut in the Group I via and the inaugural season as expected, with Huntington triumphing 33-7. Nevertheless, Mr. Goss, with his assistants determined to prove that their major problems were mended, defeated Northampton 30-7. On Friday, September 30, the Tigers played the East Suffolk Wolverines being defeated 13-0. On October 7, the mighty Tigers played Accomack. Howard Smith, half-back, Bernard, tackle, and Percell Gregory, end, were all confident that they would be victorious over Accomack. Howard Smith, scored one touchdown, and Platt one with Greene the other for a 20-12 decision. The cheering squad members Mary Henry, Capt., Linwood Holsley, with Maud Uzzle, Delores Jefferson, Velma Cross, Margie Harold, Stella Harding, Kathalia Drake, Pat Wilson, Joyce Tompkins, Dollie Moore, Ethel Haynes, Carolyn Haynes and John Haynes went with the team to cheer them to victory. The Tigers will take on Booker T. of Norfolk, on Friday, October 14 at Booker T. The game starts at 8:00 p.m.

The Student Council members elected to office for the year are: President, Charles Brockett, Vice-President, Naomi Wright, Secretary, Stella Harding, Assistant Secretary, Linwood Holsley, Treasurer, and Reporter, and Joyce Tompkins, Chaplain. The Council members are working on a plan which will give them complete control of all activities in the school. The initiation of all eighth graders began on October 3 and continued through Friday, October 7. They are also working on the bulletin board next to the door of the auditorium which will remain a permanent board for all work of the Student Council.

The Student of the Week is another project of the Council members. This is to see what students are putting their best efforts forward in student participation in the school. Some of the basic requirements for becoming Student of the Week are dress, conduct in the hall, conduct in the cafeteria, at activities, attitude toward the school, and scholastic ability. It is hoped by the Council members that everyone will set his standards high so that he may become Student of the Week.

The Dramatic Club has not held its initial organization meeting as of yet, but it does plan a number of activities this year. One of its first projects will be directed toward programs which will help toward the purchasing of new stage furniture to be used for plays and the like.

It is the hope of the advisor, Miss H. L. Goodman, that many students will take an active interest in the Dramatic Club this year. She would especially like to have more boys become interested in drama and acting.

The Student body welcomes two new members to its faculty Robert Lee Barco, physical education coordinator from Virginia Union and Mrs. Beatrice Greene of Chicago. Students who want to purchase the school T-shirt, $1.25, small, $1.50 large; cap $1.95; jackets, $3.50 and $4.50 may see Miss Daughtry or Mr. Siler in their respective classrooms. Until next week I leave with you. "He that will not be counseled cannot be helped." — Thomas Fuller.

Mercury Moves Into Low Price Automobile Field

Prices of the 1961 Mercury start at $2,417 a major reduction from the lowest priced 1960 Mercury, according to J. R. Alphin, President, Alphin Motors, Inc. This is $214 below the lowest priced 1960 Mercury. The decrease becomes even greater—$290—when the two models are equipped with radio, heater, while sideview mirrors and automatic transmission.

"The lowest priced Mercury for 1961 is the Meteor 600 two-door sedan with a six-cylinder engine," Mr. Alphin said. "It has a suggested retail price of $2,417. The suggested retail price in the vehicle price shown on the price label affixed to each car, it does not include state and local taxes or transportation charges which vary from location to location."

"The 1961 Mercurys include two new series, the Meteor 600 and the Meteor 800 which are priced to compete with the middle and the top series of the low-priced field," Mr. Alphin said. "The Monterey is the top series in the 1961 Mercury lineup. The new Mercurys are on display now at Alphin Motors, Inc. All optional equipment that people buy most often is priced lower than last year," Mr. Alphin said. "The suggested retail price for the Mercury push-button radio is $65.00, down $21 from last year. Automatic transmission for the V-8 is $189.00, down $41.70; power steering $81.70, down $24.50, and heater and defroster $75.10, down $36.00."

In addition to its V-8 engines, for 1961 Mercury offers a six-cylinder engine for the first time. The new Mercurys include such cost-saving features as extension by the dealers of their warranty to 12 months or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first, and 30,000-mile chassis lubrication; Mr. Alphin said.

These questions are being asked Quakers and others interested in world peace. "Do you live in the life and power that takes away the occasion of all wars? Do you seek to take your part in the ministry of reconciliation between individuals, groups and nations? Do you faithfully maintain our testimony against military training and other preparation for war and against participation in war as inconsistent with the spirit and teaching of Christ?"

The hydrogen bomb has thrown its sinister shadow over the earth. That shadow stands for fear, for retaliation, for the infliction of suffering, for hatred, for death. Again, as in 1960, Friends reaffirm "We utterly deny all outward wars and strife, and fightings with outward weapons, for any end, or under any pretense whatsoever; and this is our testimony to the whole world. . . . The Spirit of Christ by which we are guided is not changeable, so as once to command us from a thing as evil, and again to move unto it; and we do maintain our testimony to the world, that the Spirit of Christ, which leads us into all truth, will never move us to fight, and war against any man with outward weapons, neither for the Kingdom of Christ nor for the kingdoms of this world. . . . Therefore, we cannot learn war anymore."

Interested people are invited to come.

"One Foot In Hell," a gun-scorched western with a unique and surprising twist to it, filmed in CinemaScope and DeLuxe Color, a Twentieth Century-Fox release starring Alan Ladd, Don Murray, Dan O'Herlihy with Dolores Michaels and Barry Corbin open Sunday at the Beach Theatre.

"A man's wife dies in childbirth and for years afterwards he plans revenge on those whose misunderstanding and failure to help contributed to the tragedy. He builds himself a respectable reputation in the town. He then organizes a gold robbery, under cover of which all his enemies will be killed. But he oversteps himself when he tries to eliminate his confederates in the robbery, and is killed himself while trying to kill the last two."

Sidney Boehm produced and James B. Clark directed this fast paced action piece about a man whose wife is killed by the ignorance and neglect of townspeople and his intense and hate-filled effort to avenge her death.

Interested people are invited to come.

PRINCESS ANNE HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

By CAROLYN JENNINGS
Phone KI 5-1127

As Princess Anne High School moves well into the fall semester, the agenda has become crowded with club projects, athletic events, and scholastic and social plans for this school year. An air of enthusiasm and excitement build as the student body looks to the first big highlight of the school year, that of the homecoming game and festivities. Tomorrow night Princess Anne will meet Hampton with staunch confidence and rousing spirit. The prospects are good and the Cavaliers are looking forward to a homecoming victory.

Since the first homecoming at Princess Anne, a queen has been elected by the student body to reign over the weekend festivities. The homecoming events include the football game on Friday night, followed by a victory dance in the gymnasium, the Annual Alumni Banquet held Saturday evening, and finally a semi-formal dance on Saturday night. The plans for this year's homecoming weekend are being made under the direction of Joan Loftin and Gigi Lindon.

Five girls have been selected to be in the court, one of which has been elected, by the student body, to be the 1960 homecoming queen. The announcement of the queen is being withheld until the half-dance ceremonies, however, those nominated to run were, Moleen Craddock, Sandra Valentine, Susan Tobitt, Carole Lindsey, and Sharon Nichols.

Following the announcement of the queen, a procession of floats and cars will enter the stadium. These floats are sponsored by the various clubs and organizations of Princess Anne and are contending for the award given annually to the most outstanding float.

Of course, no homecoming would be complete without the performances of the band and drill team, and this year will be no exception. Both have prepared special performances for this occasion.

The sock hop, immediately following the game, has been planned by Edward Taylor and David Costes.

Also, a traditional event in the homecoming weekend is the Annual Alumni Banquet, this year honoring the graduate classes of 1947-1954. The Banquet will be held in the cafeteria at 7:00 p.m. Saturday. It is being sponsored by the Future Teachers' Club, under the direction of Sharon Nichols and Juanita Wheeler.

Completing the weekend of homecoming will be the semi-formal dance, starting at 9 p.m. Saturday night. This 1960 Princess Anne Homecoming promises to be the most fabulous one yet, and from a quick glance at the preparations, it definitely should be!

The WGH disc jockeys have chosen Carole Lindsey as the Princess Anne High School correspondent to appear on their Teen Time program. She will collect the news pertaining to school activities and present it on this program.

In addition to this position, Carole is secretary of the Inter-Club Council and president of the Coronet Tri-Hi-Y.

The Cavalier band has elected David Costes captain of the "A" Band for this school year. During his three years in the band, David, now a senior, has become the possessor of several medals which he has obtained through his musical ability. He was also a member of the 1960 state band. The other officers of the band include Stuart Clarke, who has been elected co-captain; Cathy Woody, secretary-treasurer; Mike Zaborsky, Drill Sgt.; Nancy Evans is the new band majorette; and Leany Flanigan is Drum Major.

This year will be a busy one for the band which has already begun its activities. There are the annual concerts, the football games, and the parades, not to mention the trips and other plans of the band. On Oct. 8, the band marched in its first parade of the year, the Oyster Bowl parade and opened its marching season. Nov. 11, at the Wilson game and on Nov. 12, at the Norfolk Naval Base, in the annual Fire Prevention Parade, the band will also appear. The band has, in addition to its constant practice, taken an active part in the pep rallies and football games in order to boost school spirit and support the team.

The P.A. band, under the direction of Mr. G. L. Bailey, is an institution which Princess Anne may well be proud of, because of the countless hours it devotes to the school and its functions.

The new staff of the Princess Anne Page has been organized. The school paper has gotten off to a good start, both issues selling well and at this point, appearing quite successful. Under the direction of the new advisor, Mr. Boyd Harrier, increased circulation figures, and advertisement in the paper is both noticeable and quite encouraging to the staff who plan to print 18 issues of the "Page" this year.

On the business staff are Sandy Alford, Pat Marr and LaVerne Casper under Business Manager, Carol Euler. Circulation managers are Roger Provo and Opal Taylor. The members of the circulation staff are: Barbara Moore, Loretta McIntyre, Clarice Bartel, Patricia Pleviak, Betty Folks, Joyce Morgan and Jean Marcin. And as Sales Manager, Dave Jensen, with the sales staff, Suzanne Kelly, Amelia Cole, and Betty Folks.

The Ninth National FBLA Convention, held in the Princess Anne Chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America as a Gold Seal Chapter, because of its outstanding activities in school and community relations. Out of the 2100 chapters in America, only 122 received this award.

Miss Helen Gresham is the sponsor of this organization and the newly elected president and vice-president are Joan Joyce and Nancy Evans, respectively. Other officers have not been chosen as yet.

Williamsburg will be the destination of the senior class as they go on their annual trip. On Saturday, October 15, the seniors will begin their day in Jamestown, moving on to the campus of the college of William and Mary in Williamsburg, after lunch. That afternoon, seats have been reserved for members of the class to view William and Mary's homecoming game against V.P.I.

"Free World Security" will be this year's topic of discussion. The Virginia High School League will present these resolutions: (1) The North Atlantic Treaty Organization should be transformed into a federal government, (2) That the United Nations should initiate a federal world government. And, on this subject the outstanding Princess Anne Debate team will begin its arguments. Dion Meek and Conrad Shumadine are representing the negative team, and after winning the state championship, last year, are looking for another successful year. The affirmative team, placing second in the state, consist of Jim Dodson and Carol Calinda. It looks like another good year for the P.A. Debaters.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Glenn Smith and young daughter, Lee Ramsay, have arrived from Memphis, Tenn., and are living temporarily with Mrs. Smith's mother, Mrs. James B. McCaw Jr., on 64th Street.

Tommy Gwaltney Records Album

Tommy Gwaltney, well-known local musician and producer of the successful Virginia Beach Jazz Festival, returned from New York this week after recording an album of jazz from the Kansas City days. It's due for release sometime next year.

Featuring some of the country's finest jazz musicians, the master tape recording of the set will be spotlighted in a special preview program, "Let's Make An Album," to be heard this Sunday (October 16) from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. over WBOF, and this Wednesday (October 19) from 8:00 to 8:30 p.m. over WYFF-FM.

In addition to playing most of the sides from the master recording, the program will trace back to how the album was initially conceived, written and finally produced.

Commenting on the just recently completed project, Gwaltney said, "If you look back into the history of music, you will find that only in the past ten years or so has the true significance of Kansas City in the development of jazz become fully apparent. We felt that some of the great tunes of those stomping and swinging Kansas City days of jazz should be revived."

"However, I'm for improvement," he continued, "so we tried to stay up to date with certain progressions and modern sounds in these new arrangements, yet we didn't change the feel of the old ones."

Billed as "Tommy Gwaltney and his Kansas City Jazz Band," the album features just well-known musicians like Buck Clayton on trumpet; Tommy Newsome, formerly from Portsmouth, on tenor saxophone; Dickie Wells, trombone; Charlie Byrd, guitar; Whitey Mitchell, bass; John Bunch, piano, and Gwaltney on alto saxophone, clarinet, vibraphone and xylophone. Arrangements were by Gwaltney and Newsome.

Co-featured on this special program is WBOF's Bob Ches, an associate of Gwaltney's on a number of local music projects including the Virginia Beach Jazz Festival and the Colley Theatre History of Jazz series.

NEWS FOR VETERANS

Some disabled World War II veterans may now be eligible for schooling or other training under a bill which has just gone into effect.

The Vocational Rehabilitation Act for disabled veterans of WW II, responsible for restoring thousands of gainful occupation whose service incurred disabilities prevented return to pre-war occupations, ended July 25th of this year. As to be expected in any program of such wide scope, many such badly disabled veterans missed out on training due to reasons beyond their control.

Now the deadline to complete training in these special cases has been extended four years to July 25, 1964. These exceptional cases are:

1. WW II veterans whose disabilities prevented them from entering or completing training before the original program ended.
2. Those whose original discharge was under conditions other than honorable, but whose type of separation was later changed to an honorable status.
3. Those for whom service-connected disability preventing normal occupation was not established in time to begin and complete vocational training.

This office has more complete details for interested veterans who may qualify under any of the above provisions.

For help, contact Thomas A. Moore, Area Director, Division of War Veterans' Claims, 305 McKenney Bldg., 203 East City Hall Ave., Norfolk 10, Virginia.

'Sabrina Fair' Opening Play At Little Creek

Mrs. Ethel Brown has the combined skills of actress and director to assist her in the November presentation of "Sabrina Fair," the first play of the Little Creek Players 11th season.

Mrs. Brown, director of this four-act comedy by Samuel Taylor, is the wife of Navy Capt. C. W. Brown, Commanding Officer of the Naval Air Reserve Training Unit at the Norfolk Air Station.

She is the former Miss Ethel Callaway and the daughter of Mrs. David R. Locher (father deceased) of 1511 Ocean Dr., Corpus Christi, Tex. While living in Texas, Mrs. Brown took part in "Books Bring Adventure," a summer radio series for children sponsored by the Junior League, and also acted in "Little Women" and "Aren't We All," plays presented by the Corpus Christi Playhouse, and was in the cast of a San Antonio little theater production of "The Merchant of Venice."

LITTLE LEAGUE FOOTBALL IN FULL SWING AT FORT STORY

Another twin bill headlined Little League Football at Fort Story on Saturday afternoon as the Bulldogs downed the Rams 25 to 18 in the first contest and the Stallions rolled over the Bobcats by a 19 to 7 score in the closer.

In the opener, young Doug Fisher of the Bulldogs scored a TD in each stanza of the first half, both of them on pitch-outs from Duncan Collins, one for 60 yards and the other for 15 yards, and then made two fine end runs of 25 and 45 yards in the fourth quarter for TDs. Collins made the only Bulldozer conversion with an end run in the second frame.

The Rams tallied their markers in the second quarter when Clarence Kelly pitched out to Tom Baskin for a 4-yard TD and in the third quarter when Kelly took the kickoff on his own ten and faved the balance of the Little League 60 yard field for a TD. Kelly then followed with a pass to Baskin for 15 yards to end the Rams scoring at 18 and shy of the Bulldogs 25.

Scotty Richards of the Stallions opened up the second game with a spectacular run for more than 80 yards as he took the kickoff in his own end and scampered the full distance for the initial score. Ross Killen, who was later injured in the contest, converted with an end run. In the second quarter Richard scooped around his end for another 35 yard run and the second Stallion score. He capped the day's performance in the fourth frame when he received a punt on his own 33-yard line and again was away for a 64-yard tally to up the Horseman's score to 19 points.

The Bobcats only score came in the last two minutes of play, when Tommy Ringley scored in with a pass to Billy Caban, who ran 15 yards for the tally. Caban then converted with an end run to total the Bobcats at 7.

Outstanding on defensive action in the second contest were: Bill Pope, John Blankenship and "Tank" Hicks.

FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS

What To Do When Someone 'Hates' You

By C. D. Smith

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "I am a junior in high school, and I have one problem which is the most serious problem that I have ever tried to cope with. It's a sophomore girl who says she hates me! From what she has been doing, I'm beginning to believe her. When I'm talking to someone, male or female, she comes up and makes some snippy remark or shoves me into someone. Whenever I'm talking to this girl, she does, but I won't go into that. I have ignored her this long, but don't know how long I can stand it."

"A Girl Who Needs Help."

OUR ANSWER: Shoving people, making snippy remarks and "hating" someone, for no reason, are things that we associate with kindergarten! Adolescents who indulge in this sort of activity are usually making a bid for attention—without realizing that, while they do get this attention, they actually make themselves unpopular with other children. Teenagers—sophomores and juniors in high school—should be above this sort of child's play. Many of them are not, of course, and we must admit it.

We would ask our letter writer one question: Why does this girl "hate" you? Have you talked her? Or do you know without talking? There lies the problem. The fact that she does these unnecessary things cannot be shrugged aside with the thought that she merely "hates" you. Find her reason for feeling this way and you are a longer way down the road to doing something about the situation.

If you have followed the policy of ignoring this girl and it has gotten you nowhere, then take a more direct approach to the situation. If you don't know why she dislikes you, ask her. Talk to her about it. If you can. Reason with her.

Try kindness and friendliness. Enlist the aid of your friends. But above all, admit you have a problem, and take some positive steps to do something about it.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, NATIONAL WEEKLY NEWSPAPER SERVICE, FRANKFORD, KY.

Beach and County TEEN SCENE

By Charley Oop

This week on Teen Scene there happens to be no traveling or anyone visiting here. School must be the reason. However, next week Gary Kiahn leaves with his mother for Europe and three months schooling over there. His father is in the Navy stationed in Italy.

Teenager Of The Week
 This week's Teenager of the Week is Carolyn Baer. Carolyn is a transfer student from Country Day.

Carolyn is a fine student. She is also one of the few people to make junior varsity cheerleader out of many contestants.

Carolyn has a grand personality and is known by any freshman. We wish great success for Carolyn.

This song has hit the top two weeks in a row. Pushing "Chain Gang" hard is "Save the Last Dance for Me" by the Drifters. Mary Johnson is keeping his "Move Two Mountains" in the top five. "Walk, Don't Run" is still in the top five songs. Coming up very fast is "New Orleans" which I picked last week as Pop for the Top.

Calendar Of Events
 Virginia Beach High School plays the Suffolk Red Raiders at the Virginia Beach stadium Friday night. The game starts at 8 o'clock. See you there.

Top 'N' Pops

Beach Theater Presents Gina Lollobrigida

Gina Lollobrigida, as a modern day merry widow looking for a marriageable male, returns to the screen in Columbia Pictures' "Fast and Sexy," co-starring Dale Robertson and Vittorio De Sica in color by Technicolor and Technirama at the Beach Theater.

Moderately wealthy and altogether lovely, Gina returns to her native village in Italy, from Brooklyn, ostensibly to recover from her bereavement but carefully keeping an eye open for her next matrimonial prospect. Naturally, she immediately becomes the alluring target of the town's several bachelors: those with an eye out for Gina as a meal ticket, as well as those more romantically inclined. They intrigue, and even the village priest, De Sica, is pressured to play a sort of tricked Cupid.

One local lad, Dale Robertson, is the local Casanova and happy about it; he remains strictly indifferent to Gina's not inconsiderable charms, since those charms also involve a marriage ceremony. He, of course, is the one Gina decides she wants, and what Gina wants she ultimately, happily, gets.

The lovely Gina is said to be at her hip-swinging best in "Fast and Sexy," and she reportedly wears a stunning wardrobe calculated to enhance her famous beauty.

Dale Robertson is properly rugged, handsome and tactful as the be-man Gina yearns for, and De Sica, as the harassed priest who refuses to be turned into a matchmaker is said to be at his brilliant comedic best.

VIRGINIA BEACH III NEWS

By PAT WALLACE

This season the Virginia Beach High School Chorus under the direction of Mr. J. William Miller, will perform for various civic clubs and organizations in the community. The two major concerts for the year will be the Christmas Musical and the Spring Festival of Music. Both of these will be held at the high school and the public will be invited to attend. The chorus will also sing for school assemblies and at Thanksgiving and Easter.

Officers for the girl's chorus are President, Virginia Petty; Secretary, Toby Falconer; Treasurer, Pat Wallace; and Librarian, Pam Folck.

From the ninety-eight members of the chorus, sixty will be chosen for the mixed choir. The repertoire of the group includes scores from "The Music Man," "My Fair Lady," "Peter Pan," and a collection of numbers from Rodgers and Hammerstein as a tribute to the late lyricist.

Cheerleaders

This year's cheering squad looks to be one of the best ever. The cheerleaders are twelve strong, made up of three Seniors and nine of the Junior Class; so if youth makes a group peppy, the cheerleaders have a decided advantage. Their sponsor, Mrs. Claude King, started the girls off on the 15th of August at 7:45 in the morning. They worked hard every morning trying to learn over 40 cheers.

You have undoubtedly seen the attractive posters and signs in the halls announcing the coming games, again the work of the cheerleaders. So you can see that the girls we have elected are doing their job, and they are trying hard to please the students of V.B.H.S. Now it is our turn to support their efforts by yelling right along with them at football games.

Our hat goes off to Mrs. King and the cheerleaders—Diane Abbott, Captain; Gay Finley, Bonnie Hill, Paula Scarborough, Marilu Jard, Louise Rainey, Pam Folck, Hazel Tucker, Cindy Hansborough, Debbie Chappell, Toddy Garrison, and Betsy Keville.

Beach Bowl

On Friday, the chairman of the twenty-three Beach Bowl committees and sub-committees met to consolidate plans for the parade, crowning ceremonies and dancing. All of these will be held on Friday, October 21st. The crowning ceremony will be held at the half time of the homecoming game with Northampton High School.

Festivities for the day will begin in the afternoon with a parade starting at 17th Street and Baltic Avenue and traveling down Atlantic Avenue to 31st Street and back to the school.

Mike Thomas, as Parade Marshal, will be in charge of lining up the cars and floats in the parade. Each club and school organization will enter a car or float in competition for one of the cash awards given for originality, ingenuity, and attractiveness.

The main feature of the parade will be Queen Gay Finley's float, decorated by chairman Betty Wright, Betty Cadieux, Madge Merrick, Midge Merrick, Sarah Kilen, Pat Wallace, Mary Maddux, Ginger Mathias, Marilu Jard, Louise Rainey, Toby Falconer, Gay Riera.

A new attraction this year will be a live band for the dance in the gymnasium following the game. It is believed that the largest crowd of alumnae ever to attend a homecoming game will be present at the dance.

The Grace Decker quartet will play continuously from the end of the football game to the closing time. The price of tickets is fifty cents and they should be purchased early.

Trudy Kitchen

Mrs. Trudy Kitchen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Kitchen of Virginia Beach, spoke at Tappahannock High School last Saturday. The occasion was the Rappahannock Valley Student Cooperative Association District meeting.

Trudy, who was the Principal speaker, talked on "Triumph through Integrity" which is the S.C.A. theme for this year. As the Tidewater representative on the S.C.A. State Advisory Committee, she is one of the eight student leaders who are responsible for the functioning of the state of Virginia S.C.A.

It is understood that she was royally entertained over the weekend as a guest of the students and parents in the Tappahannock area.

NOTES FROM YOUR COUNTY AGENT

By E. R. "DICK" COCKRELL, JR.

LISTEN TO YOUR COUNTY AGENT

"Yeah, and then we spend $100,000 to build a gymnasium so they will get some exercise."

SMALL GRAIN SENDING TIME IS HERE

Small grain producers of Princess Anne County have been asking for information regarding varieties, fertilization, experimental yield data of small grain in south-eastern Virginia. In line with these requests, I have prepared an adapted experimental results for use in Princess Anne County.

OATS
The varieties of oats that are recommended for planting in Princess Anne County are Arlington, Atlantic, Full Grain, Full Wood, Lee, Victor Grain, Wood Grain, and Moore Grain. The time of planting is from now until October 25th, and the rate of seeding is from 2 to 2 1/2 bushels per acre. This plot yielded 30.80 bushels per acre, and the 1.79 acres above cost of fertilizer are $98.13.

BARLEY
The varieties that are recommended for the county are Davis, Dayton, Colonial 2 Hudson, Kenbar, and Wong. The time of planting is from October 10 to November 15. Fertilize the same as you would for oats, and seed at the rate of 1 1/2 to 2 bushels per acre.

WHEAT
The varieties recommended are Anderson, Atlas 66, Yorker 42-27, Seneca, Tayland, Taylor 46, and Thorne. The time of planting is from October 25 to November 15. Seed at the rate of 1 1/2 to 2 bushels per acre, and fertilize the same as you would for oats and barley.

Wheat Fertilization Summary
Last year a fertilization demonstration was conducted on Jennings Furlough's farm in Blackwater. Cooperating in this demonstration, with the Extension Service, were Dr. S. F. Thornton, Agronomist of Rostker Guano Co., Mr. W. C. Townsend, Agronomist for the Arcadium Nitrogen Division, and Mr. Irvin McCallan, of Farmers Fertilizer and Seed Corp. The purpose of this demonstration was to demonstrate the proper and recommended practices of wheat fertilization. Please keep in mind that this was a demonstration fertilization method, consisting of only one set of conditions, and cannot be considered as all inclusive.

The demonstration consisted of five plots, each 1.79 acres in size. The Atlas 66 variety was planted on November 6, 1959 at the rate of 2 bushels per acre. The pH was 5.7, phosphate was medium and the potash level was medium.

All five plots received the same amount of phosphate and potash. The cost of fertilizing each plot, with the exception of the plot receiving nitrogen only, was almost exactly the same. The difference was in the analysis of fertilizer and the time it was applied.

Plot number 1 was fertilized at seeding with 330 lbs. of 3-18-18 per acre. It was topped with nitrogen in the spring with 45.75 lbs. per acre, and gave a yield of 45.13 bushels per acre. The profit above the cost of fertilization on the 1.79 acres was $111.83.

Plot No. 2 was fertilized at seeding with 350 lbs. of 3-18-18 per acre, and received no nitrogen in the spring with 45.75 lbs. per acre, and gave a yield of 45.13 bushels per acre. The profit above the cost of fertilizer are $98.13.

Plot No. 3 was fertilized at seeding with 350 lbs. of 3-18-18 per acre, and received no nitrogen in the spring with 45.75 lbs. per acre, and gave a yield of 45.13 bushels per acre. The profit above the cost of fertilizer are $98.13.

Plot No. 4 was fertilized at seeding with 350 lbs. of 3-18-18 per acre, and received no nitrogen in the spring with 45.75 lbs. per acre, and gave a yield of 45.13 bushels per acre. The profit above the cost of fertilizer are $98.13.

Plot No. 5 was fertilized at seeding with 350 lbs. of 3-18-18 per acre, and received no nitrogen in the spring with 45.75 lbs. per acre, and gave a yield of 45.13 bushels per acre. The profit above the cost of fertilizer are $98.13.

From this demonstration we can see that it's not what you do but the time that you do it. Follow the recommended method of fertilization for more profits per acre.

WHAT VPI SAYS
I wrote to Bill Lewis, Extension Agronomist at VPI, regarding the results of the demonstration conducted in Blackwater. He replied that he was very interested in the results, and that he would be glad to see the results of the demonstration.

The purpose of this demonstration was to demonstrate the proper and recommended practices of wheat fertilization. Please keep in mind that this was a demonstration fertilization method, consisting of only one set of conditions, and cannot be considered as all inclusive.

The demonstration consisted of five plots, each 1.79 acres in size. The Atlas 66 variety was planted on November 6, 1959 at the rate of 2 bushels per acre. The pH was 5.7, phosphate was medium and the potash level was medium.

ing. Nitrogen, of course, would be a different acting material from this, and that would get response in the spring. "Bill sent me results of a 4-year fertilization experiment on wheat, and in the experiment, the nitrogen was kept constant in all cases, and the phosphate and potash varied. The phosphate and potash was applied in the fall, and the nitrogen applied in the spring as a topdressing."

As a result of this experiment, we can readily see the tremendous yield in relationship to the phosphate and potash applied in the fall of the year on wheat.

GRAIN BIN LOANS
There is still time to get a loan on storage bins to be erected this fall. Application must be made in the ASC Office of Princess Anne County, and approved before construction begins. Term of loans is 5 years at 4%. You may borrow up to 80% of the cost of bins, and bins dryers small enough to be connected to the bin, and 75% of the cost of large mobile dryers. If you are interested in a loan for grain bins and dryers, contact Mr. Norman Bell, Princess Anne ASC office manager.

DITCHING SIGNUP
The County ASC Commissioner has set an extra early sign-up period for applications for cost share in the open ditch drainage ponds, and tree planting this year. The period will be the last 2 weeks in October, the 17th through the 28th. If you want assistance on ditching, and don't know how much you need, come in and talk with the Soil Conservation Service men to get an idea. The ASC office will like to know how many cubic yards of dirt you will need moved when you apply.

Farm Problem is Really Complex Series of Problems
Many people view the billions of dollars worth of agricultural surplus held by the commodity credit corporation as the farm problem. But, this is only a symptom of the need for adjustment.

The goals of the farm problem is a perennially existing demand for production in combination with the rising cost of production and the resulting lower real income to many farmers.

Currently, it is estimated that production exceeds demand by 8%. There are indications that the disparity between supply and demand will become even greater in the 1960's. There is little likelihood that the domestic demand for agricultural products will change much in the near future. The only substantial increase in food consumption will come from the growth in population.

Farmers are continually bettering their production methods by such means as improved machinery, livestock feeding practices, fertilizers, pesticides, and so forth. These improvements have tended to the contrary demand. There are new technologicals have had the effect of increasing the total output of farm products. Not only is there an excess of capacity, but this capacity is growing rapidly.

It might appear to the casual observer that the farmer individually ought to do more to adjust to the consumer demand. There are several good reasons why he finds this difficult. He cannot, alone, influence the total output, a higher percent of his total cost of goods that he must produce in order to pay them, here is a lack of knowledge among many farm people as to opportunities for non-farm employment, as well as efficiency in training for non-farm jobs, and there are few alternative uses for farm land.

Yet, farmers have been making adjustments. Since 1950, the number of farms has been declining about 100,000 per year. Crop land harvesting has been reduced to nearly the same acreage as in 1910. The number of farm workers has decreased by nearly 3,000,000 since 1960, or about 30%.

At the same time the per capita income for farm people in the United States averaged below $1,000 during each of the last 5 years. One fourth of this income was from non-farm sources in 1950 compared with 1/3 now. Non-farmers income per person has recently exceeded $2,000 per year. In 1960, the per-person income of farm people was 53% of that of non-farmers. In 1960, it was only 43%.

The farm problem concerns not only individual farmers, but also society as a whole. The impact of adjustment is found not only in the rural community, but also among those who live in urban areas and settle in urban areas. We need to consider such factors as participation in community activities, welfare problems, delinquency, as well as the impact on schools.

The goal set this year for the UCF is $1,389,510. These funds will go to 40 local programs and 12 national organizations. National agencies have been allocated $28,507 of the total goal.

Princess Anne County, Virginia Beach, South Norfolk, Norfolk County and the City of Norfolk are the areas covered by the United Communities Fund.

Mr. Henry B. Caldwell, and several other local dignitaries, will officially open the Second Annual Antique Show and Sale, sponsored by the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County, at the Convention Center at 12 noon on the 20th of October.

The Women of the Club have worked very hard over the past year in order to bring a bigger and better show to Virginia Beach, and Mrs. B. B. ## KENNEDY TRAILS BY ONE VOTE IN LATEST FIGURES

Clement Urges Democrats To Get To Work

Former Tennessee Gov. Frank G. Clement told more than 650 Democratic Party followers last Thursday night in the Convention Center here that Democrats the country over must "do some old time" political work between now and November 8 to insure the election of a Democratic president.

The fiery Clement, after a quiet opening, took off his coat and began in earnest to fire up the Democrats gathered at the $10 per plate dinner.

Clement told his audience, "If you're faint of heart, or a Republican, now is the time to leave." Clement said that the religious issue was bothering a lot of people in Tennessee, and he suspected as much in Virginia. "I'm a Protestant and I'm a Methodist," he said, "and I know that John Kennedy is a Catholic. I give you my word he believes in separation of church and state just as we do."

He said that Kennedy has expressed again and again his position that he would resign as president if his religion should conflict with his duty. He said it and it became a theme because I know he is an honest man," Clement said.

Clement said the domestic issues shows the big difference between Democrats and Republicans. He said the GOP can make claims, "but all I know is that the Democrats always do more for the people."

To Visit

Another Nixon card said: "Because of Lodge's U.N. role." Still another Nixon follower stated: "This is my preference as of today and at present I don't see any signs that will change my mind."

The Kennedy people had this to say about their candidate. One said: "We need more work for the poor people. Maybe he can help."

Another Kennedy rooster stated: "TV series took a lot of courage for both men."

A third Kennedy supporter said: "Let's face it, who else?" This week another 100 post cards will be mailed by the Sun-News and the results will be published next week.

Here is the score for the two-week period with Kennedy holding a lead over Nixon of 33 to 24 votes. The first week was Kennedy 20, Nixon 10, and the second week was Kennedy 13, Nixon 14.

SURVEY SHOWS RACE TO BE CLOSE HERE

Expert political observers and analysts are predicting, along with the presidential candidates, that the November presidential election is going to be very close and the result of the second week of the Sun-News poll also indicates that fact.

Vice-president Richard M. Nixon, the Republican candidate, received a slight edge in the voting in the second week of the Sun-News post card poll over Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic nominee.

In fact only one vote separated the two presidential hopefuls with Nixon getting 14 votes to 13 for Kennedy. This was a far cry from the first week of the poll when Kennedy tallied a 2 to 1 majority over Nixon.

Just as in the case in the first week of the poll the Sun-News mailed out 100 post cards asking the receiver his opinion and choice of candidates. This week through noon on Tuesday 27 cards had been returned showing the 14 to 13 score in favor of Vice-president Nixon.

The first week's poll resulted in 20 cards being marked and returned for Kennedy and 10 for Nixon.

Unlike the first week few of the cards this week included remarks concerning the election or candidates.

One Nixon supporter stated: "Obviously the better man in these critical times." Another Nixon card said: "Because of Lodge's U.N. role."

Still another Nixon follower stated: "This is my preference as of today and at present I don't see any signs that will change my mind."

The Kennedy people had this to say about their candidate. One said: "We need more work for the poor people. Maybe he can help."

Pennies Needed In UNICEF Drive

You can save it and when a child wears a UNICEF hat, you can see it.

Put a penny in your shoe, drop it in the mailbox, or stick it in the orange sticker around it. It may be just a penny to you, but it means a lot more to the child who needs it.

After the game, a coronation ball will be held for the Queen and her court. The dance committee—Ann Stell, Charlie Reed, Pam Polick, Betty Keville, Pam Sheridan, and Matt Tynes—have decided upon the theme, chosen the band, and will supervise the decorations. The Grace Decker Quartet will supply the music for the dance.

Princess Anne Playgrounds Report Activities

The Princess Anne County Recreation Dept. has initiated the afternoon playgrounds on trial basis this school year. The youngsters in the area of the playgrounds have given very rewarding response by supporting and enthusiastically enjoying the activity. Although the hours of the playgrounds vary depending on the time the school dismisses, the activities of each is about the same. In the Physical Education classes the child learns the skills of a sport but very seldom has the opportunity to put these skills in practice for more than twenty or thirty minutes at the most. The Playground Director works with the physical Education department of the fourth through seventh grades and gives the child the opportunity to put into practice what he has learned in the classroom. Seasonal sports are stressed and where the attendance is large enough the Directors have formed leagues, thus promoting competition. Individual activities are encouraged leading up to the yearly Fitness Meet to which all schools send participants, all of whom are hoping to set a new record and bring to their school the first place distinction. Activities of this Fitness Meet are: jump and reach, relays, dashes, push-ups, pull-ups, and shuttle run. The playgrounds give the youngsters the extra time he needs to really get in first class condition for this event.

Blue Devils Lead In Midget Loop

The Blue Devils took sole possession of first place in the Virginia Beach Midget Football League as a result of the sound trouncing they gave the Wolfpack. The scoring for the Blue Devils was evenly distributed in the 27-0 defeat of Coach John Dennis Wolfpack. Charlie DePinto galloped fifty yards around right and for the first tally. Mike Halkoff struck pay dirt after running fifty yards on a slant off tackle. Bobby McLure heaved a pass to DePinto who carried it over on a play converting sixty yards. The final touchdown was scored by John Donahoe on a end around play. Mike Halkoff garnered two points after touchdown and Donahoe scored one. Coach Al Gregg was in high praise of Max Wiley, Tony Martin, Mike Halkoff, and Bobby Nixon for their tremendous defensive play. Jimmy Farrell and Tim Wood stood out for the Wolfpack.

In the second contest Coach Bill Orner's Bulldogs upset the previously unbeaten Hornets 14-7. Terry Westcott broke away on a 45-yard run in the opening quarter, and Buddy Matthews added the point after touchdown to tie the score after Steven Michaels twelve yard run had put the Hornets out front 7-0. Buddy Matthews of the Bulldogs took the second half kickoff and ran seventy-five yards through the entire Hornet team to provide the winning touchdown. Bob Thomas and Keith Stevenson were outstanding defensively for the Bulldogs.

Area Softball Teams Hang Up Strong Record

Teams in Norfolk, South Norfolk, Portsmouth, Hampton and Newport News won 12 titles, an all-time record this year in the Virginia Amateur Softball Assn. State Softball Commissioner Hank Wolfe of Richmond has announced.

The State organization, which went out of existence in 1943 and was revived in 1944 with two tournaments, conducted a record total of 34 tournaments in 1960. The Eastern Virginia area, therefore, won slightly better than 33 percent of the championships.

Norfolk's champions were Servant in the Servicemen's Tournament, Naval Station. Waves in the Servicemen's Tournament and B'nai Israel in the Jewish Tournament.

Greenough's won in the South Norfolk District Class A. Fast Pitch Tournament and South Norfolk All-Stars in the South Norfolk District Slow Pitch Tournament. Portsmouth had four winners: Centenary Methodist in the Portsmouth District Church Tournament, Bopple's Food Market in the Portsmouth District Fast Pitch Tournament, Golden Nugget in the Portsmouth District Slow Pitch Tournament and Portsmouth Merchants in the State Mixed (5 women and 5 men on a team) Tournament at Richmond.

East Hampton Methodist took the Hampton-Newport News District Fast Pitch Tournament, Fox Hill Amoco the State Class A Tournament and Newport News Blue Devils the district slow pitch championship at Newport News.

Builders Look Ahead

Building Firm To Deliver 1000th Home In This Area

The Terry Corp. will soon deliver its 1,000th home to a Tidewater resident, a milestone in the large residential building organization which began building in this area less than six years ago. This 1,000th home will be delivered in Malibu, the Terry Corporation's newest community located on the North side of Virginia Beach Blvd. about half-way between Norfolk and Virginia Beach.

Building a 1,000 homes in this short period of time is quite an accomplishment by any standard and the Terry Corp. credits its success to date to internal organization and service as much as to external promotion.

"When we moved to Norfolk, we saw many good building firms already here, building good homes and having a keen sense of merchandising," a Terry spokesman says, "and we knew then that the only way we could be successful would be to be a little bit different and try to be better."

Different they became. They began by inaugurating an internal program of service for their home owners. It was a "Seven Point Program of Service" which provides many features for the home owner's comfort and convenience. It even covers such small features as 24-hour emergency service for heating units.

This plus quick response to their home owner's needs brought about additional sales. Today, the Terry Corp. credits much of its sales success to the recommendation of other satisfied Terry home owners.

The Terry Corp. capitalized on this prior to the opening of its homes at Malibu. It staged an open air Luau for all its Tidewater home purchasers. More than 1,500 people attended and got an advanced look at the new Terry homes. Suitable Hawaiian music was played in the background and pony rides were available for children.

On opening week the Terry Corp. along with the developer of Malibu, Simon and Cashman, staged an extensive promotion program.

As of today, American car manufacturers have some 30-odd makes of cars on the road (actually, there are so many it's getting hard to keep track). They have luxury models and low priced models, medium priced models and compacts. To all this we say "SO WHAT!" With this great overflow of new cars, Detroit still hasn't produced one single car that

(Renault has two—the 4CV at $1292 and the Dauphine at $1585)

2. Gives over 30 mpg

(All Renaults give AT LEAST 30 mpg and USUALLY give 35 to 40)

In addition to its low price tag and gasoline economy, Renault gives you (1) unmatched maneuverability; (2) four doors on all models; (3) heater, defroster, windshield washers, child-proof locks and turn signals AT NO EXTRA COST; (4) classic, timeless Parisian styling; and (5) lower maintenance and upkeep costs. ## Ruritan Bowl Grid Game Set For Friday Night

The annual Ruritan Bowl football game between Princess Anne's Cavaliers and the E. C. Glass eleven of Lynnhurst is scheduled for Cox Stadium Friday night under the lights. Kickoff time is set for 8 p.m.

The bowl game is being sponsored by the Princess Anne Ruritan Club and proceeds after expenses will be used for the club's civic and charitable projects.

Robert F. Smith of Limestone, Tenn., vice-president of Ruritan National, will be honored guest for the game. Smith will present the football to be used in the contest and will also crown the Ruritan Bowl Queen.

Many colorful added features have been arranged for the game, which looms as a test of two strong Virginia high school teams. Glass earlier in the season held powerful Norview to a 7 to 7 standoff and Princess Anne barely lost to the same club by a 6 to 0 score.

Princess Anne has been improving fast since dropping its first three games by close scores. They vanquished Churchland and Hampton in their last two outings by identical scores of 19 to 7.

Officials expect a record crowd for the Ruritan Bowl game. Maury Riganto, Princess Anne Ruritan Club president, has announced that tickets will be available at the stadium Friday night.

Until game time tickets to the contest may be purchased at Maury's on City Hall avenue in Norfolk. Kellams-Eaton at Princess Anne, Darden Esso at London Bridge and Malbon Motors in Virginia Beach.

Lonnie O. Everett, 180 pound Princess Anne Cavalier senior, is shown accepting the most outstanding player award after his team's 13 to 7 victory over Hampton this past Friday. He received the award for his play in the Homecoming game. The trophy was given by the Princess Anne Junior Chamber of Commerce and presented by Miss Carol Lindsey, Homecoming queen. At right is Paul D. Vestal, Jaycee president.

Hampton, 13-7
Princess Anne made its Homecoming weekend compete by defeating Hampton last Friday night 13-7. Running over the Crabbers on the ground and racking up 19 first downs to 5 for Hampton, Princess Anne couldn't seem to get going in the scoring column.

The Cavaliers first touchdown climaxed a 72-yard drive that began with the opening kickoff. Lonnie Everett made a 28-yard run to spark the score which was made by Fred Hubbs on a pass from Gary Boyd.

In the second period Tom Gardner intercepted a P.A. pass and carried to the Cavalier 43. Five plays later Bobby Ball made a 24-yard run for the touchdown.

Princess Anne wasn't able to score again until late in the 3rd period when Bernard Morris recovered a Hampton fumble on the Cavalier 40. Thirteen plays later Doug Miller made the score on a five-yard run. Richard Fuller added the extra point on a pass from Richard Miller.

Princess Anne, running its first game of the season, lost to Norview 13-7 on Friday 30-27. Close to thirty

The Cavaliers were hurt by not having the services of Mills Rowe, one of their top five runners, who was ineligible to run in the meet. Johnson of Norview set the pace with a blistering nine minutes and 45 seconds for the course. The first fifteen finishers in order were:

Guest

Robert F. Smith

Vice president of Ruritan National, who is scheduled to attend the annual Ruritan Bowl football game at Princess Anne High School Friday night.

the Major and Traveling League are Dick Snyder, 210; George Baler, 200; Clarence Husk, 188; Lee Amundson, 188; Ed Muehlenberger, 187; Hank Hickey, 180; Walter Poole, 180; and Clyde Smith, 184.

If the first year of bowling can be used as a gauge, bowling at Virginia Beach should be of a quality to merit national attention in two or three more years. When a youngster of the tender age of 12 can roll a 225 game, and a last year his senior topple the wood for 220, the surface may only have been scratched. If one will observe the dedication of a few individuals who persistently work at perfecting their game, day after day, and listen to them as they mumble to themselves with each thrown ball, it will convey some idea as to the attraction this game holds for so many. And it will point out the unlimited possibilities available to those similarly dedicated. Take, for example, the young lady who rolls in six different leagues a week, then spends all day Saturday at practice; or the business man who spends his lunch hours on the lanes, works a while then is back again, then works again at night before and after his league or practice bowling; or the navy man who spends so much time at the lanes he is suspected of having a bed hidden in the back room; or other business men who close their establishments for the winter season and practically move into the Thunderbird Bowl. And there are many who will observe certain ladies who give the impression of being permanent fixtures on lanes number 24.

These are not isolated cases; there are hundreds of others who can almost call the T-Bird their second home. And it all points to the popularity of a game that is taking the nation by storm and furnishing a majority of the population quantly to the popularity of the game in general and this center in particular.

Several weeks ago there was formed the first Major League in the Virginia Beach area. With Lee Amundson, Hank Hickey, Jay Klein, and Warren Hiteshaw as President, Vice-President, Secretary and Reporter, respectively, the league got underway with results that compare it favorably with the State's top league—the Intercity Traveling. After only three weeks of bowling, some of the scores would make professionals proud and the indications are that this is only a start. Some of the following scores for individual games will give an idea of the leagues calibre: Ed Krause, 247; George Baler, 240; Harold Smith, 244; Lee Amundson, 243. Individual series: Dick Snyder, 603; George Baler, 646; Ed Krause, 610; Hank Hickey, 604. Coaches Sporting Goods rolled a 2608 series for an average of almost 890 per game as a team, or nearly 180 per individual. Coaches also have a high game of 967 for league honors.

The ladies have also come in for their share of honors in the way of outstanding bowling. Lorraine Kadas holds the all-time high of 609 for individual series, with Patricia Boccumini high for the season with a 547. Peg Donovan has rolled a 227 game, while Joy Atwood and several others banged the mallets for 210 games.

In the average department, several women are carrying well above the 150 mark and at least two men are over the coveted 200 figure. Among the top averages in

Leadership for the 60's

In 1953 the United States stood as a towering head of world-wide power and respect. We had unrivaled strength, firm prestige, strong and dedicated allies, wide-spread good will and, above all, a positive foreign policy program. We had borne the great burdens of the rehabilitation of the depressed countries of Europe and Asia. We had helped to develop strong democracies in former enemy countries and had helped former colonies achieve their burning desire for independence. We had stood firm in the face of communist aggression and had stopped it cold. These achievements were brought about under a Democratic administration but were genuinely bi-partisan. Compare our position then with the present. Insure a rebirth of this type of leadership for the critical 1960's.

The Election Looks Close

The presidential campaign is moving into the final stage and all signs point to a close election result after the November 8 balloting. Professional pollsters and the candidates, themselves, indicate the election will be close. Some observers say they believe it will be the closest in history.

After the first week of the Sun-News post card poll it appeared as though Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic candidate, was pulling away from Republican Richard M. Nixon. However, the second week dispelled this theory as Nixon received more votes (one to be exact) than Kennedy.

It looks as though the result of the second week of the Sun-News poll more accurately presents the picture that is being predicted throughout the nation, that the candidates are running neck and neck.

However, a similar poll in Norfolk and another in the City of Portsmouth shows Senator Kennedy widening his early lead over Vice-president Nixon. In fact, the latest results of the polls in Norfolk and Portsmouth give Senator Kennedy a substantial lead over Nixon.

Only the voting on November 8 will tell the story. From our viewpoint all signs point to a close election. Some even feel that neither candidate will receive enough electoral votes on election day.

We believe that the winner will be determined in the next two weeks and that much will depend on the effort of party workers at the lowest levels.

The campaign is interesting and exciting and is good for the country, regardless of who wins.

UCF Drive Closes October 28

The annual United Communities Fund drive is now underway in Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach as well as in Norfolk County, South Norfolk and the City of Norfolk. These are the areas that joined together several years ago to form an overall United Communities Fund. It was a desire to strengthen the organization through unity so that more services and more assistance could be given the entire Tidewater area.

As this is written there are less than 10 days remaining for the UCF drive. All of the workers seeking contributions are volunteers and the administrative expense involved in raising the budgetary requirements of the 54 agencies is less than 5 percent, a relatively low figure when it is considered that 1.4 million dollars will be collected or pledged. The actual goal this year is $1,389,510.

As in previous drives of this kind the real money will come from the pounding the pavement type of solicitation. This is the hard work of the campaign—the door to door campaign. The success of the campaign will depend largely on this phase of the drive.

There is no doubt that the various communities involved and their public minded citizens will meet with success in reaching their goal. Much preparation has gone into the drive and the enthusiasm of the workers is a good sign.

The effect of the work of the UCF reaches far and wide and it behooves everyone to support this campaign. We look with confidence to October 28 as one that will again bring victory to the UCF.

Natural Resources Week

Governor J. Lindsay Almond, Jr., has proclaimed the week of October 16 to October 22 as Virginia Natural Resources Week and as the week is drawing to a close we feel it fitting to pause and reflect on this important subject.

Today in agriculture, there are tremendous pressures on the land. Consequently, we cannot have our good Virginia soil flowing off down streams and rivers, but neither can we have it saturating the soil to the point where it will prevent crop production.

Farmers must have more land to support their machinery and increase their farm output. Back in colonial times, when tobacco was the main stay of the colonies, the practice was to plant tobacco upon the same land until it no longer would produce. Then move on to new land. This was possible because of the abundance of available land.

Now, this practice is no longer possible. Our cities and large industries are demanding much more land. They are tearing up trees, and breaking up land and taking it out of production, or pricing it out of the farmers reach.

Our city populations are calling for more and more water, and industry is calling for billions every year. Farmers themselves have put in all types of water systems and installed pumps, stock ponds, irrigation ponds, and have brought the bathroom inside the house. So, today they are using more water than ever before.

The droughts between 1952 and 1956 clearly emphasized the fact that Virginia should make good use of its water, but conservation is simply not just hoarding. The ultimate purpose of soil conservation is preserve the productivity of land, to make it produce more and make it produce longer.

The Sun-News wishes to commend the Virginia Dare Soil Conservation District for its outstanding contribution to the conservation of our natural resources. Such men as A. E. Roach, B. W. Berry, Walter Menden, John C. Ivins, and E. R. Cockrell, Jr., who serve on the Board of Supervisors of the District and the farmers and agriculturists who make up the District have realized what must be done, and how it must be done in order to conserve our soil and water. Our congratulations for a job well done in conservation of natural resources.

Chesapeake Beach Woman's Club Has 20th Birthday

The Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach, survivor of many Community crisis's celebrated its 20th birthday anniversary with another bigger than anybody in the club had imagined. On Tuesday, October 11, the ladies heard Mr. J. C. Morris, Executive Secretary of the Chesapeake Bay Tunnel Commission as their guest speaker for the day.

Mr. Morris generously answered questions for the ladies of Chesapeake Beach. "After all," says Mrs. Frederick Rieder, Club President, "we are the folks most concerned with the Tunnel project."

The Southern entrance to the tunnel will come directly into Chesapeake Beach, according to Mr. Morris. How it will connect to the shore drive is still problematical. Mr. Morris assured the club members, however, that the highway from the tunnel to this primary road, will be one which the community can be proud of. This greatly relieved those home owners whose property will in no way be sacrificed to the Tunnel construction.

The Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach was founded, under the direction of Mrs. Lewis Causey, in October, 1946. Mrs. Joseph H. Hazell, now superintendent of Elementary Education in the County, was the first President.

The club has come a long way since an enthusiastic group of neighbors banded together to organize the second Woman's Club in Princess Anne County. Since its inception, new housing developments have almost completely surrounded Chesapeake Beach, and the members come from Baylake Pines, Lakeview Park, Robbins Corner, Lake Shores and Thoroughgood as well as Chesapeake Beach.

Joining the Federation of Women's Clubs in 1946, the Club became an active part of 11,000,000 club women all over the world. With Mrs. C. J. Parkinson, now principal of the Baylake Elementary School, the Club took awards in the first District competition for the Bloodmobile program for many years. It is said, that once the Chesapeake Beach Club members begin a project, they never let it die. This is exemplified by their faithfulness to the Polo week and to the National Foundation. Says

Club President, Mrs. F. Rieder, "This club has raised money for every worthwhile project known. In our 20 years, we have raised at least $40,000 for our causes, and those of others, including the national drives."

For the 20th birthday luncheon, Mrs. E. S. Moore was Program Chairman. A series of color slides were shown by Mrs. Elwood A. Hudson, of the 1966 Summer Festival sponsored by the club in August.

Special guests in addition to the speaker, were Mr. Ivan Mapp, County Commissioner of Revenue, club presidents, Mrs. James Powell, Baylake Junior Club, Mrs. J. E. Stout, Lakeview Shores and Mrs. A. F. White, Ocean Park.

Mrs. R. F. Humphries Is Kilmaville's Outstanding Woman

There was no problem in naming the outstanding club woman of the Kilmaville Woman's Club for the year 1966-67. It was the unanimous wish of the committee and the other club members that the one who had served as first vice president of the club in 1966-67, but also had to shoulder the responsibilities of the president, and did so graciously and willingly, be given first consideration.

Beulah Humphries (Mrs. R. F.), served more than 20 years as president of the Kilmaville Woman's Club. Besides this enormous task, Beulah was a loving wife, a mother of three charming daughters and a doting grandmother of two little girls. During the week she held a full job as bookkeeper, and on Sunday she was an alternate teacher in the Community Methodist Church School. She was also vice-president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the church. She held active membership in the Order of the Eastern Star, Kilmaville Chapter. Beulah was and is a wonderful friend to all who know her and no task is too great for her to do if she knows she is needed. We are proud to salute and pay tribute to Beulah Humphries, our outstanding member for 1966-67 and our beloved president for the year 1967-68.

Library Seeks Overdue Books

Thursday, October 20th has been designated as Amnesty Day by the Virginia Beach - Princess Anne County Public Library. And all overdue books may be returned without fine to the Main Library, located at 302 22nd St. Virginia Beach, from 2:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. or to the Bookmobile, which will be stationed at Creeds (Elementary School Grounds) from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon; and at Lynnhaven (Atlantic Service Station near Pine Tree Inn) from 1:30 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. The forgiving period is only for the day hours listed above and has been set aside in order that those patrons having overdue books in their possession which belong to the Library may return them with a general pardon.

The Public Library opened for the benefit of the permanent residents of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County in May of 1960. The Bookmobile started operating in October of 1959 and the enlarged Children's Room was opened this past month. During this time, many books have not been returned and it is hoped that all patrons who have books in their possession and have overlooked their reminder notices will take full advantage of Amnesty Day.

P.A. Woman's Club Now 35 Years Young

At the 35th birthday celebration of the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County Tuesday at the Pine Tree Inn, Mrs. Ben Snyder, guest speaker, took the ladies of the club on a verbal 27,000 mile journey around the world.

"When the band played 'Carry Me Back To Ole Virginia,' 'Dixie,' and 'Anchors Aweigh,' and 200 school children waved American flags," Mrs. Snyder told the members, "there was reflected a feeling of interest in America, and a belief that friendship is born in the hearts of all people."

Mrs. Snyder was speaking of the welcome extended to her and her husband as representatives to Norfolk's sister city, Moji, Japan.

Mrs. C. L. Harshberger was in charge of decorations, which were in keeping with Mrs. Snyder's visit to Japan. On each table were arrangements of chrysanthemums, surrounded by Japanese figurines, lanterns and habachi stoves.

Four past presidents attended the meeting. They were Mrs. A. E. Ewell, 1925-26; Mrs. L. W. Menchum, 1940-42; Mrs. George C. Manson, 1948-50; and Mrs. R. B. Tyne, 1957-59.

Mrs. George L. Aldridge, music chairman, presented guest soloist, Mr. Charles Davis.

Mrs. Bernard Bateman, general chairman of the Antique Show and Sale, to be held at the Convention Center October 20-22, reported on the progress of the show.

Mrs. C. O. Kidd announced that art classes would begin October 31 at the Virginia Beach Methodist Church. Programs on wills and Christmas decorations, an exchange of recipes and fabric discussion, and a film on home decorations have been arranged by American home chairman, Mrs. E. A. Coyer.

The club approved of a $25 donation to Keoughman Veterans Hospital towards its Christmas party.

Presidents of other area clubs were guests at the 35th birthday celebration.

Local Man Being Recognized For Saving Life In June

"Thank you Mr. Terry for saving my life," the pale twelve-year-old boy said as his head dropped back exhaustedly on the hospital bed pillow here June 28th.

The boy, Joseph W. Franchise of 23 M. Washington St., Portsmouth, a scant thirty minutes before, had been pulled from the Atlantic Ocean at Sandbridge Beach and revived by the mouth-to-mouth resuscitation method.

Charles R. Terry, a member of the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Rescue Squad is the "Mr. Terry" young Franchise and his family credited with saving the youth's life.

Terry used the new method despite verbal protests and physical abuse by members of the emotional crowd which gathered at the scene. "Turn him over and start pumping him," onlookers would yell as Terry worked to bring the boy back to consciousness.

Several times he felt the hands of onlookers as they tried to pull him off the prostrate form. Once he felt fingers make scrape the length of his back.

The youth, who suffers from diabetes and has only 25 per cent vision, probably does not yet realize just how lucky he is.

Terry was fishing nearby at the time. One of the men who pulled the victim from the water later told rescue squad members, "I don't know anything about artificial respiration and I thought as myself as we were carrying him toward the shore, 'now that we've got him what are we going to do with him.'"

Terry heard an alarm sounded and saw two men dive. He dropped his reel and rod and ran to the site. The boy was found lying on his back in about five feet of water. Terry ran to the rescuers and helped bring the youth to shore.

"When I laid him on his back I noticed his face, lips and fingernails were blue. I started to start the mouth-to-mouth method. The two men who had rescued the boy from the water helped keep the onlookers from pulling me off the boy," Terry related.

About fifteen minutes after he started the revival procedure, Terry realized the boy was breathing and had opened his eyes. The boy started grunting and yelling for his father.

Terry stopped the revival efforts and tried to keep the victim quiet. The boy started into diabetic shock. Terry ran to his car and got a package of chocolate cakes. He then let the boy lick the icing on the cakes, thus staving off a coma.

The boy's poor vision, the slick bottom of the beach and a possible diabetic attack, could have been factors which caused the near tragedy.

The boy's family was staying at a nearby cottage at the time. The father had gone to the cottage to get a fishing lure when the boy got into trouble.

A rescue squad ambulance was summoned by an onlooker on orders from Terry. The ambulance made the trip to the beach in seventeen minutes. However, about thirty minutes were required for the return trip.

On the way to the hospital the boy's parents kept saying over and over again, "Thank God for Mr. Terry."

Terry came to the hospital to check on the boy's condition. The father said "Son, here is the man who saved your life."

Gets Merit Certificate

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor in each for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a showcase of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) for the sake of his family, (3) for the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS

Should Parents Decide Teenage Friends?

By C. D. Smith

THE WEEK'S LETTER: I have a big problem. My parents won't let me have any friends. They say my friends are no good for me. They say that they will get me into trouble. I like my friends. Maybe they have been in a bit of trouble, but it wasn't their fault they got caught. My folks want me to go around with some "squares" who never do anything at all. We don't even speak the same language. Shouldn't I be able to decide who my friends are?

OUR ANSWER: There is some question here, as to who is really the "square." Certainly, teenagers should be able to choose their own friends—provided they choose to associate with the right kind of friends. The parent who permits his son or daughter to associate with the wrong crowd is dodging his responsibility to "raise" his children in the proper manner.

Let's face it. It just isn't possible to associate with people who have a habit of getting into trouble—without eventually getting into trouble ourselves. And, when someone does something wrong, it's not "bad luck" that they get caught. It's justice. The fact that someone does a thing that is not right and does not get caught fails to make it "right."

Many teenagers seem to put the "square" tag on anybody and anything that is "different," when actually they are the ones that are "different." It's like the old saying, "everybody's out of step but me."

We would suggest that this week's letter writer "put himself in his parent's shoes," so to speak. When he becomes responsible for raising children of his own, will he not be interested in seeing that they associate with the right crowd, that they stay out of trouble, that they do "right" and stay "right" with the world?

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, address your letter FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, NATIONAL WEEKLY NEWSPAPER SERVICE, FRANKFORD, KY.

TEEN SCENE

By Charley Oop

As everybody gets ready for the winter nobody comes or goes so this is why there is no news about people being away or visiting.

From now on in Teen Scene we will try to get pictures of the Teenager of the Week. We also hope to fill you in on school and other interesting news concerning teenagers.

If you have anything that would be of interest be sure to write to Teen Scene and tell us about it. Especially if you are going on a trip or have returned from one.

TEENAGER OF THE WEEK
This week we salute Diane Abbott as Teenager of the Week.

This colorful senior is very active in school and is also captain of the varsity cheerleaders. She is also on the S.C.A. Council.

Diane lives on Berkshire Lane in Bay Colony and is 17 years old. She is well known to everyone at Virginia Beach High School. We proudly salute Diane and wish for her continued success in every way.

TOPS 'N' POPS
This week Charlie is all smiles. Why? Because "New Orleans" (a recent Pop for the Top) is now number three on the latest survey.

The number one tune this week is "Save the Last Dance for Me." This is by the Drifters. The number two song is "I Want to Be Wanted" by Brenda Lee.

The top ten reads this way: "Save the Last Dance for Me," "Want to Be Wanted," "New Orleans," "Last Date," "Georgia on My Mind," "Devil or Angel," "My Heart Has a Mind of Its Own," "Three Nights a Week," "Don't Be Cruel," and "Let's Go."

Coming on fast are "Huckle-buck" by Chubby Checker, and "Let's Think About Living" by Bob Luman.

Not only did Charlie have "New Orleans" in the top thirty but another Pop for the Top, "Shopping for Clothes" and "Artificial Flowers" is in there, too.

This means Charlie has numbers three, 21 and 29 on the top tunes list.

CALENDAR OF EVENTS
This week the big attraction is the annual Beach Bowl football game Friday night. All teenagers be sure to get a date and come. The game is at 8 o'clock and the dance follows.

The Knight's Boys Club of Virginia Beach will hold their weekly dance at the Community House on Saturday night from 8 p.m. until 12 p.m. The Rhythm Rockers will play. Admission will be 75 cents.

The Thunderbird Bowling Lanes announce that Junior Leagues are being formed for the winter months. Those interested should contact Joe Phelps at the popular recreation center to sign up for the leagues. It's lots of fun and good exercise too.

K. of C. Dance Is Scheduled For November 18

On Friday, November 18th, 1960, Virginia Beach Council of the Knights of Columbus No. 4632, will hold its first Annual Fall Dance at the Convention Center Dome, Pacific Ave. at 19th St. Music will be by Jay Ward and his Debonairs and the dress will be informal. Tickets may be acquired by calling GA 8-3159 anytime. The proceeds will help the Council augment its steadily growing building fund. Come one, come all, and have a fine night out, just before Thanksgiving.

At a recent meeting, Third Degree Certificates were given out to all Brothers that had attained the exalted position recently or in the past. A very enjoyable evening was highlighted by a large attendance being especially honored by the presence of the Second District Deputy Joseph P. Donahue and the State Master of the Fourth Degree, B. C. Williams, with their guests.

There is presently a Membership Drive going on through November, which was "kicked-off" on October 12th by an Open House in honor of Columbus Day. Many members were at the council chambers with 1 or 2 guests as prospective Knights. Two films were shown and information about the Knights of Columbus was divulged by some very experienced speakers.

A Halloween Party is in store for all those interested on Friday the 28th or Saturday the 29th. For further information contact Pete Donahue at GA 8-2484.

Junior Women Again Plan
Kitchen Tour In November

The Junior Women's Club, of Princess Anne County, in cooperation with the Virginia Electric and Power Company takes pleasure in announcing the selection of the following kitchens for the second annual "Harvest Kitchen Tour" to be held on November 2, from 10:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m.

The $2 tickets may be purchased at any of the houses and at any time throughout the tour hours. Single admissions may be obtained for 50 cents.

Refreshments will be served in Mrs. Glennon's kitchen from 10:30-4:30. Flower arrangements to complement the kitchens will be made by members of the local garden clubs.

Proceeds of the Harvest Kitchen Tour will benefit community affairs and the club's welfare fund. 1. "Contemporary Colour" is the name picked to describe the kitchen in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rhue W. Adams in Princess Anne Hills. Exposed ceiling beams, a fireplace and pine table and chairs add a rustic look to this spacious, modernly equipped kitchen, featuring a built-in oven and island range, a subtle blending of the old with the new.

2. The kitchen of Capt. and Mrs. W. R. Glennon of Virginia Beach has been labeled "Cherry Glow." This delightfully efficient kitchen, which opens into a cherry-paneled family room, with its cheerful yellow decor and stainless steel electrical appliances is featured as the only "Bronze Medal Kitchen" at the Beach.

3. "Rhapsody in Blue" is descriptive of the kitchen of Capt. and Mrs. E. C. Outlaw on 45th street at the Beach. A flirge divider separating the kitchen from the dining area adds an interesting touch to this fantasy in deep blue and white, a delightful combination of modern built-in appliances with wrought iron and glass, and a touch of old world charm. This house is being occupied by Capt. and Mrs. Patrick U. Bailey.

4. "Serenade in Green" complements the kitchen of Col. and Mrs. Walter L. Renn, Jr., USA (ret.) in Bay Colony. Soft, quince green wall-and cabinets and blending draperies form a picturesque background for the built-in glass front oven and disappearing electrical surface units in this lovely kitchen, fashioned and decorated for gracious living.

5. The kitchen in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Lee Bonney on 44th street and Holly Road is called "Profile in Pink" for the shades of luscious pink on walls, cabinets, and windows, accented by shining chrome, built-in appliances, marble-like counters and floor covering, enhance this artist's conception of contemporary living.

6. "Breakfast By The Bay" illustrates the kitchen in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence A. Bancroft in Lintier. A theme of yellow is carried throughout this kitchen in wall color, electrical appliances and accessories, highlighted by formica cabinets designed to resemble wood, exemplifying the latest in modern design and convenience in this chef's haven overlooking the water.

7. Dr. and Mrs. Douglas D. Conkright, Jr.'s kitchen in their home located at Great Neck Point is described as "Colonial Capers." From the old brick floor to the twin ovens built into a brick wall, and the gleaming old copper cook-

Cape Henry Woman's Club Fashion Show On Oct. 31

The October meeting of the Cape Henry Women's Club was held at the Princess Anne Country Club,
Oct. 13, at 11 a.m. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. H. O. Freeman. The meeting was opened with a prayer by Mrs. Arthur James, Chaplain.

Mrs. M. M. Bateman, reported on the general federation of Workmen's Clubs 99th Annual Convention held in Washington, D.C. some of the highlights of the convention was a talk by Shirley Temple Black, on multiple sclerosis. The wife of the Vice-President of the U.S. Mrs. Richard Nixon, shook hands with all of the delegates. A "Bride Parade and Dance of Nations", the theme "Unity in Diversity" was one of the outstanding programs by the Embassy in Washington. Mrs. H. O. Freeman attended the convention with Mrs.
Bateman, representing the club.

Mrs. John J. Collins, reported on the fashion show to be held at the Admiralty Motel, Oct. 31st from one to four. The refreshments will be served by the Motel. The fashion show is for the club's scholarship fund. The club is sponsoring two teachers, one nursing and two literary awards.

Mrs. Robert J. Steinhilber, announced she was starting the choral group November 3, at 1 p.m. at the Scott Memorial Methodist Church, at Oceana.

Mrs. Kenneth Seay, announced ceramic classes will start Oct. 26 at King's Florist located on the Virginia Beach Blvd. at Thalia.

Mrs. E. A. Schoen, asked for contributions to be sent to the Keough Veteran Hospital, to buy canteen books for the patients.
$33 was collected.

The club furnished its own music program for the day by singing
"The More We Get Together", "A Smile" and "The Virginia State Federation Song", directed by Mrs.
Russell Gilbert and accompaniment
by Mrs. R. J. Steinhilber.

Mrs. John E. Parker, Garden and Conservation Chairman introduced Mrs. Malcolm H. Todd, Jr.
Mrs. Todd made several flower arrangements for the "Halloween" season she made a witch out of a cloth pin by adding a black cape, a hat, and the broom from a popple stick and broom sage. She had painted magnolia leaves, and Yuca and other plants black, then tied them with deep yellow flowers for Halloween. To tell how tall your arrangement should be, measure your container and the line should be one and one-half times taller than the container. If it is a flat container you measure across it. For a cressant you measure twice the container because the cressant will take up the extra inches. Mrs. Todd said that scotch broom is excellent material for a cressant, leave it out of water for a few days then it will curve easily, you can tie it onto a coat hanger that has been cut and shaped in a cressant, leave for a few days take it off and you will have a beautiful cressant.

If you have a small dining room table, Mrs. Todd suggested hanging an arrangement from the chandelier, for parties and dinners.
You will need wire in almost all of your arrangements, and remember that line is the most important thing. To make a good arrangement you need line, filler, the target. And don't forget to finish off the back with some green shrub-or flowers but have them lower than front.

Eastern Auto Area Extended

Renault, Inc. has announced the appointment of Eastern Auto Distributors, Inc. of Norfolk as the new distributor for Renault automobiles and trucks in Kentucky and Tennessee, according to a statement released today by S.
Frank Blocker, Jr., president of Eastern Auto.

The addition of these two states brings to six the number included in Eastern Auto's franchised area.
For several years the Norfolk-based firm has distributed Renault and Peugeot vehicles in Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina.

"The acquisition of this new territory should increase our sales substantially", Blocker stated. He added that Renault and Peugeot sales in the four state area had increased 41% in 1961.

To meet the needs of servicing the two new states, Eastern Auto Distributors is embarking upon an expansion program that will involve the entire wholesale organization. Additional personnel are being brought into the company and new physical facilities are planned.

MAJORETTES

The members of this energetic and hard working group rarely receive the recognition due them. Often we do not realize how many hours are put in before and after school to perfect their routines.

The majorettes this year are Jackie Dagge, Sharon Jones, Julia Anne Hoggard, Mary Ellen Arnt, Mary Payne, Carla Cleland, Billie Carol Sawyer, and Shirley Doty. The head majorette is Miss Wendy Mote, a senior, who is in her second year with the band.

Solos have been performed by Wendy Mote, Julia Hoggard, Shirley Doty, and Sharon Jones.

We salute the band and especially the majorettes for their excellent performances on Friday nights.

BITS AND TID BITS

Many of the alumni of V.B. H.S. will return for Homecoming.

Miss Faye Coppedge has been honored by being selected for the touring chorus of East Carolina College in her freshman year.

Mr. Rountree's French classes are putting their knowledge to good use by corresponding with French pen pals.

Boys around the shop will be busy this week making props for the Queen's float.

Annual staff has finished the first twenty-two pages of the yearbook and are working hard to increase their sales.

Mrs. Sawyer and her art classes are spending sunny afternoons at the beach sketching sand, sky, and sea.

Many eager juniors and seniors are waiting hopefully for Beta Club tapping, November 4.

V. B. students are not disappointed over the bleak beginning of the football team. They hope experience will make the end of the season brighter.

The Junior Science Club has planned several trips to near-by plants for the year.

The Journalism Club will be gaining first-hand information from "pros" when they visit the newspaper plant.

The newspaper staff is working diligently for a larger and better Beachcomer. The first issue will be six full pages.

The Knights Club dances are a likely place to find V.B. H.S. students on Saturday night.

Eating with chopsticks, Chinese style, has become a new fad with many V.B. students, especially the newspaper staff.

The first regular meeting of the Kings Grant Elementary School P.T.A. will be held on November 22, 1960 when an open house is planned. This meeting has been rescheduled from October in order that facilities may be completed.

This decision was reached at the Board Meeting of the P.T.A. held on October 11th in the office of Mrs. Wilson, Principal of King's Grant. Other items of business acted upon at this time were the decision to send the P.T.A. magazine to a foreign country and a report on the used book store. Mr. Harry Mayo, nominee for the position of 2nd Vice-President presented the board with printed P.T.A. membership envelopes to be distributed to all parents. Mrs. Trucel, Health Chairman, reported on plans for the year and said that dental examinations are currently being conducted. Eye-examining tests will be given later. ## Visual Aaility And Growth Go Hand In Hand

"A child's visual ability is directly related to his physical growth". Thus stated Dr. A. M. Skeffington of St. Louis, Missouri, who is at a postgraduate Seminar for Optometrists of the State of Virginia.

Presiding at the Seminar is Dr. Howard D. Kahn of Virginia Beach, State Director of Education for the Optometric Extension Program.

According to Dr. Skeffington, who is the author of many articles and texts on vision, an authority in the field of research in vision, and "National Director of Education for the Optometric Extension Program, reading is fundamentally a visual problem that is, in turn, a physical problem as well.

In dealing with the problem of the slow-learning child during his discussion of modern techniques and latest developments in Optometry, Dr. Skeffington charged the members of his audience with the responsibility of discovering that child's problems before difficulty at school is encountered, and warned of the need for developing a visual guidance program for child patients that will prevent the development of visual problems.

"Our modern culture does little to encourage the visual development of our children", states Dr. Skeffington. "Poor visual development does not mean the child cannot see clearly, but rather that he is unable to use the symbols of the mother tongue with maximum efficiency. If he cannot properly distinguish these symbols, if by reason of an existing visual problem, he transposes the letters of the written word or otherwise does not achieve to his potential ability at the near working point, he cannot learn to read regardless of how he can see at a distance.

"A child's visual development, as well as his physical development, should be checked at as early an age as possible. Preferably, this should be as early as 6 months, and certainly should be prior to the third birthday. If it is found that the visual development is not keeping pace with the physical, a specialist in the vision care field should work to improve the visual development through a carefully planned program of vision care.

"Adult learning and skills are also keyed to visual ability. In order to increase that ability, there must be a program to fill out the hand activities and skills, a preventive program that visual ability will be increased for stepped up mental ability leading to greater success and achievement in everyday living and work."

Boss to employee: "I'd like to pay you what you're worth, but it's against the minimum wage law."

This week it is my pleasure to devote my usual gab to observance of Natural Resources Conservation Week. Emphasis this week will be on wise use of soil and water, forest and wildlife resources, as Virginia observes Natural Resources Conservation Week, designated by Gov. J. Lindsay Almond, Jr., for October 16 through 22nd.

In Norfolk and Princess Anne counties, the conservation program is carried on under the direct supervision of the Virginia Dare Soil Conservation District. This district was organized on December 16, 1945. It was that year that the Virginia Dare Soil Conservation District began the tremendous task of helping farmers to conserve our soil and water resources. So far, it has done the job well enough to merit the respect, admiration, and gratitude of all of us. The task is far from finished, but it is in good hands. The need of conserving our soil and water resources is more urgent today than it was in 1945. Great areas of our best farm land are going into other uses every year. Uses that don't produce food, fiber, or shelter. At the same time, our population is increasing at a rate once thought impossible. The net result is a squeeze on all our soil and water resources that makes conservation everybody's business.

It has been a long time, these past 15 or so years, it has also been a short time. It seems like a short time, because most of us can remember what was going on 15 years ago. It seems like a long time because so many things have happened in these same number of years. Enough to fill the histories of past centuries.

On the farm front, right here in our Virginia Dare Soil Conservation District, changes in the past 15 years have been revolutionary. The horse and the mule have vanished and in their place we have automotive equipment of tremendous power and fantastic versatility. Self-propelled combines looked upon with misgivings 15 years ago are now a common farm machine. This is only one of the many fantastic changes that have taken place in these two counties. There have been many changes for good or evil since the Soil Conservation District started operations 15 years ago. The one thing that remains unchanged, the conservation of our soil and water resources remains a grave responsibility to every citizen of Virginia.

The first Board of Supervisors of the District was composed of Mr. A. E. Roach, Mr. H. W. Ozlin, Mr. W. B. Munden, Mr. J. C. Ivins, and Mr. E. T. White. Today's Board consists of Mr. A. E. Roach, Mr. B. W. Berry, Mr. John C. Ivins, Mr. W. B. Munden, and Mr. E. R. Cockrell, Jr.

The foundation of our country depended upon a plentiful supply of natural resources and the future is dependent upon the same resources that our forefathers enjoyed. This is the obligation of each of us, and to help see this need for conservation, the people of Norfolk and Princess Anne Counties have put the supervision of Conservation in the dependable hands of the Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors. My congratulations to all of the men who have served on this Board through the past 15 years.

CHANGES IN AGRICULTURE
 Today's farmer is luckier than his grandfather, because he has a wide variety of management and cultural practices from which to choose in planning his crop and livestock production program.

He has a greater problem than his grandfather, however, in that he must choose and combine expenditures from improved technologies, fertilizer and lime, and farm machinery, in a manner such as to receive the maximum net returns. What this really means is that farmers of today must keep up with the endless changes in their particular field, or else they cannot compete with their fellow farmers who do make these changes, which will enable them to cut cost of production, or to increase net gains from livestock or crop production.

Most of the changes in agriculture have been due to improved technology, as a result of experimental work done by VPI; the improvements in farm machinery, and fertilizer, and better adapted varieties of seed, and improved methods of marketing. Farmers attend tours, short courses, meetings do considerable reading, in addition to trying things out for themselves in learning better ways of production and marketing.

All of these changes are fundamental and more important are the changes that have taken place in soil and water conservation, improved farm drainage has made possible top crop production in areas heretofore would almost insure a complete failure. This has been due to the expert assistance to farmers by the Soil Conservation Service, Aubrey N. Holmes and his staff assist farmers in the technical engineering of the drainage operation, and the agricultural conservation program headed by Mr. Norman Beal, assists farmers in making these practices possible by assisting financially in projects that would be impossible to be financed on an individual basis. Community projects of farm drainage have been completed over the past several years. These community projects involve the cooperation of not only the Soil Conservation Service and the ASC Office, but also the cooperation of individual landowners. All of these people make this drainage work possible.

The conservation work required in this county is entirely different from that of other areas of Virginia. Farmers in Princess Anne know that strip cropping is necessary in some areas of our state, but do not actually know the problems of the hill country farmer. In our area, we are basically concerned with the removal of water from farmlands rather than retaining it.

County Farm Bureau Hails Work Of Conservation Group

Members of the Princess Anne County Farm Bureau congratulated Virginia Dare Soil Conservation District work as proclaimed by the Governor of Virginia.

J. Curtis Payne, Secretary of the Bureau, stated that the Virginia Dare Soil Conservation District has done a tremendous job in the fifteen years that it has served the landowners in the area. The soil conservation workers in each county have contributed greatly to the many land improvements that have been made in Princess Anne and surrounding counties.

Prior to the time that Virginia Dare Soil Conservation District offered its services to this area, there were many acres of submarginal land because of drainage problems. These problems are being eliminated by the landowner seeking technical advice offered by the Soil Conservation Office.

There still remains many acres of land that need proper drainage, and some of the land that lies in the wet areas will never be suitable for cultivation. These are the areas that could be put into production by planting trees. The Virginia Division of Forestry stands ready to help the landowner to plant and plant these trees. This is one phase of soil conservation aid that is not being taken advantage of by Princess Anne County landowners. The Princess Anne County Farm Bureau urges all landowners to use the assistance offered to them by the Virginia Division of Forestry, as well as the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation, the Soil Conservation, and the Extension Service offices. These offices have been of great value to our county in the past, but their hands are tied if the landowners do not ask for help.

The Soil conservation practices have not only served to protect our soils, but also to provide our country with recreation. There have been many farm ponds built in the county that provide recreation in the forms of fishing and swimming for many of our families. All in all, because of the good work performed by the Virginia Dare Soil Conservation District,

Governor Almond Proclaims Natural Resources Week Here

Governor J. Lindsay Almond, Jr., has issued the following proclamation in recognition of the observance of Virginia Natural Resources Week which started October 16 and continues through October 22.

"The conservation, protection, and improvement of the soil and water, forest and wildlife resources of this State is of vital importance to all citizens of this Commonwealth. Over the years, these resources have contributed materially to the development of the industry, business, and agriculture of the State. It is, therefore, imperative that all of the citizens of the Commonwealth be made more aware of their dependence on these resources and their responsibility in helping preserve them.

I therefore designate the week of October 16-22, 1960, as Virginia Natural Resources Conservation Week, that we may gain in our appreciation of these resources on which all of us depend.

The words of wisdom of our first President might well be the words of warning to each of us today. President Washington said:

"If we ruin the lands that are already cleared, a half, a third, or even a fourth, what we manage, well wrought and properly dressed, would produce more than the whole under our system of management."

It is with deep gratitude to soil conservation districts, and to all of the agricultural agencies and organizations, and to the Virginia citizenry as a whole, that I express appreciation for the noteworthy progress that has been made in conserving and developing these indispensable natural resources. Much progress has been made.

Notable among our efforts in promoting a program of wise use of farm lands and forests has been the formation of thirty soil conservation districts, embracing all but one of the agricultural counties of the State. This organized action on the part of Virginia landowners indicates clearly their intention to work together in the all important job of protecting the soil, water, forest, and wildlife resources of the Commonwealth. As a result, complete soil and water conservation plans have been developed on approximately one-third of the farms of the State. These plans are based on the proper use of each acre of land and the application of the required conservation practices to maintain and improve the farm lands and forests of the State. Many thousands of landowners who do not have complete soil and water conservation plans on their farms have applied one or more conservation measures.

Soil Conservation Districts were created under a Virginia law to

By: Linwood Halsey

The Senior Class had its first meeting of the year on October 1, 1960. Elected to office are President, John Snyder; Vice-President, Linwood Halsey; Secretary, Larry Melvin; Treasurer, Ruth Schofield; Recording Secretary, Evelyn Willie; Financial Secretary, Naomi Wright; Corresponding Secretary, Audrey Price; Treasurer, Ethel Haynes; Chaplain, Bernard Greene; Jesse Nimmo, and Charles Brockett, Sergeant-At-Arms.

The cheerleaders held a pep rally on Thursday, October 13, to boost the team spirit before they met Booker T. Washington of Norfolk on Friday the 14th. Miss Sizer, physical education instructor, hopes to have new uniforms for the Homecoming Parade for all members of the Cheer Squad. The series is over and the better team with the most power won. But in the Miss Homecoming Contest the Senior girl with the greatest influence will reign as Queen. Miss Homecoming will be selected from the Senior class. The candidates who are running for queen are Audrey Price, Evelyn Willie, Alferette Morgan, and Vera McCoy. Each candidate has a campaign manager, who speaks for his candidate. The campaign managers are Linwood Halsey for Audrey Price; John Snyder for Evelyn Willie; John Snyder for Alferette Morgan; and Irvin Gary for Vera McCoy. The managers gave a one minute speech over the public address system for his or her candidate on Thursday and Friday, October 14 and 15.

A little background of each candidate will give you something to think about if you had to vote for one.

Audrey Price could be called an old coaster in the game. She was third place winner of the 1959 Miss Homecoming contest. She is a member of the New Homemakers of America, the Caterers Club, the basketball team, and out of school is a member of the Sophisticated Six. She maintains an average scholastic status. She is treasurer of the Senior class, and is the daughter of Mrs. Ella Price of Kempville. Evelyn Willie is a member of the Dramatics Club, Spanish Club, Camera Club, New Homemakers of America, and in her community is a member of the La Petite Society and Savings Club. She is Financial Secretary of the Senior class, and a member of the NACCO. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Willie of Burden. Alferette Morgan belongs to the Tri-Hi-Y, the Dramatics Club, the band, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Morgan of Virginia Beach, Va. ## The MIXING BOWL..

IT'S Fun TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK

SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

For the very latest in food fads and fables . . . for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palate and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

As we all observe United Nations Day on Monday, October 24, let's serve a pancake meal to honor this milestone in world history. Pancakes are a universal food. One of the earliest forms of bread, the pancake was first made by an imaginative cook centuries ago. It was a simple thing of meal and water, cooked on a hot stone. Pancakes are eaten today, in one form or another, on every continent. We call them pancakes, wheat-cakes, flapjacks, griddle cakes, flannelcakes, hot cakes, or batter-cakes, and we eat more than 30 billion a year. Elsewhere in the world they are crepes, blintz, platt, palatsin, They all make mighty good eating, plain or fancy.

Experiment with variations in the filling but follow a basic pancake recipe to the letter if you would serve a memorable meal. Here's a kitchen-tested recipe for a pancake that is a perfect base for either creamed turkey or chicken, or for fruit:

Continental Pancake
1 tablespoon shortening
3 eggs
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 cup milk
Place fat in deep skillet (10 to 12-inch diameter), and place skillet in oven while ingredients are being mixed and oven is preheated to 450°F. Beat eggs and salt smooth. Add milk and beat thoroughly. Remove skillet from oven, and if necessary, spread melted shortening to cover bottom surface. Pour in all the batter. Return to oven and bake 15 minutes or until pancake is puffy, well-risen and brown. Surface should be irregular and pancake well-risen at sides. Remove from oven. Turn out on warm platter. Spoon creamed chicken filling onto center one-third and fold from opposite sides to center. Makes 1 or 2 servings.

Here are six ideas for varying turkey or chicken filling, and other fillings:
England—Season creamed filling with either Sherry or Worcestershire sauce. Top rolled pancake with grated cheese, brown lightly under broiler.
France—Fill with sour cream, cream cheese and strawberries. Serve flaming in kirsch and strawberry liqueur.
Germany—Fill with slices of unpeeled, cooked apples. Dust top with cinnamon sugar.
Hong Kong—Add a cup of edible pea pods to creamed filling mix. Serve with preserved—that—served kumquats, chopped peanuts.
Poland—Fill with chopped apricots, pineapple, orange sections.

Breakfast Through The Ages
In the history of man's food, it's very likely that fruits, which begin our breakfast . . . were man's first foods, too. Primitive cave men could pick berries and fruit from the trees and bushes.

Not much later, he learned to kill animals for their meat, but did not learn to cook the meat until the discovery of fire when he accidentally learned that burnt food tasted better.

Early Egyptians—Wheat was first grown in the near East . . . Egyptians were the first "bread eaters" and could bake a fifty different kinds of bread and cake. The dough was leavened by letting it ferment and was kneaded with Egyptian feet. The Egyptians ate nutritionally basic foods . . . edible oils, wheat, fruits, vegetables, fish, fowl, eggs, and meat. Egyptians' breakfasts were bread, olive oil, and honey.

Early Greeks—Athenians rose at dawn, ate bread and wine. A second breakfast of sausage or fish was eaten before noon. Spartan soldiers were fed a strong black broth three times a day.

Romans—Were very much like the Greeks in food habits. They, too, rose at dawn and ate lightly . . . bread and honey. The big meal came between 9 and 10 a.m. This was true of all civilization through the middle ages and the rhyme goes:

is the way to live 90 and nine."

The Roman meat shops featured pork sausages, bacon and almost every cut of meat we know today. Babylonians and Palestinians — Big dairy nations. A love story of the time tells of a farmer and shepherd wooing the hand of the Babylonian Goddess Innanna. The shepherd offers butter, milk, small cheese, cottage cheese and honey. But the farmer is favored because he "can grow grain, beans, and make bread."

The Early Normans of England . . . copied the Roman way of life, but after the Middle Ages in Europe, breakfasts became more splendid. Queen Elizabeth ate meat of all kinds at breakfast . . . mutton, beef, fowl, and was among the first to use meat at the breakfast table.

American Breakfasts . . . While early Egyptians, Greeks, and Romans all used honey and later sugar syrup for sweetening, we own a debt to the American Indian who first made sweet syrup from the sap of maple trees.

The first American colonists learned to boil the sap of maple trees to make syrup and sugar. At first, this was necessary, since there was no sugar cane in the New World. Later, New England became famous for its maple syrup and added a new sweetener to man's family of foods all over the world.

In this classic American breakfast of fruit plus bread, milk and eggs, combined in the waffle with maple-blended syrup and meat . . . all of breakfast history is represented in a distinctively new way. 64 slices of white bread and breakfast of sausage or fish was eaten before noon. Spartan soldiers were fed a strong black broth three times a day.

Romans—Were very much like the Greeks in food habits. They, too, rose at dawn and ate lightly . . . bread and honey. The big meal came between 9 and 10 a.m. This was true of all civilization through the middle ages and the rhyme goes:

CAYCE SPEAKER FOR A.R.E. SUNDAY FORUM

"Your Creative Unconscious" will be the subject for a lecture to be given by Hugh Lynn Cayce, Manager of the Association for Research and Enlightenment, as the second of the semi-monthly Sunday afternoon Forums being held at Virginia Beach during the fall and winter season. Mr. Cayce's talk will begin at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, October 23, and will be held at the A.R.E. headquarters at 215-6th Street. The public is invited.

Following the lecture there will be a thirty-minute discussion period which will cover various phases of the Association work in the field of psychical research. Members of the staff will be on hand to answer questions and to discuss their particular activities.

2 eggs
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon sugar
dash of salt

Spread bread slices lightly on both sides with butter. Beat eggs slightly. Add milk, sugar, and salt. Blend well. Dip slices of bread in egg-milk mixture. Place slices in moderately hot waffle iron and bake until browned. Serve waffles with maple-blended syrup. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Serve bread 'n' butter waffles with or without bacon or sausage, fruit juice and beverage for a balanced breakfast.

Incidentally, the waffle is even better with day old bread . . . a good way to economize. And, it's terrific with raisin bread or whole wheat.

New $600,000 Lumber Plant To Open At Newport News

One of the most modern lumber warehousing facilities of its type in the nation will be dedicated here October 22 by Peninsula business and industrial leaders.

This is the new $600,000 plant of Johnson & Wimsatt, Inc., manufacturers and wholesalers of lumber and millwork in Virginia and the Carolinas.

The striking new warehouse and office structure forms a part of the city's Copeland Industrial Park project, a growing industrial development organized with the help of city planners and redevelopment experts.

The building—a combination of office and warehouse—was designed by Forrest Cole and Associates, architects and built by Virginia Engineering Company, Inc., of Newport News.

Among the unusual structural features of the building are the use of huge steel spans for roofing, creating a completely unbroken interior space, 210-feet wide and 350-feet long. Surrounding the roof of the warehouse area are cathedral-like blue green windows which allow a high but pleasing light level even on dull days.

The entire office space in the new building forms a brilliant showcase of wood products and uses. Almost everything but the telephones and ceiling (an acoustical board) in the office is made of wood, including desks and walls, doors, and floors. A total of 20 wood varieties are used in the new building, including a company kitchen, with wooden cabinets, of course.

Other design features in the plant include an elaborate protective sprinkler system throughout, a private railway siding for supply movement, and an intercom system to expedite pickups by lumber retailers. Finished lumbers will be stored in the enclosed warehouse area on giant "A" frames and will be moved to truck customers by forklift trucks on the warehouse floor.

The new Johnson & Wimsatt plant occupies a 31-acre lot and includes 85,000 square feet of roofed space. Total value of the property, including machinery and inventory, approaches $1,250,000.

Enlargement Planned. Eventually the company plans to enlarge its Newport News facility with the addition of a wood treatment plant and a window, door and special millwork manufacturing plant.

One piece of processing equipment at the new plant is described as "the most revolutionary in many years in the lumber industry." This is the "Super-satin Surface Machine" introduced by General Plywood Corporation of Louisville, Ky. The machine is a heat and pressure system through which lumber surfaces are made dense and glossy, giving, in a matter of seconds, a smooth and shiny finish to the wood.

It is adaptable to any variety of wood marketed by the company and offers architects, builders, contractors and lumber dealers sharp reductions in finishing costs.

The plant ceremony is planned as a highlight of National Forest Products Week, which is being observed throughout the country from October 16 through October 22.

The program will include tours of the new office and warehouse area and a reception and luncheon for visitors. In attendance will be public officials of Newport News and its Housing and Redevelopment authority, business leaders and representatives of the lumber industry.

Congressman Thomas N. Downing, of Newport News, is scheduled to be master of ceremonies for the dedication and "open house."

Company Background. Johnson & Wimsatt, Inc., is one of the south's oldest lumber marketers and has been in continuous operation for over three quarters of a century.

It was founded in 1883 at Washington, D.C., to do business in the middle Atlantic States. The company owned large timber tracts in North Carolina and in those early days, hauled rough sawn lumber out of Wilmington, N.C., and points on Albemarle Sound up to Washington, D.C., by barge and schooner.

In those days the company had a large fleet of such sailing vessels and was considered the largest operation of its kind in this region.

As times changed and railroads and truck freight became more efficient, the ships were done away with. As the demand for western lumber became more acute, the firm transferred its operation to the west coast and brought lumber products into Washington for distribution by rail.

Today the firm operates a large warehouse and distribution yard in Springfield, Va., and one in Georgetown, Del., in addition to the Newport News facility. A buying office is maintained in Eugene, Oregon, and the company owns and operates several large livestock and dairy farms in the northern Virginia area.

W. K. Wimsatt, son of the founder of the company, is president of the firm and W. J. Leachman is vice-president and chief executive officer. R. V. Riley, Jr., is secretary-treasurer. Since 1935, Mr. Leachman has served as the company's general manager. Edward J. Newton is vice president and general manager of the Newport News division.

ASBURY CHURCH TO OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

The first anniversary of the organization of the Francis Asbury Methodist Church will be observed this Sunday, October 23, with an anniversary service at 11 a.m.

At the anniversary service new members will be received into the fellowship of the church and plans for the new church building will be presented to the congregation for the first time by the building committee. A fellowship dinner will be held at 5:30 to honor the new members being received and will close with a vesper service. Both the church membership and church school enrollment have doubled since organization on Oct. 25, 1959. The congregation is temporarily meeting in the John B. Dey Elementary School on Great Neck Road. The church building will be erected directly across the road from the school. The Rev. E. J. Taylor is pastor.

KENNEDY WELNS READ IN SUN-NEWS

Senator Kennedy to Visit Area in Nov. 4 Appearance

Senator John F. Kennedy will make a visit to this area on the morning of November 4 when he speaks at Granby High School in Norfolk at about 9 a.m. It was announced Tuesday by the candidate's Washington headquarters.

The Democratic presidential candidate will include Norfolk in a busy, tight speaking schedule. After speaking here at 9 o'clock that day he is scheduled for an address in Roanoke at 10:35 a.m. and again at 1 p.m. in Toledo, Ohio, the same day.

Democratic leaders of the 1st and 2nd congressional districts are making plans for the early morning visit of Senator Kennedy. Bus and automobile caravans are being planned from various points throughout the two districts.

A Kennedy speech in this area will set a precedent. No presidential candidate has ever spoken in the Hampton Roads area during this century. It was noted.

The 9 a.m. time presents another problem in that never before have voters been asked to attend a political rally that early in the day. Tentative plans call for Kennedy to speak from a special platform on the Granby athletic field behind the school building.

Leaders feel that Kennedy is running strong in this area and various polls would indicate this. They reason that an appearance by Senator Kennedy here would solidify his position.

Social Welfare Group Meeting Next Thursday

"Spotlight On the Marginal Income Family" will be the subject of the second meeting of the Virginia Council on Social Welfare, District I, which will be held on Thursday, Nov. 10 in the Social Hall of the Navy YMCA, 120 Brooke ave., Norfolk. The meeting will begin promptly at 1 p.m. and close at 3.

Something new and different in the manner of presenting this topic has been planned. The principal speaker will be Dr. Elbert V. Bowden, Professor of Economics, College of William & Mary, Norfolk extension. Appearing with Dr. Bowden will be two supportive participants. They are Miss Elizabeth Dodson, Case Work Supervisor, Norfolk Child and Family Service, and Mrs. Virginia Murden, Senior Case Worker, Portsmouth Social Service Bureau. Mrs. Beulah D. Wheeler, Chairman of the District, will preside. William S. Lee, Jr., Chairman of the Program Committee, will introduce the speakers. Lee has announced that this program was planned by a Committee whose Chairman was Mrs. Mary Pruitt, Child Welfare Worker, Nansemond County Department of Public Welfare. Other members were Dr. Marshall Blue, Professor of Sociology, Virginia State College, Norfolk, J. A. Morrison, Director of District Social Security Office and Mrs. Jess White, a well-known citizen, active in civic work.

The topic is a timely one and Dr. Bowden is reported as being quite enthusiastic about it. "The Committee has hinted that a discussion on 'Families with Marginal Income' can be a highly charged one and some statements may raise such questions as: (1) Are the responsibilities and opportunities of the Marginal Income Group different from that segment of the population with more adequate income? What are the imperatives? What are their values? (2) How does inadequate income effect the achieving of a minimum of well being of persons? (3) What impact has the Social Security program upon the Marginal Income family? What are the challenges? How are we kind of a social order we want and if so, how do we have to reckon with it to make its continuation?"

The Virginia Council on Social Welfare, District I is a part of the State-wide organization which has as its purpose "the bringing of health, education and welfare conditions of Virginia citizens to the attention of the citizenry with the hope that intelligent understanding and widespread interest will

'Women for Kennedy' Organize Here; Schedule Downing Coffee

The theory "if you want to get a job done turn it over to the ladies" has been employed once again here. The result—the spontaneous formation of a "Women for Kennedy" group in Virginia Beach and Princess Anne.

The "Women for Kennedy" group is now 50 strong and met in the Convention Center Tuesday morning and immediately announced plans for a coffee to be held next Wednesday morning for Downing at the American Legion Clubhouse on Lankin Road.

Virginia Beach in Running As Water Conversion Site

The City of Virginia Beach remains among seven cities still in the running for the United States Interior Department's proposed salt water conversion demonstration station. It was learned this week.

Virginia Beach is among the final seven cities an inspection team will visit personally before a final decision is reached before the end of the year.

An inspection team is scheduled to visit Virginia Beach on December 7. This will be a three-man team that is expected to visit each of the surviving seven cities.

DEMOCRAT FAVORED IN WEEKLY SURVEY

KENNEDY HAS 52 TO 37 EDGE OVER NIXON HERE

Democratic Senator John F. Kennedy increased his lead over Republican Vice-President Richard M. Nixon in their race for the presidency of the United States in the latest poll figures conducted by the Virginia Beach Sun-News.

In the third week of the poll the choice of those replying gave Kennedy 52 votes to 37 for Nixon. Last week Nixon edged Kennedy 44 to 43.

The weekly poll is conducted by the mailing of 100 post cards to subscribers of the Sun-News. Approximately 30 cards have been returned each of the three weeks of the poll.

A breakdown of the poll by weeks shows the first week, Kennedy 20, Nixon 10; the second week, Kennedy 13, Nixon 14; and the third week, Kennedy 18, Nixon 13. Totals: Kennedy 52, Nixon 37.

The third week of the poll differed from those of previous weeks in that not a single supporter of Vice-President Nixon made any comment. In the first two weeks both candidates had several comments from their respective supporters.

Here are some of the comments from Kennedy supporters: "I think Kennedy the best for president."

"Best Qualified."

"I also feel that the island within 90 miles of us that is turning 'red' is much more important an issue than the tiny islands within 5 miles of Red China."

Another Kennedy supporter had this amusing comment to make about his man: "Whenever I go to the track I like to pick a winner."

Again this week another 100 cards will be mailed out in the final week of the Sun-News poll before the actual voting on November 8. The results will again be published next week.

Reading Urged As Investment

Mrs. Benton, Quaker author from Philadelphia, recently told the Parents Teacher group of Friends School that although "Books are expensive, there is no better investment for the present and the future" than parents can make for their children.

"Adults read to find out what others think," Mrs. Benton said, "but children read to find out what they themselves believe." Through identifying and suffering with the characters in books, children tend to become like those admired. Thus they learn indirectly through the imagination a way of life and a basis of judgment that could not be obtained through a direct approach of moral preachment."

Led by this thought, the Parents Teacher Group of Friends School each year brings to the Virginia Beach community a chance to look over and choose from several hundred recommended books for children.

The Annual Book Fair will be held at the Friends Meeting House on Laskin Road, November 8th through 11th, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. On Wednesday, the 9th, the hours will also include from 7 to 9 p.m.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Red Dolan's "Madness"

One day, "Red" Dolan was seen at the golf club strapping on a pair of snowshoes!

When some of Red's friends heard about it, they began joking about Red's mystifying "madness." But I figured Red must have had a reason for donning snowshoes, so I asked him about it.

"Well," said Red, "You know that marsh near the 14th hole, Joe. A lot of the boys slice golf balls right into there and lose 'em for good. So I just put on my snowshoes — they let me travel on top of that spongy marsh surface without sinking in — and retrieve those golf balls. You should have seen my last haul — enough to play all season with."

From where I sit, people often form opinions about things before they know all the facts. Some folks, for really no good reason at all, will criticize a man for preferring a glass of beer to some other beverage. It's just a matter of taste. To think otherwise is just plain intolerant. And it's a sure way to "snow" away friends.

PRINCESS ANNE FLATTEBS

Glass, 19-7. Princess Anne rolled over E. C. Glass of Lynnhurst in the first annual Ruritan Bowl here last Friday night, 19-7, extending its winning streak to three games.

Glass won the toss and elected to bat. They fumbled on the opening drive and P.A. recovered. A few plays later the Cavaliers made the same mistake on their own 35 and Ed Walker recovered for the Hilltoppers. After six plays Arthur Brown scored on an end sweep from the 21. Danny Haas booted the extra point to put Glass out front 7-0.

Near the end of the half Gary Boyd pushed over the Cavaliers a 45-yard punt by the Cavaliers which featured the passes of Richard Miller to Fred Hubbs and Herbert Culpepper. The extra point was added on a pass from Miller to Billy Boy. The score was 7-7 at the half.

The Cavalier band under direction of George Bailey touched off the halftime ceremonies with a salute to E. C. Glass. They then formed the traditional P.A. and played the fight song. Next, they outlined the state of Virginia and marked the location of Lynnhurst. Richard Miller and Princess Anne. Paying tribute to the Ruritan Club, the band went on to form a big heart, in which Nancy Evans, the head majorette performed with the band.

ton. Finally the word RURIANTAN was spelled out in large letters. At this time the first annual Ruritan Queen, Miss "Gigi" Linden, and her court were presented by Maury Riganto, President of the Princess Anne Ruritan Club. The four princesses, Misses Sarah Cummings, Susan Greenwood, Flossie Hodgman, and Laura Lee Meyerhoffer, were given pins by Mrs. Frank J. Kellam and mums by Mrs. Robert F. Smith. Miss Linden was then presented with flowers by Mrs. Truly Riganto and crowned by Robert F. Smith, Vice-President of the Ruritan National. The queen, her court, and the guests of honor then returned to their places in the stands to put the finishing touches on a very colorful halftime show.

The Cavaliers completely dominated the second half holding Glass to minus 20 yards rushing, and no first downs. Lynn Jones blocked a kick on the Hilltoppers' 30 and the ball rolled out on the five; Herbert Culpepper circled the end for the TD.

Gary Boyd went over again for P.A. with 31 seconds to play to make it 19-7 for the Cavaliers. Gaining 81 yards in fifteen carries for Princess Anne, Boyd was named the outstanding player of the game and received the Ruritan Bowl Trophy.

NEW MAILING CONVENIENCE—The Post Office Department's Research and Development Laboratory in Washington, D.C., is experimenting with a new "one hand" mail box. Mrs. Norman Jean Biglin, a Washington Postal employee, is shown demonstrating the box. The box not only has three slots for mailing letters, instead of the customary one (a distinct advantage on busy street corners permitting several persons to mail their letters simultaneously), but letters can be deposited when only one hand is free. One the slots, incidentally, is for mailing letters from autos. The box permits one-handed operation because it has top-hinged flaps, much like those on mail drops on the home front door, and it is only necessary to push the letter in. With other mail boxes it is necessary, with most types, to "pull down" with one hand and insert the letter with the other. The experimental new box will be placed in operation in the near future in a number of cities over the Nation (as yet undetermined). It is one of the many developments of the new programs of research and postal improvements ordered by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield.

A Time for Greatness

"Courage, not complacency is our need today—leadership, not salesmanship. We stand at a turning point in history. We must prove all over again whether this nation or any nation so conceived can long endure, whether our society with its freedom of choice, its breath of air, its range of alternatives, can compete with a single-minded advance of the communist system. Are we willing to match the Russian sacrifice of the present for the future? Or must we sacrifice our future to enjoy the present. That is the challenge our nation must face."

For leadership which will match the greatness of our times—on November 8th elect—

The Bay-Bridge Tunnel Commission

Wednesday was a significant day for this area of Virginia as ceremonies were held commemorating the start of construction on the Chesapeake Bay Bridge-Tunnel that will link Tidewater Virginia and the Eastern Shore when completed sometime in 1964.

The actual start of construction on this huge engineering project is a historic moment. It is the realization of years and years of study, planning and plain hard work on the part of many persons. But, the individuals who have been closest to the project through all of this period and the gentlemen who gave much of their thought, time and effort to this realization are the distinguished members of the Chesapeake Bay Bridge-Tunnel Commission.

Above all others, and there have been many, these gentlemen are to be congratulated for the work they have done in bringing about the reality of what once seemed only a dream. It is true that many other individuals devoted much of their time to the bridge-tunnel project, but in the end it was the persistent spirit of the members of the commission who faced hurdle after hurdle to reach their goal and desire.

Our own member of the Chesapeake Bay Bridge-Tunnel Commission, Richard S. Holland, has been recognized as one of the hardest working members of that body and a man who accepted the many setbacks as merely inevitable delays. He always believed that the bridge-tunnel could be built, would be built and could be financed. His optimism and his perseverance certainly played a big part in keeping the commission's hopes alive through some of its darkest moments.

Mr. Holland serves as vice-chairman of the commission representing Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County. He has done a tremendous job for this area and his talents for hard work have been a notable asset to the commission.

The start of construction on this great project is an epic event in our lives and we can look with pride to the work of Mr. Holland and the other fine members of the Chesapeake Bay Bridge-Tunnel Commission, who have guided the destiny of this great transportation link to a successful realization.

Beach "High" On List

The possible site of the Interior Department's proposed East Coast salt water conversion demonstration station has narrowed down to seven cities and Virginia Beach is among those cities. This is good news.

The eventual site for the station is expected to be decided sometime between now and the first of the year. Virginia Beach survived from a long list of possible sites, which included Norfolk.

According to an official of the Interior Department Virginia Beach rates "high" on the list of the cities remaining in contention. Competing with Virginia Beach are Wrightsville Beach, N.C., Port Orange and Key West, Fla., Cape May, N.J., Greenport, N.Y., and Portsmouth, N.H.

The seven sites on the final list will be visited by an inspection team. The Virginia Beach visit is scheduled for December 7 by the three-man team.

It would be a wonderful thing if Virginia Beach is selected for this first experimental station that would convert salt water to fresh, usable water. We can keep our fingers crossed that the Beach will finish on top in this race.

Rudee Inlet Study Progresses

The Rudee Inlet Authority and the work ahead for this project got a real boost last Monday when the Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors allocated $5,000 for a feasibility study of the proposed Rudee Inlet marina.

Now the Rudee Inlet Authority proposes to seek a like amount from the City of Virginia Beach so that it can take the first steps that may lead to eventually creating a boat marina at Rudee Inlet.

The Rudee Inlet Authority was created by the 1960 General Assembly and has been empowered to develop Rudee Inlet as a pleasure boat marina. The authority also is authorized to issue bonds. In fact, the Board of Supervisors allocated the current funds on the basis that if, and when the authority sells bonds the money will be repaid.

Should the study now contemplated prove feasible, and we believe it will, the development of Rudee Inlet at this time could mean a great deal to this area. The authority has set about its task in earnest and we wish for it much success in its task ahead.

Virginia Beach Moose Lodge to Observe "Day"

The Virginia Beach Moose Lodge No. 1082 will observe "Mooseheart Day" with the holding of a special program at the Moose Home on the 31st of October 1960, at 8 p.m. It was announced today by J. V. Dancy Sr., Governor of the Lodge.

Bro. Garrison, Post North Moose will be the featured speaker at the Mooseheart Day program in the local lodge. He will tell of the origin, purpose and history of Mooseheart, the famed Moose City of Children located near Aurora, Ill.

Refreshments will be served. October 27th has been designated as Mooseheart Day because that is the birthday of the late James J. Davis, first director general of the Moose Fraternity.

Serving as chairman of the Mooseheart Day program is Bro. Murphy.

Scouts Distributing "Get Out Vote" Reminders Throughout Area

You'll probably find something hanging from your doorknob on Saturday, October 29.

That "something" will be a Liberty Bell Door Knob Hanger urging you to go to the polls on Tuesday, November 8, and vote!

Some 250,000 of these hangers will be distributed that Saturday throughout the Tidewater area by the Boy Scouts.

Involved in the "Get Out the Vote" campaign will be the Tidewater Boy Scout Council's professional staff, the District adult Unit Leaders, and more than 12,000 Cub, Boy and Explorer Scouts.

In the Tidewater Council, composed of Norfolk, Portsmouth, South Norfolk, Virginia Beach, Princess Anne County, Norfolk County, and eight eastern counties in North Carolina, the campaign is sponsored by the Golden Jubilee Committee, which has sponsored all annual scouting events during this 50th Anniversary year of Boy Scouts.

The situationist that forms the basis for the plot—the presence of women aboard a submarine in wartime—was not dreamt up by the authors, for Army nurses were evacuated from the Philippines by submarine and the U.S. Gato took aboard patients from a native maternity hospital, with two of the women giving birth at sea.

It was the U.S.S. Bowfin that fired at a land, tied up at a wharf only to have the torpedo veer off and hit a truck on shore. It was the U.S.S. Thresher that surfaced happily on lighting an American destroyer only to be met by a barrage of gunfire and depth charges. It was the commander of the U.S.S. Skipjack who went through eleven months of putting in requisitions to get 150 rolls of toilet paper.

And there was a pink submarine—perhaps not quite as pink as the sub in "Operation Petticoat" but with more of the orange tinge of a weathered red lead undercoat. It was the U.S.S. Seadragon which was tied up at a wharf getting a paint job when the Japanese air force struck. Forced to flee, she was wrecked the South Pacific—a shocking pastel apparition.

And just who is Bill? A parent's mind stalls right in the middle of that intersection...

From what background has Bill come? In what moral direction is he heading? Where did Ruth meet him? Where will he take her?

Jotting the family's peace of mind, this sudden collision between confidence in our daughter and uncertainty about someone's son.

Another jolt: If Bill's parents are the right sort of people, they're probably wondering about our Ruth!

Many families have fewer such anxieties because they are active in the life of a church. Their boys and girls meet in an atmosphere that calls forth our best. Fun, friendship and inspiration are blended in worthwhile youth activities.

And if love blooms... no awkward compromise of conviction such as heeds some... but a common faith in God to enrich a couple's affection and strengthen their marriage.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor in the building of character and good citizenship. It is a source of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are few social reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

By Charley Oop

This is old Charley Oop signing in. We have a real nice teenager of the week and big things are happening. This Friday is the final home game for the Virginia Beach High School Seashawks so be sure and be there to help the team. Also, if any boy or girl whose age is eight to 18 and who is interested in bowling be sure to contact Joe Phelps at the Thunderbird Lanes for information on the leagues. There is a new attraction in town. A disc golf course has opened. This par 18 golf course is located on Laskin Road near Birdneck Point. Be sure and visit it.

Teenager Of The Week
This week's Teenager of the Week is Jimmie Allen. Jim is a transfer from Fork Union where he received many honors. He attended Fork Union for three years and two of the honors that came his way were being captain of the eighth grade football team and president of his class.

Jim is on the varsity football team at Virginia Beach High School playing left halfback. Jim is a 17-year-old junior and has lived in Virginia Beach all of his life. We salute Jim as Teenager of the Week.

Homecoming Was Fun
The Homecoming weekend at Virginia Beach High School was fun, except for the football game results. The dance was enjoyed by all. Sorry this is short, but see you next week.

CALENDAR OF EVENTS
The Knight's Boys Club of Virginia Beach will hold their weekly dance at the Community House on Saturday night from 8 p.m. until 12 p.m. The Rhythm Rockers will play. Admission will be 75 cents.

The Thunderbird Bowling Lanes announce that Junior Leagues are being formed for the winter months. Those interested should contact Joe Phelps at the popular recreation center to sign up for the leagues. It's lots of fun and good exercise, too.

Farmlands Shrinking in County With Population Growth Here

By GEORGE WALKER

The population growth predicted in the 50's is now making itself felt in Norfolk and Princess Anne counties as shown by the shrinking farmlands. Land that yesterday was fertile cropland is today a housing development. Much of the better classes of land have been sold to corporations who in turn developed this property into housing sites.

The productivity to feed, clothe and house, as well as provide employment for this ever expanding population falls to the lot of agriculture. Although the farmer is in the minority today (8 percent of the population) he provides employment for 40 percent of the county's population. This fact should be enough to put the point across that the economy of the country is based on agriculture. The farmer is still the backbone of the country's economy. These factors should indicate the importance of keeping the farm economy stable.

In order to maintain higher production levels our soil and water resources must be preserved. All of the people of this country have a stake in, and a part of the responsibility of protecting and conserving our farmlands. Recognizing this the Congress appropriated funds to share with farmers the cost of carrying out needed soil and water conservation practices. The Agricultural Conservation Program is a means of making this Federal cost-sharing available to the farmer.

Much of the land in Norfolk and Princess Anne counties is low and in need of drainage in order that the productive level of the soil may be built up. Once adequate drainage has been effected this soil can become highly productive through good management practices. This not only increases the returns from crops, but increases the value of the land as well as providing additional tax returns.

Drainage is one of the major conservation practices for which funds are used under the Agricultural Conservation Program to share in the cost of carrying out this needed conservation practice. A large portion of the land in this area is low in magnesium and calcium. These two plant food elements are essential for proper growth and development of the plant. Lack of one or the other will affect the productivity and result in poor yields. A deficiency may often times be reflected in the pH reading made from a soil sample. This deficiency can be corrected by the application of lime to the land. Liming farmland is another conservation practice under the Agricultural Conservation Program for which funds are used in sharing in the costs of the practice.

Cover crops are used on land to help to prevent the leaching of plant food elements during the winter months. When turned under they supply nutrients to the soil from the decaying vegetative matter. Winter cover crops improve the soil structure by making the soil more loose and friable aiding in retaining more moisture; they assist in deeper root penetration and help to prevent severe damage to the crops during a drought. This is another conservation program in which the cost is shared in order to conserve and maintain the productivity of the soil.

Cost-shares are paid on the establishment of permanent pastures. This practice provides a year round vegetative cover that helps to conserve the soil nutrients. For example when a drop of rain hits bare land it packs the soil and washes away a certain amount of plant food elements. Where a vegetative cover exists it shatters the droplet of rain before it reaches the soil and allows the moisture to slowly penetrate into the soil and assist in conserving moisture storing it there until the plant needs additional moisture.

Reforestation operations in which pine tree seedlings are planted in cut over timber lands not only help to conserve the forest lands, but help to maintain the timber supply of this country. The Agricultural Conservation Program assists the farmer in cost-sharing. This program may include reforestation, killing undesirable hardwoods or scarification of the soil and reseeded. Conserving our timber lands not only helps to prevent runoff and leaching of the plant food elements but the decaying leaves help to provide valuable organic matter to the soil. This in turn assists in the build up of our top soil. In times of national emergencies these forestry products become a high priority.

Farm ponds provide a means of preventing runoff of our top soil by regulating the amount of water discharged at one time. They provide an additional water supply to be used in times of dry weather for irrigation purposes as well as watering place for our livestock. As an added attraction they provide a place for recreation and relaxation.

The maintenance and improvement of the productivity of the soil is of vital importance if this country is to maintain its lead in the present day battle of wit and energy with other countries who are determined to outstrip the facilities and industries of these United States. Food and employment are vital in the economy of the country. We cannot take from our soils without replacing a part of the plant food elements that are so necessary in our agriculture today. All of the people of this nation, not the farmer alone, have a stake in, and a part of the responsibility for protecting and conserving our farm lands.

Farm Stock Ponds Aiding in Princess Anne Conservation

By Aubrey N. Holmes

Soil Conservation Service

Technicians have assisted the Virginia Dare Soil Conservation District in Princess Anne County with the construction of 79 farm stock watering and irrigation ponds. These ponds vary in size from three tenths of an acre to 35.5 acres in size and serve a multiple purpose to the farmers in that they afford better use of pasture, water for fire protection and recreational areas.

The Soil Conservation Service has secured from the Fish and Wildlife Service the initial supply of fish to stock these ponds. Blue gills, redear, and bass are the most desirable species for ponds in this area. Blue gills and redear are stocked at the rate of 1000 per acre and are put in approximately five to six months prior to bass, which are stocked at the rate of 100 per acre. This stocking rate is based upon the pond being properly fertilized with a commercial fertilizer at the rate of 800 to 1000 pounds per surface area. The recommended analysis is 8-8-2 or 8-8-4. If these analysis are not stocked an 8-8-8 might be cheaper as the extra push will not be harmful to the fish.

A pound to be successful for continuous fishing must be kept in proper balance as to the number of blue-gills and bass. The bass feed on the blue gills. A partial stocking with blue gills is a mistake. A few adults placed in the pond before the bass are added will immediately overstock it. A single pair will raise 10 to 20 thousand fingerlings. No pond can have enough food to grow such large numbers to pan size. No more than 1500 blue gills can reach usable size in a one acre pond—even when fertilized heavily. When the pond becomes overstocked with blue gills they will grow rapidly until they reach the pond's capacity. Then they stop growing. These half-grown blue gills are large enough to lay eggs. Yet, they are not big enough for the frying pan. They are, however, too large for the bass to eat. Although the bass lay plenty of eggs, they raise no young because the hundreds of half-starved blue gills eat the eggs out of the spawning beds.

Should this condition exist in your pond, contact your local Soil

ST. GREGORY WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS NOV. 1

St. Gregory's Woman's Club will meet Nov. 1st, 8 p.m., at the Aragon Elementary School. Speaker for the evening will be Mrs. Sigmund A. Bobczynski, chairman of the International Relations for the National Council of Catholic Women. She will speak on the "Madonna Plan."

We were happy to welcome twelve new members at our last monthly meeting.

Conservation Service Technician in order that the over supply of blue gill can be brought back in the proper balance. Water weeds can also be very troublesome if they are not controlled. These can be controlled by Chem-Pels Z, 4D applied at the rate of 100 to 200 pounds per acre.

A pond properly stocked, fertilized, and managed can be made to support 400 to 600 pounds of fish per acre. In the second year after the pond is stocked and fertilized, it will contain the limit of fish—measured by weight. No more fish will be produced unless you remove some fish. As fish are taken out, enough food is released to grow an equal number of pounds. Then the remaining fish will gain 10 pounds if 10 pounds are caught out, or 100 pounds if 100 pounds are removed. A good pond will stand fishing just as often as the fish will bite.

PRINCESS ANNE HI SCHOOL NEWS

By: CAROLYN JENNINGS

The first annual Ruritan Bowl took place last Friday night. Gail Laskin, chosen from a group of four girls. The three remaining contestants were Laura Lee Meyerhoffer, Sarah Cummings, and Flossie Hodgeman. The queen was crowned at halftime. The game, sponsored by the Ruritan and Princess Anne High School, brought on another victory for the Cavaliers, this time over E. C. Glass High School of Lynchburg, Virginia. The final score was 187.

"The Princess Anne Ruritan Trophy" was awarded to Gail Boyd of Princess Anne as the most outstanding player of that game. Gary, a senior, made two of P.A.'s three touchdowns. Maury Higgins, president of the Princess Anne Ruritan Club, stated that he believed that the award would develop into an annual affair.

Tomorrow the rising Cavaliers will meet Suffolk in the Suffolk Stadium. Princess Anne has been gradually working its way uphill in the past three games, and hopes to reach the top by the close of the season, at present, the outlook is good and Suffolk can expect a real fight for victory.

Out of the 50 girls trying out for junior varsity cheering this year, only ten were chosen. The girls' gym and health instructors and several of the varsity cheerleaders selected the finalists.

The new J.V. cheerleaders are, Susan Lamorelle, Ann Barcroft, Nancy Fox, Betsey Silmons, Theresa Newman, Susan Lyons, Jane

Calfee, Patsy Fox, Carol Colona, and Laura Peed. All of the J.V.'s this year are sophomores with the exception of freshman Patsy Fox.

Sponsor of the group will be Miss Roxanne Dark. The cheerleaders will cheer at all the junior varsity games and will assist the varsity cheerleaders at the morning and afternoon pep rallies. The J.V.'s also sell programs at the home games.

Billy Boyce, Lynn Jones, Fred Hubbs and David Fisher, are the lettermen returning to the Princess Anne basketball team which took fourth in the state last year. The first game of the season will be held on December 13, against Maury at Princess Anne. Coach Frear has hopes of an even better record this year.

Gary Williamson and Toni Bratten, members of the Senior bowling league received the highest averages at their bowling tryouts. Gary had the highest score for the boys with 162, and Toni of the girls, her score was 132. The league is sponsored by the Thunderbird Bowling Lanes.

The officer of the new league have recently been selected. They are: Toni Bratten, president; David Noble, vice-president; Carol Dunton, secretary; and Gary Williamson, treasurer.

This newly formed league is a member of the American Junior Bowling Congress. All members of this group will be able to compete for the national championship during the Christmas holidays. The competition will be held in home lanes, and results delivered to the main headquarters who will determine the winner of the competition.

Princess Anne Seniors visited William and Mary College in Williamsburg on Saturday, October 15. Good weather in the morning and early afternoon accompanied them and in all the class had an enjoyable trip which included the Homecoming game of William and Mary against V.P.I.

The Distributive Education Club of Princess Anne attended the conference that have been held at Norview High School. The subject of the conferences was "Parliamentary Procedure", a thing seemingly lacking in most high school organizations. The meetings lasted over a period of two days. Several other of the area schools attended the conference. Among those attending were Maury, Granby, and James Blair, as well as Norview.

Mrs. Don D. Funk, national parliamentarian of the D.E.C.A., presided.

MRS. CARMINE WINS HAIRSTYLING AWARD

Mr. Carmine Tronetto, manager of the Virginia Beach salon of Taylor Burgess Hairstyling, was awarded his third trophy in four years in a recent hair shaping contest.

Furnishing his own model and equipment, Mr. Carmine was judged on the basis of hair texture, thickness, length, uniformity of cut, and tapering both before and after. This was within a thirty minute time period.

Mr. Carmine is no novice at winning hairstyling awards. At the Norfolk Convention in 1957 and in 1959 at the State convention in Richmond he took similar honors.

At the first night's speech, his subject was "Conducting a Meeting". Several film strips were shown and further instruction was given. A dinner was served at the Beach House Restaurant, at the conclusion of the meetings. After the dinner which was held in the Strim Room, a talk was given by Mr. Ronald Friedman of James Blair High School. This concluded the extensive D.E. conference.

The showing of Ben Hur in Norfolk attracted the Latin and English students of Princess Anne High School. Special rates were offered to students and groups of twenty or more. Among those students attending the movie were the sophomore and senior Latin classes in Latin.

The teachers, bus drivers and manager of the Loews theater, complimented the students on their excellent behavior. After questioning several students, the general opinion of Ben Hur seems favorable and received comments from "the most" to "terrific". Which indicates that the acceptance was favorable.

The Dramatics Club will soon begin casting for their first production of the season, "The Curious Savage." This is a comedy. Club members are anxiously awaiting the arrival of the scripts as the casting will begin as soon after that time as possible. Approximately thirty people have applied for various positions on the technical staff and for the position of student director, a job of responsibility and action. If the enthusiasm continues as it has in the past few weeks, in preparation for the production, that Princess Anne should be host to one of the most spirited performances ever!

Committees have been formed under the direction of vice-president of the Dramatics Club, Brenda Koon. These committees will be responsible for scenery, lighting, make-up, etc.

The Senior Class of 1961 has elected its officers for the coming year. They are, President, Wingfield Hughes, Vice-President, John Harrison; Secretary, Pam Cole; and treasurer, Gerry Whitehead. These students will lead the class activities and guide the functions of the class throughout the year. The senior class steering committee will soon be formed. This committee consists of the class officers and homeroom presidents of the Senior Class.

The Junior Class elections are in the campaigning stage at present with the election day very near. After the Juniors have organized, the other classes will do the same.

VIRGINIA BEACH HI SCHOOL NEWS

By: Virginia Petty and

Y.B.H.S. held its annual Beach Bowl and Homecoming game Friday night. Queen Gay Finley and her court of lovely girls from each class, reigned royally over the game and dance festivities. The senior princesses, Mary Ben Wooling, Ann Stell, Virginia Petty, and Diane Abbott, rode on the float with Gay. The float was blue and white with shells in back of each girl.

Each club, class, and organization connected with the school was entered in the traditional Beach Bowl Parade. Prizes were given for the best floats in it. The International Relations Club won the prize for the best float entered. Second place was held by the Junior Class; third was won by Junior Science Club.

The chairman of the different committees were as follows: Chairman of the Beach Bowl, Jerry Walsh; Dance sub-committee, Ann Stell; Parade Marshal, Mike Thomas; and game ceremonies, Gordon Simpson.

After the game with Northampton, a dance in honor of the Queen and her attendants was held in the gym. The "decoration" theme was "Ode to the Rainbow," as it was at the half-time ceremonies.

The Junior Girls Halloween Carnival will be held in the gym on Monday, October 31, from 7:30 to 8:00 p.m.

Weight guessing, cake walks, and the Spook House are some of the events planned. Much planning has gone into this, and it should be the best ever this year.

The Seahawks have not won too many games this season. Everyone is looking forward to next week's game, Smithfield pitted against Virginia Beach, which will be the last home game for this year.

If pep and school spirit boost a team to victory, the Seahawks should show some good action. The cheerleaders, Diane Abbott, Gay Finley, Bonnie Bill, Hazel Tucker, Debbie Chappell, Marilu Jarr, Paula Hanabrough and Toddy Garrison, have done a marvelous job in promoting school spirit.

The "Beachcomber" went on sale the day of the Beach Bowl. With six pages full of pictures and articles about the students, the newspaper sales reached a high goal. During the parade and game, students sold copies of the "Beachcomber."

Well-earned recognition should be given to the three typists, Jacki Dege, Phyllis Davis, and Sue Camp, who worked so diligently on meeting the deadline for the paper. Many members of the staff also worked overtime to help publish the Beach Bowl issue.

Beachcomber Comes Out

The first issue of the Beachcomber, the Virginia Beach High School newspaper, came out on Friday, the 21st of October. It was the first paper in the history of Virginia Beach High School to have six pages. This issue has many pictures and new articles. There is a complete coverage of the Beach Bowl in this, the first issue of the Beachcomber.

Princess Anne County 4-H members are participating in learning about the Soil Conservation Program.

Studying wildlife of this area directly involves learning about the Soil Conservation Program. The Salem Road Community 4-H has elected "Wildlife" as their project for the year.

A recent activity of the club has been a tour of the Back Bay Game Refuge. During the tour the club members learned what is being done to preserve the wildlife of the area, by providing favorable conditions for growing food to attract wildlife. Several club members took an airplane ride around the refuge and had explanations given to them of conditions existing there.

Princess Anne 4-H Members are concerned about protecting the soil, water, forest and wildlife resources of the area. Many are taking an active part in the program through learning about its importance.

SOIL CONSERVATION A CONCERN OF EVERY CITIZEN
Our land and water resources are the very foundation of our industrial and agricultural strength. They are principle sources of our wealth.

Over the years, the use of our soil and water resources has been accompanied by an accelerated soil erosion, ravenous floods, sedimentation of reservoirs and harbors, and other forms of severe damage throughout the state of Virginia. Most of this damage has resulted from improper use of land and failure to apply conservation practices to the land. The proper use and treatment of land is the basis on which other phases of an agricultural program must rest.

Studies and practical experience have shown that most effective work in soil and water conservation can be done when the people of the land take a leading part. There are also other factors particularly true of the American farmer that reflect a preference for a self government form of organization. With local control for dealing with the measures necessary for soil and water conservation. For not only is productive soil needed to support the people and the government, but fortunately, the solution to problems in land use and soil and water losses lends itself to democratic approach. The federal government and agencies of the state can lend assistance to this important program more properly and more effectively through a locally controlled and self-governed organization. Moreover, industry, business, civic and farm organizations and the people in general have demonstrated that they are willing and ready to help when provided through which they can channel their efforts towards a solution of this important economic and social problem. All of these groups realize that the leadership for such an organization must come from the people who live on the land.

The Virginia Dare Soil Conservation District operating in Norfolk and Princess Anne Counties has provided this medium for all agencies, organizations, and individuals, and have enabled them to pool their efforts in dealing with these problems of the land.

Since the passage of the Virginia Soil Conservation District Act by the 1955 Session of the General Assembly, landowners of Virginia have organized 29 soil conservation districts, which embrace every agricultural county of the state, with the exception of one. The phenomenal growth that has taken place in the organization of districts in this state and in the nation, and the development district programs, is a tribute to the basic concepts of soil conservation districts.

1. That our land must be kept permanently productive.
2. That the people themselves must assume the main responsibility for doing the job.
3. That when provided a medium through which they can make their contributions to this all important job, agencies, organizations, and individuals, can and do work together to get the job done.

Farm Drainage is Important
The draining of farm land is something like the joke about the leaking roof. When the weather is dry, it is hard to realize that it needs fixing and when the weather is wet, it can't be fixed. At certain times of the year, many, many, many acres of water which need to be removed for maximum returns from the land and the cultivation. Open ditches are used to drain water from surface pockets and the drainage of water that accumulates below the surface, in soils.

GOOD OUTLETS NEEDED
Farm ditches require adequate outlets to dispose of the water draining from the fields. With machinery and modern construction methods, ditches are dug with far less labor than once was required. This has prompted many farmers to take closer looks at their drainage needs, and interest is growing each year with more and more farmers requesting assistance for farm and community drainage projects.

Virginia Dare Soil Conservation District, Division ACP
The District Board of Supervisors and the farmers of the Virginia Dare Soil Conservation District have made extensive use of the agricultural conservation program, ACP, over the years, as one way to increase the amount of good conservation farming practice in the district. Representatives of the governing body of the district, the district forester, Extension Service, the ACS and the County ASC Committee have included in the agricultural conservation program, those conservation practices which they think are most needed and which are least likely to be used without some incentive. As a result of this careful and thoughtful planning of the ACP by the farm leadership in the District, the program of the Virginia Dare Soil Conservation District has been made more effective than it otherwise would have been.

It is well recognized that good thick vigorous cover on the land provides the best possible conservation on most land. This is not limited to pastures—Forest trees are even better.

Many of our pastures are overgrazed because of unsatisfactory location of the water supply. To correct this, cost-sharing was paid toward the construction of ponds in the District.

Land drainage is another item of importance in the District conservation program. The ACP has assisted almost all of the farmers engaged in drainage projects during the last five years.

MILK PRODUCTION UP BY USING WATER RESOURCES
Milk production, you can increase the production of milk by using water resources. This doesn't mean you put water in the milk, though, it means that you put the water through the cows.

On many farms in the County, stock ponds have been constructed so that cows can have plenty of fresh water at their convenience. Water is one of the limited factors in milk production, and it is essential that cows have sufficient quantity in order to produce the maximum amount of milk.

CONVERTING CUT OVER LANDLAND PAYS
Many farmers and timberland owners in Princess Anne County can take a lesson from their neighbors throughout the State of Virginia. Their neighbors have learned to realize the needs and benefits of converting cut over brush land into a stand of young growing pines.

Hard, woods do not pay off financially, and should be harvested to the extent possible, the remaining trees should be poisoned, and then the land should be planted back to the pine trees. The Virginia Division of Forestry will provide the technical service, the ACP Program will provide a cost share of the operation.

RED CLOVER GOING OVER BIG
Princess Anne County Dairyman and Beef producers like the looks of red clover as a replacement for alfalfa.

Alfalfa is becoming more and more difficult to produce on the dairyfarm in the county, and dairymen are always vitally concerned about top quality forage for their dairy animals. Prior to 1958, Joe Hermsberger was the only farmer in Princess Anne County growing red clover for hay. In 1958, we got Joe to have a demonstration with his red clover hay, and in addition, we had three other plant red clover for demonstration purposes. These were John Potter, Pembroke Farms, and George Waller.

The purpose of these demonstrations were to show dairymen, beef cattle producers, and other livestock producers the value of red clover hay. Some of the farmers do not have well drained land in which to produce alfalfa, and have to result to lespedeza. Dairymen say that lespedeza is not good hay for dairy cattle. In these 4 demonstrations, we were trying to find a hay that would give high quality and high yields at an economical cost upon land that would not produce alfalfa. I believe that we have found the answer in red clover. Red Clover seems to do very well on all types of land. The four demonstrations started in 1958 were seeded on four different soil types. In my observations, I have not been able to determine any differences in the red clover quality or yield on any of the four demonstrations.

4-H Judging Team

Princess Anne 4-H Soils Appreciation Judging Team discuss soil type and make recommendations for agronomic production.

On many farms in the County, stock ponds have been constructed so that cows can have plenty of fresh water at their convenience. Water is one of the limited factors in milk production, and it is essential that cows have sufficient quantity in order to produce the maximum amount of milk.

CONVERTING CUT OVER LANDLAND PAYS
Many farmers and timberland owners in Princess Anne County can take a lesson from their neighbors throughout the State of Virginia. Their neighbors have learned to realize the needs and benefits of converting cut over brush land into a stand of young growing pines.

Hard, woods do not pay off financially, and should be harvested to the extent possible, the remaining trees should be poisoned, and then the land should be planted back to the pine trees. The Virginia Division of Forestry will provide the technical service, the ACP Program will provide a cost share of the operation.

RED CLOVER GOING OVER BIG
Princess Anne County Dairyman and Beef producers like the looks of red clover as a replacement for alfalfa.

Alfalfa is becoming more and more difficult to produce on the dairyfarm in the county, and dairymen are always vitally concerned about top quality forage for their dairy animals. Prior to 1958, Joe Hermsberger was the only farmer in Princess Anne County growing red clover for hay. In 1958, we got Joe to have a demonstration with his red clover hay, and in addition, we had three other plant red clover for demonstration purposes. These were John Potter, Pembroke Farms, and George Waller.

The purpose of these demonstrations were to show dairymen, beef cattle producers, and other livestock producers the value of red clover hay. Some of the farmers do not have well drained land in which to produce alfalfa, and have to result to lespedeza. Dairymen say that lespedeza is not good hay for dairy cattle. If you're planning your coffee party in the evening, Lemon Chiffon pie like a cloud with a halo—served with coffee would be perfect. Here's a recipe you might like to try.

Lemon Chiffon Pie
1 pkg. lemon-flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 cup sugar
1 lemon, juiced and grated peel
1 tall can (1½ cups)

evaporated milk, whipped
1 9-inch baked pastry shell
Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add sugar, lemon juice and grated peel. Chill until syrupy. Meanwhile, pour evaporated milk into freezer tray. Freeze until soft ice crystals form around edges. Turn into chilled bowl and whip until stiff. Fold whipped evaporated milk into gelatin mixture. Spoon into pie shell. Chill. Sprinkle with toasted coconut if desired.

Another delightful treat would be a fig pudding with lemon sauce. Want to try it?

2 cups sifted enriched self-rising flour
1 cup sugar
1 cup finely chopped dried figs
1 egg, beaten
1 cup milk
1 cup melted shortening
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
Lemon Sauce

Sift together flour and sugar. Stir in figs. Combine egg, milk, shortening and vanilla extract. Add to dry ingredients stirring until mixture is smooth. Turn into greased 8-inch square pan and bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 35 to 40 minutes. Serve warm or cold with Lemon Sauce.

Makes 9 servings.
Lemon Sauce
1 cup enriched self-rising flour
1 cup sugar
1 cup water
1 cup butter or margarine
3 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons lemon rind
Mix together flour and sugar in saucepan. Add water gradually, stirring constantly. Simmer mixture about 15 minutes. Stir in butter, lemon juice and rind. Continue cooking until sauce is clear and thick.

BUY BONDS!
Automatic extension of outstanding E Bonds, paying interest on accumulated interest, brings the yield of some of these up to 5 per cent on the original investment. The earliest E's issued are now in their twentieth year; another ten-year extension has already been promised by the Treasury.

In a poll of candidates for Mrs. America of 1960, it was learned that eight out of ten had saved through United States Savings Bonds to buy their homes.

Bi-Partisan Platform To Get Votes: Popular Campaign Kaffeeklatsches!

Campaign fever is running high—and we can all take an active part in the election campaign in the most pleasant way possible. How? At Campaign Coffees—one matter of policy on which Republicans and Democrats consistently agree. Campaign Coffee Parties mean votes!

Coffees for candidates, which started during the 1952 elections, are famous for their success in winning votes. Even the most reluctant citizen can't resist the lure of coffee! These informal get-togethers give us a chance to meet our candidate, ask questions and offer assistance to boost his chances of winning the election. Your local political club will help you set up a Coffee for your candidate. For refreshments, the best rule to follow is simplicity. You'll want lots of your best coffee, in a steady supply; small, easy-to-make sandwiches and a delicious new kind of sweet—like Chocolate Mint Cookies. Limit your party to a reasonable size—questions are asked more freely and answers more easily heard at smaller gatherings. Beyond that, relax and keep the coffee brewing!

BUY SAVINGS BONDS
A ten-year extension of all E Bonds is now guaranteed by the Treasury. E Bonds that have matured since May 1951 have already been automatically extended once and will get another renewal beginning with their twenty-first year.

Chocolate Mint Cookies
1 cup butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
1 egg
2 cups sifted enriched flour
8 cup cocoa
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 cup cold double-strength coffee
This chocolate peppermint wafer

Cream butter or margarine. Add sugar, cream until light and fluffy. Add unbeaten egg, beat thoroughly. Mix and sift flour, cocoa, salt, baking powder and baking soda. Add dry ingredients alternately with coffee to creamed mixture. Wrap dough in waxed paper, or foil, chill several hours. Roll out on floured board about ¼ inch thick. Cut in small circles with cookie cutter. Put 1 thin mint wafer between 2 circles of cookie dough. Bake in moderate oven, 350°, for 8 minutes. Makes about 2 dozen.

BEACHIDE LIONS CLUB MEETS
The Beachide Lions Club met Wednesday night, October 19, at 7:00 p.m. at Shore Drive Inn for a dinner meeting. The president, John E. Abelson, Jr., presided.

The speaker for the evening was Capt. Patriotism Chairman, Ronald K. Irving, Capt. USN. He showed the club members slides and gave a talk on the United Nations. He told of the history and organization of the UN. Besides keeping peace in the world today they also help the underprivileged peoples of the world. Not only in the way of food but in industry. They give them technical help and machinery for industry to help them to be self sustaining.

Capt. Irving pointed out that the United States is not self sustaining that we need raw materials that other countries produce such as tin, zinc and oil. While it is true that this country produces oil and we export some oil, we still have to buy oil from other countries.

By importing the raw materials this country in turn exports the manufactured goods. So in order to keep industry rolling and producing it is necessary to keep peace.

Capt. Irving also said that the UN has played a vital part in smoothing out the Suez and Lebanon crisis and in ironing out the difficulties. The UN was also instrumental in quieting things in the Congo and preventing an all out shooting war.

Gordon Hughes reported that all the Halloween Candy has been sold for the club's activities fund. The original idea was to raise $300 in this way. However, the clubs will realize more.

"Hank" Outlander, chairman of the club's Annual Turkey Supper, announced that tickets for the "shoot" would be in the mail to members in the next few days. The shoot is always held the weekend before Thanksgiving.

The next meeting of the club will be "Ladies Night" and it will be held on board one of the Little Creek ferries enroute to Kiptopeke. The date of this meeting is November 2.

The November 1960 meeting of the club will be a joint meeting of the Kempville, Oceana, Aragona, South Norfolk, Virginia Beach and the Beachide Lions Club. It will be held at the Fraternal Order of Police Hall in Greenwich.

Point O' Woods Displaying Famous Name Products Hall.

Did you ever wonder how a central air conditioning system works? Do you specifically know why a 100 amp electrical system is better for a house? What makes a dishwasher wash?

The answer to these—and many other "inside" questions about homes and home construction—are dramatically answered for you through a series of displays in the Hall of Famous Name Products at the $10-million Point O' Woods community at London Bridge, Virginia.

The Hall of Famous Name Products is an unusual "first" for homeowners. The $40,000 ultra-modern structure takes you behind the scenes (and behind the walls) to let you see the hidden qualities. Some sixteen major brand-name firms have displays that show as well as tell you the stories of their products.

Larrymore Builders, sponsors of the historic 600-family community, is also showing four model houses, which have been decorated by Julia Sherman, nationally known interior decorator. These are the first homes in the area to include air conditioning and two-car garages as standard equipment in prices ranging from $14,900.

They are planned by Herman H. York, award winning residential architect, who has provided a variety of ranch, one-and-a-half and two-story designs. All reflect the charm of Early American. They have antique brick, vertical balusters, diamond light windows, cross-panel doors and hand-hewn shingles.

The homes occupy minimum plots of 8,000 sq. ft. As many trees as possible will be retained, all buyers will get free landscape plans, prepared by a professional landscape architect.

IN VIRGINIA YOU PAY $1.10 TAX ON TEN GALLONS OF GASOLINE!*How Do You Vote?

I Believe Gasoline Taxes Are Too High!

☐ YES ☐ NOHOW DID YOU VOTE?

No matter how you voted, these facts on gasoline taxes are important to you:

- Everywhere in Virginia, car owners pay $1.10 tax on every 10 gallons of gasoline they buy!
- Gasoline taxes across the nation amount to a 50% sales tax—and that's five times as high as the tax rate on luxuries like diamonds and mink coats!
- Since World War II, there have been three increases in the Federal gasoline tax alone. This brought the Federal tax to 4 cents a gallon; in addition to the State tax of 7 cents a gallon!
- In the last ten years gasoline taxes have skyrocketed 51%—yet the price of gasoline itself has risen only 5.5% during the same period!
- Each year the average motor vehicle owner in this state pays $96 for gasoline taxes alone. That's actually more than the average week's pay for most people!

HIGHWAYS AND GASOLINE TAXES

Your gasoline retailer, naturally, favors construction of the roads that the motoring public needs. He believes in fair and reasonable taxation for this purpose but feels that taxes on gasoline have now reached unreasonably high levels. He also believes that if special taxes on the motorist should be used only for highway purposes. Yet last year, out of every automobile tax dollar collected by the Federal Government from highway users, more than 40 cents went for non-highway purposes. If these automotive tax revenues were dedicated for highway purposes, there would be no need for the latest increase in the federal gasoline tax.

The Gasoline You Buy Is Taxed Too HIGH!

Presented in public interest by the Gasoline Tax Education Committee, 576 Lexington Avenue, New York 23, N.Y.
